By ARTHUR BRISBANE

WHAT is the news? That depends on what you call news. Voltaire's advice, "Definissons nos termes" ("Let us define our terms"), is sound.

A COMMERCIAL flying machine, British, bound from London to Paris, dove into the English channel, drowning seven.

That news affects 120,000,000 Americans.

THE three plucky Frenchmen plan to fly back to America. William Rogers is severe on their American stowaway. He will apologize if he learns that the stowaway business was planned in advance, with the knowledge of the fliers.

SEVERE earthquake, just below your feet in New Zealand, kills seven. And in Japan the volcano Komagatake, quiet for 10 years, suddenly burst into a rage, filling villages with ashes, driving out the people, burning houses.

IF anybody tells you to stop your automobile, STOP IT. It may be a holdup, and you may be robbed. But that is better than being shot by an earnest prohibitionist.

Grady Phillips, a young Georgian sawmill operator, failed to stop his car, near Tallapoosa. He's dead! No liquor in the car.

THE Rev. Dr. William S. Sunday quits his church in New York to publish a religious magazine to be called "Vision." It won't print advertisements.

Another Rev. William Sunday, known as "Billy," if he started a religious publication, would print all the advertising he could get. Using the best advertisements for texts, and justify it on the ground that the first and biggest colored advertisement ever published was the first rainbow, advertising the fact that the flood wouldn't be repeated.

JOE VACCARO, the last surviving member of Tony Parretti's "murder stable," was shot dead Sunday, as he stood on the sidewalk.

Of fifteen bullets fired, six hit him. When "Big Tim" Sullivan, one of Tammany's bosses, introduced a law forbidding anyone to carry a pistol, the Constitution notwithstanding, he said, "For $150 I can hire a man to kill anybody in the United States."

Tony Parretti could do the work more cheaply. In old days he paid his killers only $15 to $20 a week.

PROF. ROGERS told students that to get on, they must be "snobs." His wife told young ladies that to make their way they should be "high hat"—meaning supercilious, condescending, overbearing.

NOW President McConaughy tells young men to be "aristocrats in training, and conviction."

"Aristocracy" properly understood is admirable. It comes from two Greek words which mean the rule of the best.

But that isn't the American meaning.

Abraham Lincoln would not have called himself aristocrat.

John Wesley would never have called himself an aristocrat.

Wendell Phillips said truly "aristocracy is always cruel."

Why not advise young people to be good Americans, work hard, try to do something worth while and leave the world, or some corner of it, better than they found it?

WISCONSIN voted for beer, sadly suggesting voting for a soda water fountain in the middle of the Sahara.

Now, J. G. Hardgrove, once president of the Milwaukee Bar association, says each state can manufacture alcoholic liquors and distribute them to its citizens, if it chooses. He expects that Wisconsin will lead the way.

According to this noted lawyer, the constitution forbids individuals to manufacture or deal in intoxicating liquors, but does not forbid states to do so.

GEN. DAWES in Britain will discuss cutting down the navy.

Ramsay MacDonald, Labor prime minister, knows that corpses on land and sea, in war, are nine times out of ten corpses of laboring men. He really means to stop war.

Others are not so earnest about it.

HOOVER DEPLORES DRY KILLINGS

MRS. SNOOK QUIZZED IN KILLING

Ex-Suitor of Slain Co-Ed Grilled in Morgue Beside Mutilated Body of Girl

By ALBERT GOUGH.
Staff Correspondent.

COLUMBUS, O., June 18.—Mrs. James H. Snook, wife of one of the two Ohio State University professors held in connection with the brutal slaying of Theora K. Hix, 25-year-old co-ed, was being detained at the city jail today for further questioning along with her husband.

No charges have been made against either husband and wife or Marion T. Meyers, the other member of the Ohio State faculty, who with Dr. Snook has been held without bail since Saturday.

Rumors that narcotic trafficking formed the background of the Hix murder, one of the most brutal and sensational in the annals of the state, were discredited this morning by City Detective Chief Shellenbarger. One of the stories current the past few days was that Miss Hix was the tool of a narcotic ring at the university, which might implicate both Dr. Snook and Meyers.

U. S. TAKES UP PROBE

Assistant U. S. District Attorney William B. Bartels said his office would immediately institute an investigation of any and all rumors that might indicate narcotics formed a background for the slaying. It will not be a probe of the university, he said.

Questioning of Dr. Snook, Mrs. Snook, C. F. Long, chemist, retained by police to examine what appeared to be blood stains on Dr. Snook's automobile and several articles of clothing, and others who may shed some light on the mysterious past of Miss Hix, went forward behind closed doors today.

BRAME SEEKING SIXTH STRAIGHT

CINCINNATI, June 18.—His victory string still intact, Ervin Brame, tall Kentuckian, will face the fire of the Cincinnati attack this afternoon when the Pirates and Reds face off in the fourth game of the series. Red Lucas is slated to harass the Pirates from the mound.

Brame worked a part of the long scrap at Forbes Field last Saturday. He was behind when he left the fracas, but was not charged with the defeat, inasmuch as the Pirates tied up the game in the ninth. Ervin still owns five successes without a setback.

The Pirates yesterday defeated the Reds, 2 to 1, in a pitching duel featuring Remy Kremer and Jakie May. The big Frenchman of the Pittsburgh staff gave his finest display of the season as he held the Rhinelanders to six hits.

Only 276 Movers Seek Metro Vote

Only 276 of the thousands of Pittsburgh voters who moved this year availed themselves of the opportunity to change their registration to vote at the Metropolitan Charter election next Tuesday, the registration commissioners announced today. All those who had moved April 25 or before were permitted to make the necessary change at the Courthouse before last Saturday.

Meyers, Ohio State University research worker held with another member of the faculty in the slaying of Theora K. Hix, 25, second-year medical school co-ed, as with detectives he left the Franklin County Jail, Columbus, to go to the prosecutor's office for questioning. HELEN'S TENNIS DRAWINGS $60

LONDON, June 18.—(AP.)—Helen Wills, the artist, eclipsed Helen Wills, the tennis champion, today when an exposition of her tennis sketches was opened to public view in a Bond street gallery.

Helen even gave up her regular afternoon practice at Wimbledon to watch, with a happy grin, as spectators and art critics filed past her 31 water colors.

Portly matrons, straining their eyes through diamond-studded lorgnettes, and earnest young artists, did not notice the quiet girl in a corner until a tennis fan burst out: "Hello, Miss Wills."

"Yes, I am proud, because I am really terribly interested in art and I am curious to see how London likes these," she said.

She smiled with some embarrassment at two large placards which announced "the price of the sketches is 12 guineas each" (about $60). All the sketches were of tennis stars in action, including four of herself and six of Suzanne Lenglen.

COUNTY NOT TO PAY BELL BILL

The county is not obligated to pay the room and board bill of John A. Bell, convicted banker and coal operator in the Alegheny General Hospital, County Solicitor W. Heber Dithrich informed the County Commissioners today.

A resolution was unanimously adopted to notify Dr. G. Walter Zulauf, superintendent of the hospital, that the county will not pay the two-year bill, totaling $2,193, recently submitted by Zulauf for caring for the invalid former millionaire.

"The act makes no provision for payment of hospital services when a prisoner is transferred from the jail to a hospital," ruled the solicitor.

H. L. Mason, Jr., chairman of the executive committee of the hospital, said he could see no reason why the county should not pay inasmuch as Bell was sent to the institution on court order.

"Even though the county does not pay we will not turn the old man out," said Mr. Mason. "He is in very feeble health—not able to feed himself. I believe that it is only the good care given Mr. Bell in the hospital that has kept him alive. He probably would have died a year ago if he had been kept in jail."

RIIS REFUSES GOLF OPENING PLEDGE

Director Blames Weather For Delay—'Can't Control Seasons,' He Declares

Paul B. Riis, director of the county parks, today refused to promise that the golf links in North and South parks would be ready before 1932.

At the County Commissioners' meeting today Commissioner C. C. McGovern, irked at the delay in building the courses, asked Riis:

"When will the courses be opened? Will they be done in 1932?"

CAN'T PROMISE

"I can't promise," Riis said. "The weather has been bad. I can't control the seasons. During April and May we had only six days on which we could work on the courses."

Commissioner E. V. Babcock rose in Riis' defense and explained that satisfactory progress was being made, that a Chamber of Commerce committee had commended the county on that progress.

Babcock then tried to obtain from Riis assurance that the courses would be ready for next season, but Riis refused to agree on the date.

The golfers of the county had expected the new courses to be ready for this season. In fact, there had been reports from Riis' department that at least one of the courses would be playable.

ACQUIRE MORE LAND

Over the protests of Commissioner McGovern, the commissioners voted to acquire 72 more acres for South Park, 27 to be used for an athletic field.

"When are you going to slow up on the acquisition of property?" demanded McGovern of Paul Riis, on whose recommendation the majority commissioners, Joseph G. Armstrong and Babcock acted.

Riis made no reply.

The solicitor was authorized to begin condemnation to obtain the 27-acre tract. He also was directed to enter into negotiations for taking over Sully's Grove, embracing 45 acres, at a price said to be $27,500.

GOLDEN PARDON BEFORE BOARD

HARRISBURG, June 18.—Argument for a pardon for Charles Francis Golden, a former Pittsburgh fire captain, was made today before the pardon board. Golden in February, 1928, was sentenced to a year in the county jail for election frauds growing out of the May, 1926, primary.

The purpose of the application is to restore Golden's citizenship and eligibility for re-appointment to the fire department. About due to retire, he then would be eligible for pension. His case was presented by Charles B. Prichard, former director of public safety.

Golden was paroled after serving seven months in jail.

Divorced

HENRIETTA L. MacARTHUR

Mrs. MacArthur, daughter of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, Philadelphia social leader, granted a divorce in Reno courts from Maj.-Gen. Douglas MacArthur, now in the Philippines. She charged "failure to provide," later charging "incompatibility."

U. S. TRIP SURE —MACDONALD

LONDON, June 18.—(INS.)—For the first time, Ramsay MacDonald, Laborite premier of Great Britain, today confirmed personally that he is anxious to visit the United States for a conference with President Hoover on international affairs.

"I believe that such a visit would do a tremendous amount of good," MacDonald is quoted as saying today in an Exchange telegraph message from Lossiemouth, Scotland, his home.

"But the question is," he continued, "when that visit can be made. That will be subject to an exchange of opinions."

DAWES TO SPEAK

LONDON, June 18.—In two widely separated sections of Britain tonight America's new ambassador, Charles G. Dawes, and the new British prime minister, Ramsay MacDonald, will make speeches which are expected to have far-reaching consequences, both in

First Heat Victim Parnassus Man, 61, Dies

The first heat victim of the summer was entered upon the coroner's records today.

He was Samuel Miles Lewis, 61, of 473 Rainbow drive, Parnassus. Lewis collapsed yesterday while helping to hang a gate at the Parnassus athletic field. He died in the Citizens' General Hospital, New Kensington.

ASKS CITIZENS TO HELP STAMP OUT RUM WAR ON CANADIAN BORDER

President Hoover deplores "the killing of any person," said effort was being made to end "misuse of firearms," called on border communities to fight international criminals there, "the root of all our difficulties."

The prohibition department announced rum runners were massing along the Canadian border.

Secretary Lowman, in charge of enforcement, announced an order against use of rifles and shotguns by enforcement officers would be enforced.

"Too much beer" in Northern New York district, the administrator was called to Washington.

Boaters protest to Canada against firing on them by a vessel said to be of U. S. Coast Guard.

Further protests by citizens were being made to the capital against killings by draw officers as inquiries into the latest killings went forward.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP.)—President Hoover today called upon the communities along the Canadian border to help the Treasury to prevent the systematic war being waged by international criminals against the laws of this country.

The President said that he deeply deplored the killing of any person, but that the Treasury was making a constant effort to prevent misuse of firearms.

Hoover expressed the opinion that all the trouble encountered in the enforcement of the law along the border was due to mechanism of criminals who were trying to violate the law.

The President's statement was in answer to questions submitted by press correspondents about the killing of three persons by customs border patrols.

The official stenographic transcript of Hoover's reply to the prohibition questions as follows:

"I have some questions as to the incidents of the border. I deeply deplore the killing of any person. The treasury department is making every effort to prevent the misuse of arms. Any case of misuse will be determined by the orderly proceedings of the department and the courts. I hope that the communities along the border will do their best to help the treasury end the systematic war that is being carried on by international criminals against the laws of the United States. It is these activities that are at the root of all of our difficulties."

LOWMAN LIMITS ARMS

Meanwhile, Assistant Secretary Lowman, of the Treasury, in charge of prohibition enforcement activities, has announced the issuance of

'Peaches' Misses 'Daddy's' Auction

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP.)—At an auction in Madison Square Garden 15 parcels of Edward W. Browning's realty brought $2,515,000. The proceds, he announces, are to be used for purchase of toys for children and other philanthropies.

Among those absent from the auction was Mrs. Browning (Peaches).

NEW THEATER PLANNED HERE

A new theater is contemplated for downtown Pittsburgh. George Sharp, whose company is in its third successful season in the Pitt, is projecting the enterprise, which he plans to operate as the Pittsburgh Civic Repertoire Theater, somewhat on the lines of the "little theater," as the community dramatic enterprises throughout the country are known.

It is planned to present new plays here as "try-outs," preliminary to New York engagements. Relative to this feature of the plans Mr. Sharp has recently held a number of conferences with playwrights and producers in New York.

The proposed theater will be of the "intimate" type, seating about 1,300, and performances will be given on the Theater Guild subscription idea. A site has been considered but decision is pending on the disposition of litigation affecting the property. Mr. Sharp expects to make definite decision early in the fall.

It is learned that the Pitt will not be available to Mr. Sharp and his company next summer, its owners having decided upon other uses for the house, which likely will be put into effect during the coming theatrical season.

Florida-Venezuela Air Mail Hops Off

MIAMI, Fla., June 18.—(AP.)—A giant amphibian cabin plane took off here today for Venezuela via Cristobal, Canal Zone, inaugurating the longest air mail route in the world. The plane, owned by Pan-American Airways, Inc., carried 47 pounds of mail, the pilot, radio operator and three passengers, all officials of the company.

Pa. 'Antis' Organized To Fight Blue Laws

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—(INS.)—Another attempt is to be made to repeal the so-called "blue laws" passed by the Legislature in 1794, it was revealed today following a meeting of the Anti-Blue Law Association of Pennsylvania here. Headquarters will be established in Harrisburg, Erie and Scranton.

Held Up and Robbed At 4th Ave. Station

Joseph Yunkus, Crucible, Pa., reported to police early today that he was accosted by four men on the steps of the Fourth Avenue Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad and robbed of $35 and a watch. Two of the men held him while the others went through his pockets, he said.

Gehrig Slugs 18th Homer, Keeps Lead

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP.)—Lou Gehrig hit his eighteenth home run in the first inning of the first Yankee-Red Sox game at the stadium this afternoon, retaining the major league lead. Ed Morris was in the box and Earl Combs on base.

Stowaway's Own Story of Flight Over Sea

By ARTHUR SCHREIBER,

Twenty-two-year-old Portland, Me., Youth, First Trans-Atlantic Airplane Stowaway, Who Flew from Old Orchard Beach, Me., to Comillas, Spain, and Thence to Paris with Jean Assolant, Rene Lefevre and Armeno Lotti, Jr., in the Monoplane Yellow Bird.

(Copyright, 1929, by the New York American and Universal Service, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part prohibited.)

PARIS, June 17.—This is my first story about my trans-Atlantic trip. Any other newspaper stories said to be interviews with me, quoting me, are absolutely unauthentic and false.

Prior to the take off, sentiment was so much with the French fliers that I decided to place my confidence in their plane. Everybody in America wanted the French fliers to get over; naturally I felt the same way.

"COURAGEOUS FLIERS"

In addition to their marvelous ability in aviation, I admired all three as being the most courageous men I had ever met in my life. Not one moment throughout the entire trip did they show any emotion whatsoever, and were it not for that fact, perhaps I wouldn't have had the courage that I did have.

On the evening prior to the flight, I had made preparations to go across if it were humanly possible to get into one of the planes at Old Orchard.

HIDES IN PLANE'S TAIL

I watched all night on the beach for an opportunity to get into one, but due to the fact they were working on them all night refueling, I did not have the chance I was waiting for at that time.

Up to the time they were preparing for the take-off, I had confidence I could get into one of the planes. I never gave up hope, and as the planes were towed along the beach, I opened the door of the Yellow Bird and made my entrance.

I immediately searched for a place where I wouldn't be discovered, and the most advantageous spot seemed to be in the tail of the plane.

It was rather difficult for me to manage in there, because the control wires ran through that part of the plane. But I placed my body in such a position that no part of me touched the wires.

ARTHUR SCHREIBER

The biggest thrill of my life came when I heard the powerful motor roar, because this was my first flight in any sort of airship.

I didn't know exactly when we left land. I felt no sensation of any kind. After I knew the take-off was successful, one hour later, I made my presence known.

LOTTI AMAZED

Lotti was the first to see me, and the astonishment he showed I have never seen on any man's face before.

Lotti then attracted the attention of Lefevre and Assolant to me. They had a brief conference, and I, not understanding French very well, couldn't get the entire drift of what they were saying.

But I did understand enough to know they decided that so long as I was an American citizen, and America had been so wonderful to them, they would give an American an opportunity of sharing in the glory of the advenature.

In fact, Lotti has since said to me several times:

"Everyone in America was so nice to us, so hospitable, that we feel we can show in only the smallest way our extreme appreciation."

As soon as they decided to let me remain, I made myself as useful as possible for me to be, being a total stranger in an airplane.

I have been told since my arrival in Paris that my friend Morris Cox and I flipped a coin to decide who would stow away on the Green Flash and who in the Yellow Bird. Cox had no intention of hiding away in a plane at any time. That story is entirely fiction.

DIDN'T REALIZE RISK

I did, however, leave a letter with Cox for my mother, and told him to deliver it to her three hours after the take off of the planes, unless he heard from me before then.

When I entered the plane, I didn't realize I was not only gambling my life, but was endangering the lives of the others. When Lotti informed

BORDER RUM SHOOTINGS CONTINUE

International News Service.

DETROIT, June 18.—The wave of criticism against the alleged "shoot to kill" policy of dry forces in the liquor war here spread to Canada today with the filing of a protest to the Dominion government at Ottawa against the gunfire attack of United States coast guard boat 236 on two men and a woman in a speed boat.

The woman was said to be a "Mrs. Johnson, of Sandwitch." The men were Carl Raymond, of Monroe, Mich., and J. O'Connor, of Newport, Mich.

NO WARNING TO HALT

The three, who reported the alleged incident to Sandwich police headquarters, claimed they had received no command to halt and that their first intimation of the nearness of the patrol boat was when the windshield of their craft was shattered by bullets.

They stopped immediately, they said, and the patrol boat drew alongside. The boat and its occupants were searched for liquor and weapons, the Canadian authorities were told. When none was found they were allowed to proceed.

In his protest to the Dominion government, Chief of Police James Proctor, of Sandwich, said, "I feel that a matter of this kind should be brought to your attention before more serious trouble ensues."

YOUTH SLAIN IN AUTO

BUCHANAN, Ga., June 18.—(AP.)—Constable Luke Belling was held here without bond today pending preliminary hearing Thursday on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of Grady Phillips, youthful sawmill hand.

Phillips was shot Saturday night after he and three companions riding in an automobile failed to heed Bellinger's order to halt, according to the officer's version. The constable was attempting to arrest them on a complaint that they were disturbing the peace.

AWAIT HOOVER ANSWER

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn., June 18.—(INS.)—Dismissal of Henr J. Sullivan, inspector of immigration service here, was demanded today in a resolution signed by members of the International Falls town council as a result of Sullivan's alleged misconduct in connection with the investigation of the killing of Henry Virkula, Big Falls confectioner, by Federal Border Patrolman Emmett J. White.

"Sullivan has brought shame on our community," said the council's resolution. "He maliciously insulted H. G. Roysland, our chief of police, by causing to be broadcast by means of a statement he gave to the press false charges that our police chief was intoxicated and challenged him to fight in public.

"Sullivan has proved himself obnoxious and officious beyond the degree to which his office entitles him."

PROTEST TO TREASURY

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., June 18.—(AP.)—With feeling against border shootings mounting here today, District Attorney B. Loyal O'Connell's investigation into the fatal wounding of Arthur Gordon, 22, of Plattsburg, has revealed contradictory reports on just how the shooting occurred. Gordon was reported to have been running liquor across the Canadian border.

Nine witnesses already have testified. According to Clinton County authorities, they sharply dispute the claim of John C. Tulloch, collector of the Port of Ogdensburg, that the killing by two customs patrolmen was an accident.

8 RUNNERS CAPTURED

WINDSOR, Ont., June 18.—(AP.)—Eight rum runners were captured yesterday as they attempted to run the United States Coast Guard blockade in Lake and River St. Clair. Seven rum craft were towed into Marine City, Mich., by American customs border patrol and other of the American prohibition enforcement services.

Pair Tied, Gasoline Station Is Robbed

Two men armed with revolvers early today entered the gasoline service station of the Atlantic Refining Company at South Braddock avenue and Finance street, Homewood, bound two attendants in the cellar, and escaped after rifling the cash register of $65.

Joseph Shapira and Michael Harkins, the attendants, told police how one bandit tied them while the other stood guard, then rifled the cash drawer.

Section Asks Change To Industrial Class

Council has received an ordinance changing from an "A" residence to a light industrial district all property bounded by Minerva street, a line dividing lots Nos. 77 and 78 in Mrs. Eliza Woolslayer's plan, Lorigan street and the present light industrial district.

Millworker Killed By Piece of Steel

Andrew Gross, 53, a millworker of 1315 Brinton avenue, North Braddock, died in Braddock General Hospital from injuries suffered yesterday when a piece of steel fell on his head while he was working in the East Pittsburgh plant of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

WED, JURORS TOGETHER

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE CATON

Mr. Caton and his wife, Ella, 5928 Elwood street, who in Criminal Court sat side by side as jurors, the first time in Allegheny County for such a situation, as rare, court attaches point out, as a perfect hand in bridge!

MAN AND WIFE ON SAME JURY

A husband and wife sat side by side on a jury in Criminal Court, the first occurrence of its sort here since women were admitted to jury service. The couple had no opportunity to agree—or disagree—upon the case, because the defendant halted the trial midway by pleading guilty.

The jurors were George Caton, a draughtsman, of 5928 Elwood street, East End, and Mrs. Ella Caton. The chance that brought them together as jurors was so long that courthouse attaches were bewildered in an attempt to express it in figures.

The Catons listened to Amon Malfi, 21, a Negro, of 230 Locust street, McKees Rocks, admit that his motorcycle had struck Mrs. Rose Grunski, of 310 Locust street, McKees Rocks, May 22. Malfi was charged with aggravated assault and battery. Sentence was suspended when Malfi promised to pay Mrs. Grunski's medical expenses.

NEVIN BUS LINE MUST STOP

HARRISBURG, June 18.—Operation of the Nevin Bus Lines, Inc., between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh for the transportation of passengers, was ordered stopped today by the Public Service Commission. The order sustains a complaint filed by the Pennsylvania Railroad against the bus line.

Since June 1, 1928, the Nevin Bus Lines, Inc., has been operating between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, with mileage in Maryland less than 10 miles.

The commission found that the primary purpose of the line was the transportation of passengers for intrastate business.

No order for discontinuance of the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh bus service has been received here, it was learned at the local offices of the Nevin Bus Lines, Inc. The manager said that, as far as he knew, there would be no interruption of service, and that all buses would run on schedule time. He said action would have to come from their New York offices.

Citizens' Aid to Help Halt Rum War Asked

a new order designed to reduce the likelihood of unnecessary shooting, limiting the arms of customs patrolmen along the border to service pistols. Heretofore some of the patrolmen have carried rifles or shotguns.

Lowman also announced today that confidential reports from treasury agents indicate an unprecedented gathering of bootleggers and smugglers along the Canadian border from Vancouver to the Atlantic seaboard to smuggle liquor into the United States.

SEMI-MARTIAL LAW LIKELY

That order is ascribed by the Washington Post today to President Hoover, who, the newspaper says, "hemmed in on all sides by prohibition protests and pressures, for a time will direct prohibition enforcement himself under a semi-martial law agreement." Citing visits at the White House yesterday by Senator Wesley Jones, of Washington, author of the Jones law, and Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, it also says "Mr. Hoover has asked for reports on recent killings," and "has conferred with Treasury and Justice Department officials."

Lowman also said President Hoover had not asked him for any report concerning the smuggling or prohibition enforcement situation and that he had not conferred with or made any report to the executive.

GUNS BANNED

Sawed-off shotguns, machine guns and 30-30 rifles, were taboo today as weapons of prohibition enforcement along the bloody Canadian border.

The wave of protest against recent enforcement killings by federal agents armed with gangland's weapons, forced this concession from the Treasury, and it was hinted today that new and stringent regulations may soon be forthcoming which will still further restrict gun-play.

Under existing Treasury regulations, prohibition enforcement agents are permitted to use firearms "in self-defense and to prevent the commission of a felony." Literally interpreted, this means that any prohibition agent may use his gun on a person having a bottle of liquor on his hip, for the Jones law made illegal possession a felony.

CAN KILL PINT CARRIER

Theoretically, under existing regulations, a dry agent might kill anyone for carrying a bottle of liquor and be technically within the regulations.

The new treasury order abolishing sawed-off shotguns and restricting the armament of agents to their service pistols was hailed as a victory today by those who have been protesting against the recent wave of killings. They are determined to press on for still further amendments of the regulations.

"It is a step in the right direction," said Representative Pittinger (Rep.), of Minnesota, in whose district Henry Virkula was killed by a customs officer. "The people along the border will feel a little more security, at any rate, as a result of the new order."

"If Secretary Lowman will only follow up this admission of murderous use of guns by dry agents and insist upon some of the dry agents who have murdered innocent people being tried for murder, maybe the agents will come to believe that his anti-shooting order is worth the paper it is written on," said Representative Schafer (Rep.), of Wisconsin.

KILLINGS STIR CONGRESS

Two more killings yesterday kept the prohibition question dangling before Congress, with indications that it will be a burning question for some time to come.

Representative Clancy's charge that the Washington regime has frightened prohibition agents in the Detroit sector into shooting by threatening to "cut their heads off" if they don't stop the flow of liquor from Canada created considerable comment.

Louis J. Jacques, former dry agent in Detroit, who has resigned and is protesting against the quickness of dry agents on the trigger, was expected to call upon Assistant Secretary Lowman to give a first-hand account of conditions.

The situation with regard to use of firearms is somewhat complicated, due to the different agencies involved in enforcement. The prohibition bureau operatives had their shotguns and rifles taken away by Lowman's order, but no new orders have been issued to the coast guardsmen, who are cooperating with the other services in the Great Lakes region.

Meanwhile, the latest prohibition casualty, involving the death of Arthur Gordan, of Plattsburg, N. Y., by a shot in the back, was written off by the treasury today as "an accident."

CHANNEL PLANE CRASH BODIES SOUGHT

FOLKESTONE, England, June 18.—(AP.)—Boats and tugs searched the English Channel today for bodies of three women still missing in the crash of the giant air liner City of Ottawa off Dungeness yesterday with the loss of seven lives, including at least one American.

Adolph E. Meister, 73, vice-president of the Garfield Manufacturing Company, of New Jersey, was the known American victim, while a "Miss Roberts, of London," whose still is missing was believed to be of American parents.

AMERICAN HIDES IDENTY.

Of the six persons rescued, including two women, H. W. Tatham, an American, rested well during the night.

Tatham has refused to give his American address, fearing to alarm his relatives, but it is believed that he was formerly a resident of Minneapolis and that his parents now reside in Sacramento, Cal.

THREE WOMEN MISSING

The bodies recovered are those of Mr. Meister, Leon T. Malcolm, vice president of the Malcolm and Southern Furniture Company, of Hamilton, Ont.; Alfred Smith, of Melbourne, Australia, and a Mrs. Ickerson, whose address has not been determined.

Those still missing were a Mme. Bosiger of London; Miss Roberts, of London, and Mrs. Koracki, believed to be the stage name of a Mrs. Gerzon, of Amsterdam.

PREMIER WANTS TO SEE HOOVER

Anglo-American relations and in the history of the world.

Ambassador Dawes' speech is to be before the Pilgrim's Club at London. That of the prime minister, Mr. MacDonald, will be before the Town Council of the village of Lossiemouth, Scotland, which has watched his rise from birth in poverty to head of the great British nation.

MOVE ANNOUNCED

Since the simple announcement that the two speeches will be made and will provide the beginnings of negotiations for a disarmament program, in which other governments would be invited to participate, neither Ambassador Dawes nor Premier MacDonald would say much.

Drowned Tarentum Boy's Body Found

The body of Harry Stewart, 13, was recovered today from the Allegheny River, near the foot of Ross street, Tarentum, where he was drowned yesterday when he waded out beyond his depth. Tarentum police said the boy probably had stepped into a hole left by a sand dredge.

Missing Girl Eloped, Her Parents Believe

Joseph and Mary Small, 28 Melrose avenue, told the Missing Persons Bureau today they believed their daughter, Marion, 15, whom they had previously reported as missing, had eloped. She disappeared June 8. They had reason to believe, the parents said, she ran away with a man whose name they furnished and got married.

NOTE ON "TAG" LEFT AT DEATH SCENE

"June 16-29
"Don't worry over us we will be all right Eddie Jean
"We want to be together for always"

This note, scribbled on a traffic tag, was found near the bodies of Patrolman Eddie Stemmler, Jr., and his bride, Jean, slain, police say, by her suicide husband.

SLAYER OF WIFE, SELF JEALOUS

In the coroner's files today is a letter addressed to the mother of Jean Marks Stemmler, in Huntington W. Va., asking that she visit her daughter and son-in-law, Policeman Edward Stemmler, Jr., of the Sewickley force. The letter was found in the Stemmler home, ready for posting.

On the wires last night was a message directed to the same mother telling her briefly how the young patrolman, taking his wife of 10 months to Onstott's Woods, near Carnot, Moon Township, turned the revolver on her and then shot himself early yesterday.

SEPARATED IN DEATH

Today the bodies are in an undertaking establishment in Sewickley. One will go to Haysville, near Sewickley, to the home of Stemmler's parents. The other in all likelihood, will be taken to West Virginia.

County detectives today continued their investigation into the tragedy. From their inquiry yesterday, Detective W. O. Alexander and Michael Ford believe the shooting was the result of jealousy on the part of Stemmler, who, they learned, had found his wife in the company of a group of taxicab drivers in McKees Rocks.

LEAVES NOTE

A note left by Stemmler on the back of a police tag read:

"We want to be together always. Don't worry over us, we will be all right. Eddie and Jean."

The bodies were found yesterday noon lying beside Stemmler's car in the woods.

Mrs. Stemmler, mother of the dead policeman, said the couple had married in Charleston, W. Va., last September, and had lived with her until last month, when they secured a place of their own in Nevin street, Sewickley.

Stemmler was the motorcycle patrolman for Sewickley and had served on the force for three years. He was 23 and his wife 24.

LIVED IN HUNTINGTON

Mrs. Stemmler, who was 24, apparently had taken the name of "Jean" since leaving Huntington as her given name was "Belva."

PATROLMAN AND MRS. EDWARD STEMMLER, JR.

The Stemmlers—he 23 and she 24—found together dead in Carnot Woods. They had been married 10 months and the police theory, strengthened by a note, was that Stemmler shot Jean twice, and then shot himself with his service pistol.

LUTHERANS BAR POLITICS

RIVER FOREST, Ill., June 18.—(AP.)—Strongly opposed to the intrusion of the church into politics, officers of the Missouri synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church have announced there would be no resolutions "urging the United States to join the League of Nations or get out of Nicaragua" passed at the 10-day biennial church conference opening here tomorrow.

"The platform of the Missouri synod," the church officers announced, "conceives its only purpose to be the preaching of the Gospel. It maintains no lobby in Washington. It advocates neither prohibition nor saloons.

"Individual members may feel very strongly on some of these points. They will not make their church a vehicle for driving these convictions somewhere."

PARIS APPROVES REPARATIONS

PARIS, June 18.—(AP.)—The cabinet at a meeting today unanimously approved the Young reparations plan, evolved at the recent conference of experts here. It was decided to take steps for ratification in conjunction with other interested governments.

The government also outlined a declaration that will be made before the various commissions of the chamber of deputies regarding both debts and reparations as a preliminary to the debate on these two questions next Tuesday provoked by interpellation.

Nearly the entire session of the cabinet today was devoted to this subject, as Foreign Minister Briand's report on the meeting of the council of the League of Nations at Madrid also bore necessarily on preliminaries to an eventual conference on evacuation of the Rhineland.

Mother Held in Poisoning Of Boy, Boarder Sought

BELAIR, Md., June 18.—(AP.)—Police of Hartford County and the Pennsylvania Railroad last night started a search for James Aberts, a former boarder at the home of Mrs. Hattie Stone, who is charged with the murder of her 15-year-old son, George, following testimony yesterday at a hearing on a plea for a writ of habeas corpus, that Mrs. Stone poisoned her son to get money so that she and her boarder could "leave the state."

The testimony was given by Mrs. May Baker, Mrs. Stone's sister-in-law, who said that Mrs. Stone had admitted the poisoning to her, to gain the $1,200 left to her son by his father, and $645 on an insurance policy on the youth's life. Mrs. Stone had previously denied having the insurance policy, although H. A. Patterson, an insurance agent, testified that it was in force and that application for payment had been made by Mrs. Stone two days after the death of her son.

The writ was denied by Judge Walter W. Preston, presiding in Harford County Circuit Court. Mrs. Stone was arrested June 12, after chemists had found poison in the body of George, who died on June 4. A coroner's jury held her for the action of the September grand jury.

State's Attorney Worthington Hopkins announced that the bodies of Edward Stone, George's father, and Mrs. Mary Emma Stone, his grandmother, would be exhumed, following testimony of Mrs. Lola Gibson, who was present at their deaths, that symptoms were similar to those accompanying George's death.

Harford County authorities started the search for Aberts, who is employed as a brakeman on the Pennsylvania Railroad, when he could not be located for questioning. He previously had been interrogated by Coroner Martin J. Foley, who was investigating the death of the youth.

YOUTH SLAIN, MOB PERILS DEPUTY

Killer of Prisoner Accused Of Drinking Moved to Pen as Crowd Threatens

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 18.—(AP.)—Deputy Sheriff George Johnson, charged with murder in the slaying of Glenn Quay, 22, at Newport, Ark., was held today in the State penitentiary here after his removal from two jails yesterday in fear of mob violence.

Quay was shot through the back by Johnson as he broke away from the officer after being arrested on a charge of intoxication. The youth's dash for liberty was made near the police station door and the fatal shot was fired as he darted into an alley.

Johnson first was removed to the county jail at Batesville after a crowd of men, incensed at what they described as unwarranted use of a pistol by an officer, gathered about the local jail. Later Sheriff D. L. Nance said he had heard reports that the Batesville jail was about to be stormed and advised that the prisoner be removed to the penitentiary.

The deputy sheriff refused to make a statement on his arrival here in custody of chief of Police Martin, of Newport, and several other officers.

Quay was shot Sunday night and the officer arrested and charged with murder yesterday. Johnson will be held here until his preliminary hearing is arranged.

SNOOK'S WIFE QUESTIONED

professor at Ohio State University, but college authorities announced he had been summarily dismissed in view of his admission of his moral delinquencies which have had sufficient verification.

Both Meyers, a research worker in the horticulture department of Ohio State University, and Snook, until yesterday a professor in the university school of veterinary, have been held since a few hours after the girl's body was found on a rifle range, Friday. She had been beaten and cut to death Thursday night and thrown from an automobile. Snook has admitted posing as her husband and maintaining a room for their meeting place, but denies knowledge of the slaying.

TAKEN TO MORGUE

County Prosecutor John J. Chester, Jr., yesterday afternoon subjected Meyers to protracted questioning and then permitted him to rest. At midnight Meyers was aroused and taken to the morgue. A psychiatrist and two detectives accompanied them.

After they entered the room the covering was removed from the girl's battered head.

SUSPECT SHUDDERS

Meyers was commanded to touch her body. Shuddering he extended his hand, and then the questioning began. Chester said his answers were short, but went to his home afterward announcing that "sensational developments" were expected as a result of today's inquiry. He refused to amplify the remark.

Mrs. Snook was summoned for questioning today in the hope that she may furnish information on the life of Dr. Snook which authorities consider of value. As evidence in the investigation, they already have stains on Snook's automobile and a suit of clothes which are being analyzed for blood, a statment that his car was washed a few hours after the slaying, and bits of a woman's attire, found in the ashes of the Snook furnace after a fire had been built there last Friday, a hot day.

Dr. Snook has remained undisturbed while a long file of witnesses proceeded through the prosecutor's office. He was made but one statement since his arrest, the admission of his relations with the girl and his plea of an alibi. Meyers, who shared the girl's affections with Snook, likewise advances an alibi.

Equipment Concerns Form Trade Group

Representatives of 16 equipment companies interested in decorating and furnishing of stores, restaurants, theaters, hotels and other establishments will hold their first regular trade group meeting next Monday to elect officers and name committees.

A preliminary meeting held in the Fort Pitt Hotel was featured by an address by L. I. MacQueen, executive manager of the Credit Association of Western Pennsylvania. He explained the purpose of the organization and said that like bodies were being formed in many other cities of the country.

Alan Hoover Gets Degree at Stanford

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. June 18.—(AP.)—Alan Hoover, son of President and Mrs. Herbert Hoover, was among 1,071 students who received their degrees at Stanford University today. Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of the school, and secretary of the interior, addressed the young graduates. Young Hoover was one of 200 students receiving a degree in economics. He was inconspicuous among his classmates.

HOUSE TARIFF BILL SAVED IN SENATE BY SINGLE VOTE

BATTLE SURE FOLLOWING VACATION

Farm Aid Coalition Intact, May Rewrite Measure; Recess Starts Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP.)—The possibility was held out to Congress today that the tariff measure may be rewritten in the Senate by the Democratic-Republican independent group which twice overrode President Hoover in the farm relief contest, and that it may be rewritten with a view to confining revsion principally to agricultural products.

The group has shown its strength anew in its support of the resolution of Senator Borah, of Idaho, which proposed to instruct the finance committee to discard the House tariff bill and limit revision to agricultural and related products and was defeated by a margin of only one vote—39 to 38. That vote left the Republican majority of the finance committee free today to proceed with its rewriting of the House bill as it sees fit for the next two months, but it made clear that the whole task will be gone over again after the measure is taken up in the Senate.

RECESS BEGINS TOMORROW

With all of its work for the extra session completed except the impending tariff bill, the Senate meanwhile has voted to take a recess beginning tomorrow and carrying through to August 19. The House, having passed the tariff bill, was thus left with nothing to do while awaiting the Senate's action, so its leaders were ready to agree to the recess and extend their own until the middle of September.

The recess was proposed by Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader, at the end of one of the hottest days of the summer, and the first overwhelming vote in the Senate at this session was forthcoming. Only 12 Republicans and 11 Democrats voted against it.

The quick work of both the House and Senate in enacting the appropriation of $151,000,000 asked by Mr. Hoover to carry out the new farm relief act assured the recess. Within a few hours after the President has submitted the estimate for the appropriation yesterday, the amount was available—one of the speediest legislative transactions involving such a sum in many a day.

The recess is just long enough to cover the time the finance committee is estimated to need for its work on the tariff bill. Determined to get the tariff bill through the Senate and out of conference with the House before the regular sessions opens in December, administration leaders insisted that no longer than two months be given over to the recess.

VOTE INDICATES FIGHT

The Borah vote shows what a contest is in prospect when the tariff bill does get before the Senate. Only seven Democrats voted against the Idahoan while 13 Republicans joined the Democrats in support of his resolution.

The vote brought almost the same lineup which combined for a majority in the two ballots favorable to the export debenture farm relief plan to which Mr. Hoover was so opposed. It was not disclosed to what extent Mr. Hoover's views on the attempt to limit the tariff revision were known, but when Senator Jones (Rep.), of Washington, proposed the very language used by the President in his message to the extra session as an amendment broadening the scope of the Borah resolution, it was rejected, 39 to 38.

Senator Johnson (Rep.), of California, voted against the Jones amendment and then he voted also against the Borah resolution. He explained that he did not want to kill the Borah resolution "by indirection."

FLORIDA HOUSE PROTESTS TEA TO NEGRO

Knights of Protestantism, Alabama Women Condemn Action of Mrs. Hoover

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., June 18.—(AP.)—By a vote of 71 to 14, the Florida House of Representatives yesterday adopted a resolution protesting "certain social policies of the administration in entertaining Negroes in the White House on a parity with white ladies."

As originally introduced, the resolution by Representative Getzen, speaker of the House, and Representative Way, was worded to direct the protest at "the act of Mrs. Herbert Hoover in entertaining the wife of Oscar De Priest, Negro Congressman from Illinois" at the White House, but before passage was amended to make it in general terms.

CLAIMS STATE BETRAYED

In introducing the resolution, Representative Way declared that "the state of Florida has been betrayed by such action."

The resolution was termed in "bad taste" by Representative Day, one of the two Republican members of the House, who took the floor against it.

ACTION DEPLORED

NORFOLK, Va., June 18.—(AP.)—A resolution "deploring" the action of Mrs. Herbert Hoover in entertaining the wife of Oscar de Priest, Negro congressman, together with white women at a White House tea several days ago was presented at the opening session of the sixth annual national convention of the Knights of American Protestantism here yesterday.

The resolution, sponsored by the Springfield, Ill., chapter, and presented by the Richmond Hill, N. Y., chapter was applauded by the 362 official delegates present. It was referred to a special committee for report to the convention tomorrow in its final form when a vote will be taken.

WOMEN PROTEST

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 18.—(AP.)—The Alabama Women's League for White Supremacy sees in the recent entertainment of the wife of Oscar De Priest, Negro Congressman from Illinois at a White House tea "just foundation for the gravest apprehension by Southern people" through President Hoover's alleged revival of the question of social equality among the races.

The league, in a statement issued by its board of directors, declares the President and Mrs. Hoover have no right to outrage the sensibilities and to imperil the peace and safety of a large section of this country by sharply reviving an issue (social equality) that means so much to us."

Son Chained in Cellar, Father Arrested

GARY, Ind., June 18.—(AP.)—Police, investigating a child's screams, entered the dark basement of the John Juhrke home yesterday and found George Juhrke, 9 years old, in chains.

The boy said he had been a prisoner nine days, living only on bread and black coffee, which his 6-year-old sister brought daily.

The boy's father was arrested and held under $1,500 bond on a charge of contributing to the child's delinquency.

CHAIR LOOMS FOR SLAYER OF CHUM

Convicted for Killing Roommate on Promise Of Share in Insurance

MACON, Ga., June 18.—(AP.)—Earl Manchester, 19-year-old slayer of James Parks, his roommate, in an "insurance murder plot," was convicted last night of murder and the jury made no recommendation, which automatically fixes the penalty at death in the electric chair. The trial lasted one day.

The youth entered no plea at the opening of his trial, and no objection was raised by the defense when Solicitor General Charles Garrett read into the record a signed confession.

The document said Manchester killed Parks, his roommate, on a promise from Mrs. J. C. Powers, 71, rooming house keeper, that she would give him $1,000 of a $14,000 insurance policy on Parks' life. Mrs. Powers had Parks insured a few weeks prior to his death on May 27 and was beneficiary.

The verdict came a half hour after the case went to the jury. The defense relied solely on an unsworn, and, under Georgia law, unchallenged statement by the accused youth. The statement was completed within a few minutes and the jury given the case at 7:45 p. m.

Judge H. A. Matthews of Bibb Circuit Court, who presided, announced he would sentence Manchester when court reconvened this morning.

FIGHT WATSON'S CONFIRMATION

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The bitter fight raging over President Hoover's nomination of Albert L. Watson, to be Federal judge for the middle district of Pennsylvania, was still undecided today.

Watson was strongly endorsed by Gen. W. W. Atterbury, who is Republican national committeeman for the state and also president of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Mrs. Worthington Scranton, national committee woman, likewise endorsed Watson.

At the hearing before a Senate judiciary subcommittee yesterday Atterbury was questioned sharply by Attorney Michael Martin, attorney for the groups opposing Watson, as to the amount of Pennsylvania Railroad litigation now pending before the court. He was halted in his examination several times by committee members.

The subcommittee will hear other witnesses before making known its findings.

FLAMES SWEEP GAS PLANT

BRADFORD, Pa., June 18.—(AP.)—Four buildings of the South Bradford plant of the Bradford Gasoline Company were destroyed by fire here last night with an estimated loss of $60,000. Eighty thousand gallons of liquidized high pressure gasoline were destroyed, according to H. E. Double, manager of the plant.

The fire was accompanied by a series of explosions which were felt a quarter of a mile away. The blaze was put under control with difficulty, it was reported, because of a lack of water.

The cause of the fire was not known. Smoke was seen coming from a storage building at 7 o'clock. The fire spread rapidly to other buildings and storage tanks.

Four tank cars of the Erie Railroad were destroyed. Three contained 10,000 gallons each of high test gasoline and one contained 10,000 gallons of naphtha. A box car containing 100 drums of high test gasoline was blown to bits. Several hundred kegs of carbide also exploded.

Firemen said the explosions would have caused considerable loss in life had the fire and explosions occurred in the day time. The plant is not in a thickly settled section.

BRUTAL SLAYER OF 4 SOUGHT

DETROIT, June 18.—(AP.)—A maniacal murderer who killed a mother and three children with a hammer in their River Rouge home yesterday still is at large. The body of the mother, Mrs. Anna Chebinski, 37, was found at noon lying among tall weeds near the rear of the house. A pool of blood on a path nearby marked the place where she was slain. The three children later were found inside the house. Pauline, 2 years old, and Margaret, 5, were dead, slain apparently with the weapon used to kill their mother. Josephine, 10, was lying on the floor unconscious. She died last night at Delray Industrial Hospital.

The hammer used by the slayer was found in the house.

Police said they believed the murders were perpetrated about 4 a. m. A milk wagon driver told officers he heard unusual noises coming from the Chebinski home about that time. Police are seeking the slain woman's husband, Paul Chebinski, who left for Cleveland about three months ago.

FIGHT RENEWED ON DEBENTURE

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP.)—The warm late summer and early fall days will bring to Congress a second contest over the export debenture plan of farm relief which is expected to be even more intense than the first.

The issue has been formally presented again by the introduction of an amendment by Senator Norris (Rep.), Nebraska, to put the debenture plan in the tariff bill, and unless all signs fail a lively time will be had before it is disposed of.

The Norris proposal is practically the same as the one finally torn out of the farm relief bill by the insistence of President Hoover and the House of Representatives, and the indications are that it may carry much weight in shaping the general make-up of the tariff bill. Debenture advocates have reprisal measures against some of the schedules in the tariff act seriously in mind if their proposal is again objected to.

Lightning Shatters Couch; Man Escapes

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., June 18.—(AP.)—Noah Steiner, 63, of Orange Township, was awakened from an afternoon nap to find his house afire and the ends of the couch on which he was resting knocked off.

A bolt of lightning struck the building, badly damaging the interior, but neither Steiner nor his wife, who was sitting near him, was injured.

Arizonan Sentenced For Aiding Rebellion

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—(AP.)—Jose Gandara, of Tucson, Ariz., convicted in Arizona of assisting Yaqui Indian rebels in the recent revolt against the Mexican government by selling them arms and ammunition, must serve a sentence of two years in federal penitentiary and pay $1,000 fine, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled.

Stolen Car Gets In Two Wrecks In Half Hour

An auto thief took Rose M. Thomas' car from in front of her home at 440 South Graham street early today, and within 30 minutes had been in two wrecks, after which he abandoned the machine.

At Station street, in Frankstown avenue, he clipped a running board off a Pittsburgh Ice Company truck. At Lambert street he smashed a fire box. A suspect who gave his name as Frank Fusco, 21, of 557 Lenora street, was captured after a chase of three blocks.

In police court today Fusco was held over after he explained that he took one drink too many at a christening last night.

MORE QUAKES IN NEW ZEALAND

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, June 18.—(AP.)—Further earth shocks were felt last night and today, adding to damage wrought by Sunday's tremors. Another fatality was reported with the death of a man in a mine at Seddonville.

Government airplanes have been sent to Westport and Greymouth, which are practically isolated through damage to telegraph wires. Railroads are crippled.

An airplane search is being made for a public bus containing five passengers which has not been reported since the quake.

Cigaret Burns in Car Kill Dormont Man

Burns suffered when his clothing was fired by a cigaret while he slept in his automobile early Sunday, caused the death in South Side Hospital early today of David Jones, 25, of 2746 Philadelphia avenue, Dormont. WIFE DEMANDS HER $250,000

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP.)—A woman who said she gave her husband $830,000 in securities to prevent him from leaving her has filed a motion in Supreme Court asking that he be restrained from disposing of $250,000 which she said he promised to return to her when they finally separated.

The woman, Mrs. Virginia Harrison Gross, described by her attorney as a daughter of a former governor general of the Philippine Islands, was married to Christian Gross in Algiers, January 28, 1922. Her husband was a member of the American diplomatic corps and was with the United States Army in Russia.

She said that shortly after the marriage she gave him the $830,000. Later they separated. Mrs. Gross continued, and an agreement was drawn up in Paris on January 12, 1928, which released him from obligation to support her and gave her custody of their two children, Barbara and Peter. He also was to return $250,000, but has failed to carry out this provision of the agreement, she alleged.

Will Gives 160 Millions To Public in 2129

INDIANAPOLIS, June 18.—(AP.)—Public bequests of approximately $160,000,000 to be available in 2129 are made in a will filed for probate here. It provides for $50,000 to be kept intact for 200 years at compound interest.

The will is that of Will H. Latta, Indianapolis Street Railway Company attorney who was killed last Wednesday night when an automobile he was driving was struck by a passenger train near Carmel, Ind. At the time he was en route to Fort Wayne where he was to marry Miss Emma Marguerite Sander. Miss Sander was given one-fourth of the remainder of the estate after the public bequests.

Latta wrote the will in longhand six days before his death.

De Pauw University, the Art Association of Indianapolis and the city of Ligonier, Ind., are the only public beneficiaries now in existence. The others are created in the will.

Among the bequests to be available in 2129 are:

Approximately $35,000,000 to establish the "Carrie Hunt Latta Memorial Library" in Indianapolis in memory of his wife; $35,000,000 to establish an Indianapolis conservatory of music; endowment of $35,000,000 for the Art Association of Indianapolis; $7,500,000 to build community centers adjoining each grade school building in Indianapolis; endowment of $17,500,000 for De Pauw University; about $47,000,000 to establish and endow "Latta University" at Ligonier, the institution to be operated by the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The city of Ligonier is to receive approximately $6,000,000 in 200 years for "city beautification and industrial expansion."

750 ATTENDING MEDIC MEET

Pennsylvania Night this evening will close the first sessions of the fifty-ninth annual convention of the National Eclectic Medical Association, which is being attended by 750 physicians at the William Penn Hotel.

Following reading of reports and appointment of committees at the morning session, of which Dr. Byron S. Nellans, of Cincinnati, president, presided, the afternoon was devoted to reading of papers on the section on practice of medicine and pediatrics. Among the physicians leading the discussions were Drs. L. W. Fowler, of Eldorado, Ark.; H. T. Webster, Oakland, Cal.; F. W. Moses, Indianapolis; N. A. Graves, Chicago; O. C. Welbourn, Los Angeles, and I. D. Metzger, Pittsburgh.

The state organization held its fifty-seventh annual meeting yesterday, at which the following officers were elected: President, Dr. J. E. Kieper, of Johnstown; first vice-president, Dr. D. R. Sipes, Everett; second vice president, J. W. Wenzel, Meyersdale; corresponding secretary, Dr. E. R. Blough, Pittsburgh; treasurer, Dr. Nannie M. Glenn, State College; state organizer, Dr. E. F. Shaulis, Indiana; representative on bureau, Dr. M. D. Hazen, Harrisburg; and secretary, Dr. C. F. Flannery, New Castle.

The national convention will continue until Friday, when officers will be elected.

NEW HEARING ON RUM PERMIT

Upon petition of Attorney H. I. Hirsh, counsel for the Hollander Brothers Drug Company, Judge R. M. Gibson today granted the company a reargument in the revocation of their medicinal liquor permit, which was revoked by Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington.

On June 15, Judge Gibson handed down an opinion upholding Pennington's revocation order, criticizing prohibition authorities for the manner in which they obtained evidence against the drug company.

Reargument will be on questions of law, defense counsel holding that Pennington was too late in issuing a citation in the revocation proceedings.

Pennington revoked the permit for alleged disappearance of 720 gallons of wine, which had been obtained by the drug company under a permit.

Street Adjustment Ordinances Offered

Council has received measures authorizing changes to adjoining streets to conform to improvements to Pike street necessitated by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's extension to the produce yards.

The measures provide for fixing the width and position of the sidewalks and roadways of Mulberry way from Twentieth street to Belvit way and Belvit way from Mulberry street to Pike street.

Other ordinances provide for establishing the grade of Etna street from Eleventh to Thirteenth street; of Twelfth street from Etna street to a point 95 feet southwardly, and of Thirteenth street from Etna street to Pike street.

Funds Requested For Pay Election

Mayor Charles H. Kline has asked Council for an appropriation to cover the expense of an election at the September primary authorized by the last legislature to determine whether voters favor an increase in pay for employes of the police and fire bureaus. The Mayor did not specify the amount of the appropriation.

SENATOR REED REPRESENTATIVE JENKINS

Mutual congratulations, Senator Reed, Pittsburgh, and Congressman T. J. Jenkins, Ohio, are extending to each other. They led the fight in House and Senate to prevent the repeal of the national origins law, the quotas of which are effective July 1, five years after adoption by Congress.

FINALLY CHECKS WAY TO CELL

Clifford G. Herron, merchandise broker, of Edgewood, pleaded guilty to passing 11 worthless checks totaling $450 and was sentenced by Judge James B. Drew today to serve from three to six years in the workhouse. It was said to be the fourth time he had been in Criminal Court for issuing bad checks.

Several years ago he was up for passing 23, but was paroled. Two years ago he was up for the second tinfe, charged with passing 11, but was paroled. Last March he was up for the third time, charged with passing 14 totaling $3,000, but was paroled. At that time Judge Elder W. Marshall made as conditions of the parole that Herron was not to have a checking account and was to give up merchandise brokerage.

It was testified today that two days after being paroled by Judge Marshall, Herron issued a worthless check. Judge Marshall had ruled that violation of the parole should automatically bring a two-year workhouse sentence. Judge Drew added a year.

'SELLS' HIMSELF $10 FINE

Accused of soliciting passersby to enter his store, Sol Soupy, 954 Penn avenue, furniture dealer, was fined $10 by Magistrate Jones today.

A furniture store next door, it is said, is conducting a special sale and advertising it with large signs. Similar signs, the witnesses declared, have been put up over No. 954, causing prospective customers to become confused.

Complaints to the police led to the assigning of Mrs. Nellie McDonald and Mrs. Sarah McClanahan to the case. They said Soupy did not have a store at No. 954, but, after inveigling women into the place, invited them to an "annex" across the street, where attempt was made to sell them furniture.

Penn State Alumni Plans Reorganization

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., June 18.—(AP).—A plan for reorganization of the Pennsylvania State College Alumni Association was approved here yesterday. It provides for an alumni council with representatives from each class and district club.

It is expected the reorganization plan will get under way in the near future with the selection of an alumni secretary succeeding E. N. Sullivan, who resigned a year ago. The alumni re-elected C. L. Kinsloe, of this place, president of the association. Others re-elected are L. W. Bevan, Wilkes-Barre, vice president; Dean R. L. Watts, State College, and J. M. McKee, Harrisburg, directors; and J. L. Mauthe, Lorain, O., and H. C. McIlveen, Pittsburgh, members of the board of athletic control.

Bootblack Sought in Barber Shop Killing

Police today were searching for Albert Scott, 17, a Negro bootblack, of 6554 Frankstown avenue, alleged to have fatally stabbed Charles Cooper, 28, of 632 Whittier street, with an ice pick during a tussle in a barber shop at 6349 Frankstown avenue last night.

Girl Robbed While At Church Services

Miss Mary Lyons, 1503 Woodland avenue, employed in a downtown bank, told police she was robbed while attending mass in St. Mary's Church, Third avenue and Ferry street, today. A sneak thief, she declared, made way with her purse, containing $5, a railroad ticket to Oakmont, and keys.

Schoolmates, Teachers Stunned by Girl's Death

At Gladstone Junior High School today pupils and instructors were stunned, thinking of Thelma Richter, leader among the pupils—who organized the school's Girl Scout troop, financed the troop through candy and bake sales, and who died yesterday.

Suburban General Hospital reported to the coroner that Thelma, 16, had died from poison swallowed on Sunday evening, June 9. Thelma was not admitted to the hospital until the next Sunday. Meanwhile, she did not reveal what she had done.

An instructor of Thelma exhibited her record card. It showed grades "A" and "B", the two highest almost exclusively.

Thelma's mother, Mrs. Peter Richter, lived in Second avenue, Hazelwood, until a month ago, when she moved to 416 Hallett place, Bellevue.

None of the teachers would believe that Thelma had felt the blight of unrequited affection.

"She was too level-headed," her report teacher said. "She wasn't the sort to die for a man. Besides, she never had any trouble choosing the boys she wanted as friends."

Widener's Estate Graveyard for Race Horses

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 18.—(AP.)—A plot of ground on J. E. Widener's Elmendorf farm, which was occupied by the beautiful Green Hills mansion, recently razed, will be converted into a cemetery for Widener's thoroughbred horses, it became known yesterday.

Widener recently sailed for Europe. Before leaving he instructed George Terry, manager of Elmendorf, to convert the plot of ground into a horse cemetery. A sculptress is now making a large statue of Fair Play, sire of Man o' War. The figure will be placed in the cemetery as the central monument. Fair Play, destined for the place of honor in the cemetery, is 24 years old. He was purchased by Widener at the Belmont dispersal sale here three years ago. The bones of Salvator, fastest runner of his day and favorite of the late James B. Haggin, were buried on the hillside, a short distance east of the mansion site.

P. & W. Va. Awards Big Bridge Contract

Contracts for a bridge over the Monongahela river at Belle Vernon, Pa., the major piece of construction work of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railroad's extension work from Cochran Mills to Connellsville, have been let, and work will begin immediately, officials announced. The bridge, including approaches, will be 2,750 feet long, and 170 feet above the water at the center. It will cost $1,000,000.

Pontiff Prepares Gold Rose for Italy's Queen

ROME, June 18.—(AP.)—The newspaper Tribuna has learned that one of the famous gold roses which are the traditional gift of the Pope to the consorts of Catholic sovereigns, is being prepared for presentation to the Queen of Italy in the autumn.

It will be the second that Pope Pius XI has bestowed. The first was given to the Queen of Spain.

Officials Inspect New Road Machine

County Commissioners Joseph G. Armstrong and E. V. Babcock yesterday witnessed a demonstration of the county's new stone chip spreader, designed to prevent slipping of automobiles and trucks. It cost $6,800. As a result of its use fewer accidents are predicted by the commissioners. It is estimated that the county will treat 40 miles of county roads this year with the new machine.

Mad Dog Scare Causes Woman To Lose Leg

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., June 18.—A mad dog scare caused Mrs. Tillie Subra, of Alicia, to lose her left leg.

Physicians amputated the leg.

Mexican Fliers Make Stop Here

Three Mexican army officers flying Vought-Corsair army pursuit biplanes, from the East to Mexico City, stopped off yesterday at the Pittsburgh-Butler training port of the Pittsburgh Aviation Industries, Inc. They were Cols. Samuel C. Rojas and Alfred Lezama, and Maj. David Borja. The ships were a part of a fleet of 35 purchased in the United States for use by the Mexican army. They have a speed of 110 miles an hour.

TAX CUT DRIVE AIDED IN W. VA.

West Virginians indorse the reduction of the Federal tax on earned incomes. They look upon the cut in the income tax as a measure that will stimulate industry and bring increased prosperity.

It was with this hope that hundreds of citizens of Wheeling and other populous centers in the Mountain State joined so enthusiastically in supporting the campaign conducted by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and other Hearst newspapers in petitioning Congress for prompt action toward the revision downward of the tax on professional men, salaried people and wage workers.

Beside Wheeling the canvass is being conducted in Wellsburg, Follansbee, Weirton, Chester and New Cumberland with equal success. Bankers, manufacturers, merchants and professional men have indorsed the movement and thousands of industrial and mercantile employes are signing the petitions.

Canonsburg yesterday produced the signatures of the leading business and professional men of that community. Glassport, West Elizabeth, Greensburg and other Pennsylvania towns are carrying on the campaign with spirit, backing up the overwhelming indorsement given the movement by the business and industrial leaders of Pittsburgh.

Stowaway's Own Story of Stolen Flight Over Sea

me of the fact, that was the only time throughout the entire voyage I felt remorse of any kind.

We then became very good friends and everything was as pleasant as possible.

I asked Lotti before the plane left whether there was any chance of my getting in, and he said:

"Not a chance in the world."

More than once, I thought that the finish had come, but their remarkable courage affected me so that I did not make the fact known to them that I had any fear whatsoever. I would have been ashamed to betray any emotion in the face of their courage.

When we were in mid-ocean, Lotti informed me they would have to change their course because my extra weight caused consumption of more fuel than they had anticipated, and that there was not enough gas left to take us to Paris.

So, instead of taking the northern route direct to Paris, we decided to swing off across the Azores and try to reach the coast of Portugal or Spain, which was the nearest point of land.

Terrific Storm

We encountered a terrific storm near the Azores during the night, and once it was so bad we were forced almost into the water.

I said to Lotti:

"Is this the finish"

Lotti, very nonchalantly, answered:

"It may be, at that."

But I believe it was our faith we would reach land that saved us, because we gained altitude again and continued to battle the storm all the way to Europe.

After what seemed ages, we finally saw land. I now appreciate what Columbus must have felt when, after waiting many weeks, he got his first glimpse of land.

We cruised along the coast of Spain for many miles, trying to find a point of vantage on which to land. From the air we couldn't tell exactly what kind of landing we could make. They decided the best bet would be on the shore, but even so, the risk was great, because we had no way of determining where the sand was soft or hard.

Exchange Notes

But again luck was with us, and we made a beautiful landing near Comillas. When we first touched land, there was no one around. Finally two boys came with bicycles, but none could converse fluently.

If I seem to have a too extensive knowledge of the problems of the flight, perhaps I should point out here that notes were being passed between Lotti and myself, whereby I obtained considerable information about just what we were up against.

Finally, between the four of us, we found the nearest village, which was Comillas, three or four miles from where we landed. Lotti and I borrowed the boys' bicycles and pedalled into Comillas.

We must have been a strange sight to that small town, where it seemed nothing extraordinary had ever happened before. The people couldn't comprehend that we had flown from America.

We finally located a young man named Claude Simard, who spoke Spanish, French and English, too.

He was God-sent to us, because he meant a way of communication. The aviators, through him, located a telegraph station. I cabled my mother at this point that we had arrived safely, and there was no cause for her to worry any more.

Slept in Plane

We remained in Comillas from 7 o'clock in the evening, their time, when we arrived, until 6:30 in the morning two days later (Sunday.) The aviators must have been fatigued, but they did not complain.

Because of the fact I had no specific duties to perform, I volunteered to sleep in the airplane and see that none of the instruments were injured. I slept in the airplane every night from the time we left until the time we arrived in Paris. Last night was my first night in bed since last Tuesday.

The surprising thing is that I am not tired. Probably it is due to the fine champagne I have been drinking since my arrival.

From the time we landed in Spain to the time we reached Le Bourget, we encountered many unforeseen difficulties. Assolant certainly must be more than human. To me, he is a wizard.

When we ran out of gas along the French coast, it was quite sudden and unexpected. Assolant volplaned to a safe landing on the beach. His handling of the plane was marvelous.

His First Flight

I can't conceive, even up to this time, how it was humanly possible to avert a dive into the ocean. Perhaps, when I get more knowledge of aviation, I will understand this.

From Mimizan, I motored to Cazeaux in the car of the French pilot who had flown from Cazeaux to meet us.

I met Lotti, who had preceded me to Cazeaux. He said Assolant and LeFevre would bring the plane to Cazeaux without us, because our weights would be detrimental to a successful take-off.

The demonstration accorded us at Cazeaux was magnificent. We were presented with numerous bouquets of flowers and feted very hospitably.

Finally we saw the Yellow Bird arrive and made preparations to leave again. We took off very nicely.

Upon our arrivel in Paris I placed Lotti in charge of all my affairs. I had decided to do this during the flight, because my life was in the hands of my companions.

This was my first flight. Up to a few hours before I got into the plane at Old Orchard, I was not interested in aviation. I knew absolutely nothing about it.

My flying clothes, consisting of a leather jacket, a helmet and goggles I borrowed from my brother who is an aviator.

My father is in the fur business and until recently I worked for him. Seven years ago, I did some newspaper work for a newspaper in Portland, Me. Recently, I have done amateur theatrical work.

Finally, let me say that I never realized I endangered the lives of my companions by stowing away until after we were in the air. Naturally, they were angry at me at first, but I must say they were awfully good sports about it after they had talked it over among themselves and decided to make the best of my being on board.

I intend to sail on the Leviathan Thursday for home, and all it means to me.

HIGHEST HONOR FOR FLIERS

PARIS, June 18.—(AP.)—M. Laurent Eynac, French air minister, will recommend to President Doumergue that Jean Assolant and Rene Lefevre, pilot and navigator of the trans-Atlantic plane Yellow Bird be awarded the decoration of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

The action will be the most marked indication of a change in attitude of the French government toward the Yellow Bird trio. The government hitherto has frowned sternly upon trans-Atlantic attempts in general and upon its former "baby sergeants," Assolant and Lefevre, in particular.

The two, with their financial backer, Armeno Lotti, were guests of the Aero Club of France yesterday, Pierre Etienne Flandin, former minister of aviation, greeting them. He remarked that at a time when "many people were despairing of French aviation and criticizing both its material and its men, three French boys had accomplished the great feat, which has been equalled and surpassed only by Lindbergh.

Although the stowaway, Arthur Schreiber, of Portland, Me., accompanied the aviators to the Aero Club welcome and later to the reception given by Norman Armour at the American embassy, he was not mentioned in any of the speeches and seemed much out of the picture.

When Assolant, Lefevre and Lotti finally went to Le Bourget to trundle their plane into the open, Schrieber did not accompany them. Lotti was asked about a report he intended shipping the stowaway back to the United States in the care of the American embassy. He replied: "The young man is our guest. He is free to enjoy the sights of Paris for a few days."

TO EAT WITHOUT BECOMING FAT

Avoid Too Much of Any Food —and Too Little Exercise, Say Authorities

Some people seem to think that all they need to do to reduce is to stop eating sugar. That isn't true. As a matter of fact, as a prominent medical authority says, "Every food that has any food value at all is fattening if taken in large enough quantities." "Reducing weight," he goes on to say, "means to eat less, keeping the diet balanced and attractive."

Medical authorities are alarmed at the national "craze for reducing." "The experience of centuries has shown," says a celebrated doctor, "that a poorly nourished body becomes much more quickly subject to such disorders as anemia, tuberculosis, the common cold, or various types of infection, than does one properly upholstered. . . . The craze for thinness is an attempt to modify the process of nature."

How much more wise and sane it is to eat moderately of all foods rather than omit the one ingredient that adds so much to the enjoyment of eating. Sweetness is nature's ideal flavor. And no other food is so pure or so cheap as sugar. Eat plenty of such healthful foods as cereals, apple sauce, grapefruit and fresh and canned fruits and vegetables of all kinds—sweetened to taste. Sweetening makes it easy to eat the healthful foods regularly and daily. Don't overeat, but remember it is dangerous to undereat. The sugar way is the happy way. The Sugar Institute.

QUASHING FRUIT CASE UPHELD

The United States Supreme Court upheld the action of Judge W. H. S. Thomson, of the Federal District Court, in quashing the indictment against the Fruit Growers' Express Company, a Delaware corporation, with offices in Pittsburgh, charging falsification of records of ice placed in refrigerator cars.

The indictment brought under the interstate commerce act, was returned November 22, 1927, and quashed May 5, 1928, by Judge Thomson, with Judge F. P. Schoonmaker concurring, the court holding the defendant concern was not a common carrier, and the act applies only to common carriers. Because of the alleged importance of the case the government, through the district attorney, carried it to the highest court, as the indictment was expected to have an important bearing on railroad transportation of fruits, vegetables and other perishable goods.

The indictment with 178 pages, containing 75 counts against the defendant concern, was the most voluminous indictment ever returned in the District Court. The first 50 counts in the indictment charged falsification of icing records, and the other counts additional alleged irregularities.

Maryland Widens National Highway

CUMBERLAND, Md., June 18.—Extensive improvements are under way on state-maintained highways in this section. Workmen of the Tri-State Engineering Company started pouring concrete for shoulders on the National Highway between Martins Mountain through Flintstone to Gilpintown, a distance of five miles. The curve at the eastern base of Martins Mountain is being eliminated. Twenty-seven miles of shoulders will be placed on the highway between Hagerstown and Cumberland this summer.

Oiling of the National Highway between Grantsville and Frostburg was completed Friday. The new bridge over Jennings Run at Mount Savage has been completed.

Ridgway Attorney Dies in Hospital

RIDGWAY, Pa., June 18.—Byron F. Ely, 41, died yesterday morning at the Jefferson Medical Hospital, Philadelphia. Mr. Ely left Ridgway about four weeks ago for a business trip to Asheville, N. C., and while there contracted pneumonia. Last week he was taken to the hospital for an operation, but died before it could be performed.

Mr. Ely was born in Ridgway. He attended Mercerburg Academy and afterward graduated from the law school of the University of Pennsylvania. He was a member of the law firm of Ely and Ely. He was a Mason and Knight Templar.

Grove City Man Asks Bus Line Certificate

UNITY FEATURES METRO PLAN

By JOSEPH T. MILLER,
Chairman Metropolitan Plan Commission.

In view of the interest in the forthcoming referendum election for the approval of the Pittsburgh Metropolitan charter, the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph will publish daily brief statements of the commission. In this series the provisions of the charter will be set forth in plain language shorn of its legal verbiage.

In the 15 articles of the Metropolitan charter discussed here, have been given the vital facts about the Consolidated City government.

But one fact stands above them all.

It is this: The Metropolitan plan is a co-ordination of all the governments of Allegheny County—a co-ordination for development, for achievement, for prosperity and for progress, on the part of every community in this great district.

It is a unity of governments, not a domination of one government; a federation of all the municipalities, all retaining control of their own local affairs, but all working hand in hand, co-operating, co-ordinating, pulling together in magnificent teamwork for the greater glory of the entire Pittsburgh district.

Remember this—the Consolidated City government is not a new government; not a super government.

But it is a substitute that conveys the dual authority of county and municipal functions.

Voters are invited to propound any proper questions regarding the charter and these will be answered promptly if addressed to Chairman Joseph T. Miller, 519 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Some answers to inquiries of pertinent interest will be published in the Sun-Telegraph.

U. S. Court to Try Accused Dry Agents

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—(A.P.)—Federal Judge Oliver B. Dickinson yesterday ordered the trial of Herman W. Litchfield, Federal prohibition agent, transferred from the Delaware County court in Media, Pa., to the United States district court here.

Litchfield and Walton, another agent, were arrested in Chester, Pa., March 27, on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated. They preferred counter charges of assault and battery against three Chester police, who arrested them. The latter will also be tried in Federal court here.

Coal Men Ask Delay On River Airport

Alex W. Dann, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Exchange, has asked Council to defer action on a pending ordinance authorizing a lease for 700 feet of the Monongahela River wharf to the Pittsburgh Aviation Industries Corporation for an amphibian plane airport. Dann indicated his concern would ask a hearing to determine whether the project would conflict with river interests.

"WONDERFUL IS KONJOLA," SAYS PITTSBURGH MAN

Stubborn Ailment Ended By New Medicine After Vain Search for Relief.

Many express amazement over the speed with which Konjola, the new medicine, accomplishes results. Others wonder at the thoroughness of Konjola's work. All who have given this new and different remedy a chance to prove its powers, express amazement at the way in which it meets the fondest hopes placed in it, even after all medicines and treatments tried have proven dismal failures. There is a reason for Konjola's stupendous triumphs, and this is being explained by the Konjola Man, who is at the Dow Drug Company (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, daily, meeting all who come to ask about this master of medicines and what it means to them in their search for escape from pain and suffering. Fix this in your mind: Meet the Konjola Man—for your health's sake—but don't expect to hear promises. He will give you only the facts of Konjola's victories in its warfare on disease. That is what all who are ill want—facts, results, health, instead of mere hope. And Konjola brings health; let the experience of Mr. Alfred M. Isenberg, 357 Stratford Avenue, East Liberty, Pittsburgh, bear witness:

MR. ALFRED M. ISENBERG

"Wonderful is Konjola—I know what I am talking about—for this was the first and only medicine that brought me relief from kidney trouble that had been the bane of my life for a long, long time. Throughout my back there was a dull, achy pain and soreness. Many times I was unable to stoop over. This stubborn and painful ailment affected my nerves and prevented me from sleeping at night. Daily I continued my search for the right medicine for my case. However, the medicines I tried had no more effect than so much water.

"A friend of mine had wonderful results from Konjola, and I thought I would give it a trial, but foolishly kept putting it off. However, about two weeks ago I felt so bad that I decided then and there to start on Konjola. The first two bottles indicated clearly that I had made a wise decision, for the improvement was wonderful. Steadily, Konjola corrected my kidneys. It was not long before the soreness and pains vanished. Today there isn't a trace of that dreadful ailment. My nerves are quiet and I sleep soundly. I have back my old-time vitality and vigor, and I find genuine pleasure in making this statement about Konjola, the medicine that should be in every home."

One does not have to wait long when Konjola seeks out and combats the causes of disease. Konjola my be given to the infant or taken for the ills of the aged, with every hope of splendid dividends in new, abundant and glorious health.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

Favorite Hymns of Moody Radio Feature Tonight

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Sun-Telegraph Radio Editor.

Favorites of Dwight L. Moody, the noted evangelist, will be sung during the sacred song broadcast over KDKA at 7:15 o'clock tonight.

The sponsor of sacred songs has selected the hymns Mr. Moody used in most of his revival meetings, including "The Sands of Time Are Sinking" and "Eye Hath Not Seen," which were sung at his funeral in 1899. Other songs include "Rescue the Perishing," "Just as I Am" and "Almost Persuaded."

"Lest We Forget" is the theme of a talk prepared by the sponsor for tonight's broadcast. It will be a defense of revival meetings.

FIGHT ON DOPE PROGRESSES

WASHINGTON, June 18.—New York, Detroit, Tampa, Florida, and Butte, Mont., are the chief sore spots of America for violations of the narcotic laws.

This statement came from Col. L. G. Nutt, chief of the Federal narcotic division, in discussing the general drug problem throughout the nation.

Other than in these cities, headquarters for illicit operations, Nutt believes the narcotic division, despite a handicap of personnel and appropriations, is making headway in bringing the dope traffic under control. He thinks the number of dope addicts is lessening each year.

SURVEY FOR COMMISSION

He plans to sumbit this survey to the President's National Commission on Law Enforcement, which is to investigate the drug traffic.

In addition, Nutt issued charts showing the reduction of opium imports since the adoption of a restrictive policy with the creation of the Federal Narcotics Control Board in 1922. The board, composed of the secretaries of State Treasury and Commerce, is charged with limiting imports to the medical and scientific needs of America.

Between 1910 and 1922, the average annual opium imports were 328,380 pounds. Since that time, the average has been 110,892 pounds, or roughly five and one-half tons of manufactured drugs.

ABOVE QUOTA

However, it was not mentioned that the average of 110,892 pounds is in excess of the quota set by the health committee of the League of Nations as the maximum medical requirements for any country. Under the League's formula, the average imports would have been cut to approximately 95,000 pounds, or over the six-year period the imports would have been 90,000 pounds less than actually permitted to enter the United States.

The variance in figures is due primarily to the board's method of determining America's medical requirements. This determination is based on the domestic sales of drugs, without the guidance of a comprehensive survey of the country's legitimate medical needs by a commission of physicians or scientists.

Col. Nutt indicated that the board would have to increase the import quotas next year to fulfill the demands for drugs in legal channels.

ODD FELLOWS CONVENE

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., June 18.—Five hundred delegates and visitors, together with officers of the Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F., comprised the vanguard of the army of 10,000 Odd Fellows to invade this city this week. The attendace peak will be reached tomorrow when the parade moves at 6:30 p. m. At the conclusion of the parade, the degree of chivalry will be conferred at the athletic stadium at Tuscora Park. Maj. Gen. Fred H. A. Hahn, Toledo, state commander of the Patriarchs Militant, will have charge of the degree work.

In the first division of the parade, which will be escorted by police, will be the Patriarchs Militant band of Akron, followed by Maj. Gen. Hahn and the Ohio department commanders. In the second division will be "Cantons" of the uniform rank from Akron, Canton, Alliance, Wooster, Dennison, Cambridge, Zanesville, Painesville and this city. The Rebekahs, women's auxiliary of the order, will follow in the second division. Eight Tuscarawas County bands together with an Akron band will be in the line of march.

A. A. Stermer, this city, past representative of the thirty-fifth district, will preside at the first session tonight. Following the memorial services tomorrow afternoon in the First Methodist Church, visitors will tour the county's points of interest. Boy Scouts are attending visitors. The final session will be Friday morning. John M. Gledhill, Warren, is grand master, and W. E. Crozier, Columbus, secretary.

Pittsburgh Printers Hold DanceThursday

Several members of Pittsburgh branch, International Association of Printing House Craftsmen, will go to the international convention to be held in Toronto, August 16, 17 and 18, it was announced by local members. The local branch had 18 members present at the district conference held last week in Harrisburg. To create interest in the international gathering, a dinner-dance and card party will be held Thursday night at the Pines.

Pittsburgh Women In Shore Pageant

A large party of Pittsburgh women, members of the Women's Benefit association, will participate in the pageant to be staged by the organization as part of their convention program in Atlantic City next Monday. The pageant will be staged in the new city auditorium and it is expected that 4,000 women will participate. Mrs. Emma McDonald, Mrs. Hester Coslott and Mrs. Anna Hurlick are the three Pittsburgh women in charge.

SCHOOLS SAVE ON COAL BILLS

Taxpayers this winter will save $10,340 on the coal bill of Pittsburgh's 165 public schools, due to the decrease in the price of coal, it was indicated at a meeting of the property and supplies committee of the Board of Public Education last night. The committee approved a recommendation of Superintendent of Supplies C. M. McKee for awarding contracts to 11 low bidding firms.

Under the contracts the average cost per ton will be $3.52, compared with $3.74 for the year ending May 1, 1929, a saving of 22 cents per ton. It is estimated that during the school year the various buildings use 47,000 tons of coal. The price last year was 28 cents lower than the preceding year.

The committee approved preliminary plans for an addition to the Taylor Allerdice High School estimated to cost $600,000, as well as contract drawings for an addition to the Madison school at an estimated cost of $204,000.

P. M. I. Chorus Closes In Concert Tonight

The chorus of the Pittsburgh Musical Institute will close its season tonight with the presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Gondoliers," in concert form, at the Henry Clay Frick Training School, Fifth avenue and Boquet street. Charles N. Boyd is director of the chorus and Frank Kennedy accompanist. Those who will sing are Gertrude Clark Hartman, Helen Bigge, Regina S. Linn, Ruth Seaman, Grade Noden, Leah Davis, Chester Sterling, Allen Strayer, Doyle H. Bugher, Roy Strayer and Robert Owrey.

FRIENDS GREET FLAG WINNER

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., June 18.—Following a welcome demonstrated by cheers and strains of martial music, Merle M. Clark, national boy flag escort and world tour winner in the first annual flag contest, was back home today from Washington.

He was grabbed from the steps of the train by his own boy friends yesterday and carried on their shoulders on a triumphant march into the depot. A great laugh, a great smile spread over his face, but joy and tears fought for place in the faces of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wesley Clark, and other adults gathered in the station.

Midst cheers they finally let Merle down to greet his parents, Mayor Edward T. Christ, G. Malcolm, superintendent of schools, and other city officials. Merle was then hurried into an automobile and escorted in a parade, led by a band to his high school for a public reception.

A round of festivities has been planned for Merle in the few days he will be here, before leaving for San Francisco to start the world tour, June 28, with the three other winners in the flag contest.

GIRL BACK HOME

TROY, N. Y., June 18.—"It's all so wonderful! I'm sometimes afraid I hear an alarm clock as I did during school and wake up to find it all just a dream," but Mary S. McGonigal, 15-year-old school girl, has found that dreams do come true. She was back at home from Washington today, bearing a distinction of being that greatest girl patriot in America, the grand national girl champion of the nationwide flag contest held by the United States Flag Association and supported by the Hearst newspapers, she comes home to prepare for her trip around the world.

At her home here for the first time in days the youngster rested, but the same youthful enthusiasm that helped her romp for the great patriotic competition to triumph over 250,000 American youngsters still excited her as she gave out her first interview. As the grand champion of America's girl patriots she said:

"I had always dreamed of such a trip as I am going to take now—a trip around the world. Honolulu, Japan, China, the Philippines, India, the Suez, the Mediterranean—Oh, it is all so wonderful.

"Of course, one ought to feel, I guess, that little reward is required for answering 75 questions about your own flag and the thing that it stands for, or writing an essay on Old Glory's Greatest Glory, and I suppose I would have entered the flag contest anyhow. I'm a Campfire Girl, you know. But the idea that—well, I read in one paper about the free trip around the world.

FORGOT CONTEST

"I suppose I was a bit nervous when the finals started. But somehow, as I started out talking about Old Glory's Greatest Glory I forgot that I was in a contest. I could not help but feel thrilled, thinking even as I talked, about what the colors really stood for.

"And, then, I heard that I won!

"So many people asked me how I felt when I heard that I won. I really don't know. I believe that it's difficult for folks to feel and think at the same time. And just at that time I felt too happy to think."

A busy time is planned for Miss McGonigal before she leaves for the West Coast this Friday to embark on June 28 from San Francisco on her trip around the world.

She will be the honor guest of several luncheons of city clubs, and the City of Troy also is preparing a special celebration for the young champion.

ROBERT L. SULLIVAN, FLAG CHAMPION, AND HIS PARENTS

Robert, Syracuse (N. Y.) lad declared winner in the National Flag Contest, sponsored by Hearst newspapers, with his parents, who went to Washington to see him and Mary S. McGonigal, girl champion, declared winners. The champions go around the world.

HOOVER CREEK FISHERS HELD

FREDERICK, Md., June 18.—(AP).—Charges of trespassing on the fishing preserve of Lawrence Richey, secretary to President Hoover, were put on the docket of Magistrate Frank L. Cady of Thurmont, yesterday, against two Washington men and one Frederick County resident.

A special officer who arrested the men early Sunday morning reported he found them fishing in the stream of the Richey land at Catoctin Furnace. Their automobile, he said, was in the road leading to the preserve, about 300 yards from the main highway.

The men told him they arrived in the dark, and did not know they were on the posted land. Each deposited $25 cash bond for a hearing tomorrow night. They gave the names of H. Lelaurin and Charles M. Argerum, of Washington, and O. M. Baker, Mt. Carmel, Md. It was reported here the two Washington men were Federal employes.

Invokes Old Law To Hold Woman In Dry Case

BEAVER, Pa., June 18.—An old English law was invoked by Judge Frank E. Reader in disposition of Julia Williams, of New Brighton, acquitted in court of violation of the liquor laws.

The woman was directed to post bond of $2,000 to be of good behavior and until such bond is furnished was committed to the county jail.

Ellwood City Bus Permits Requested

HARRISBURG, June 18.—(AP.)—Permission to operate a scheduled bus service between Elwood City and Zelienople was sought by the Harmony Short Line Motor Transportation Co., in an application received yesterday by the Public Service Commission. Another application asked the right to operate buses for groups and parties from Ellswood City to New Castle.

KIMBALL BURIAL TOMORROW

The funeral of W. Ross Kimball, 41, widely known accountant and tax expert, who died Sunday night at his home, 2809 Espey avenue, Dormont, will be held tomorrow.

Mr. Kimball suffered a stroke while seated on his front porch with members of the family, and died an hour and a half later without regaining consciousness.

Born at Dunbar, Pa., Mr. Kimball attended public school there and later entered the employ of the Second National Bank of Connellsville. He served for some years in the auditor general's office at Harrisburg, resigning his position there in October, 1917, to engage in tax service in Pittsburgh. At the time of his death he was a member of the firm of Hosack, Rogers & Kimball.

Mr. Kimball was a member of King Solomon's Lodge, F. & A. M., Connellsville; the Pittsburgh Athletic Association, the Presbyterian Church, St. Clair Country Club and the Pittsburgh Press Club.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Eleanor Kilpatrick Kimball; a son, W. Ross Kimball, Jr.; a daughter, Christine Jane Kimball, of Dunbar, and two sisters, Miss Florence Kimball, of Dunbar, and Mrs. Mabel Louden, of Greensburg.

Harris Memorial To Be Unveiled

Council has adopted John S. Herron's resolution urging the citizens of Pittsburgh to join in the dedication at noon tomorrow of a tablet in memory of the late Senator John P. What Power Rules Your Life?

There are two articles in July Cosmopolitan which should mean much in your life, because they show the Workings of Destiny in the lives of Two of the most Outstanding Men of Our Time in his autobiography in Cosmopolitan, states:

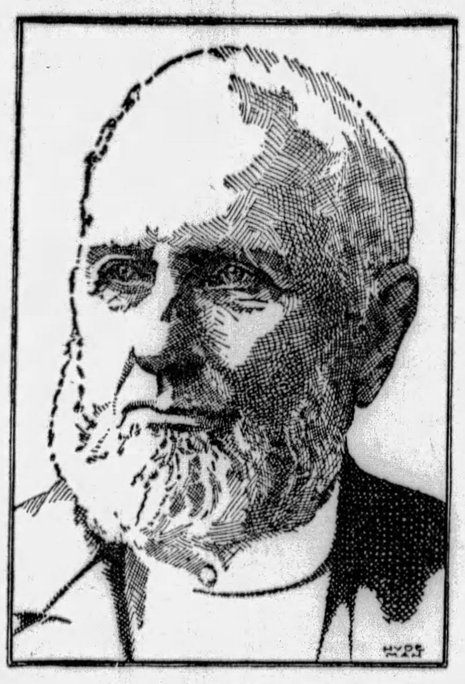
"I fully expected to become the kind of country lawyer I saw all about me, spending my life in the profession, with perhaps a final place on the Bench. But it was decreed to be otherwise. Some Power that I little suspected in my student days took me in charge and carried me on from the obscure neighborhood at Plymouth Notch to the occupancy of the White House."

In July Cosmopolitan this man who was led through dramatic scenes to the highest place in national history, recalls events of his boyhood.

We see him in the sugar camps; in the sheep-shearing; in his first trip away from home. His tasks seemed to him common ones—and yet through it all we see destiny at work.

To understand what was the Power which swept him to the Presidency you must follow his complete autobiography in Cosmopolitan.



John D. Rockefeller's father

John D. Rockefeller

His dual personality may be explained by newly discovered facts revealed by John K. Winkler. You will contrast the strong, purposeful character of John D.'s mother with the dashing, debonair "Old Doc" Rockefeller—his father—the itinerant medical man from whom John D. gained his earliest knowledge of business principles.

"To my father I owe a great debt in that he himself trained me to practical ways," John D. says. "He was engaged in different enterprises. He used to tell me about these things, explaining their significance; and he taught me the principles and methods of business."

"Doc" Rockefeller once told an Ohio crony: "I want to make my boys sharp. I trade with the boys and I just beat 'em every time I can."

Mr. Winkler's presentation may explain the Power that governed John D.'s life—the inheritance that brought him much criticism as a business man and great credit as a philanthropist.

Cosmopolitan each month publishes the important features and stories that create serious comment and sparkling conversation. Among the outstanding fiction in the July issue, for example, take

PONTIFF GREETS LIBRARIANS

ROME, June 18.—(AP.)—Pius XI, who is one of the leading librarians of Europe as well as Pope, welcomed at the Vatican yesterday afternoon brother Bibliophiles from many nations who are delegates to the World Congress of Librarians. About 500 book experts gathered in the large hall of the Vatican library where a special throne had been erected for the Pontiff.

The Pope cordialy greeted Herbert Putnam, librarian of Congress, and thanked him warmly for the cooperation given by that institution in the work of recataloguing the Vatican library. He also had a personal chat with William W. Bishop of the library of the University of Michigan who represented the Carnegie endowment in the recataloguing. Andrew Keogh, president of the American Library Association, also was picked out for an exchange of greetings.

The pontiff spoke in English as well as Italian to the Americans and had the linguists of the Vatican library at his side. The delegates were grouped by nationalities and the Pope changed readily from English to Italian, German and French.

In a brief speech he said, "We are exceedingly glad to greet so many fololwers of our old beloved profession. It is fortunate we are able to meet within the Vatican library which I hope you will enjoy seeing on Thursday. You will be particularly interested in the efficient methods whereby the library has been brought up to date and made more available, through kind American assistance.

"We regard it as a compliment that you chose Rome as your meeting place. We hope you will keep us in mind because we will be glad to render any help to your researches that we can.

'He then 'extended his pontifical blessing."

Wife Electrocuted, Man Asks $50,000

Jacob Menegas asked $50,000 damages of the Westmoreland Coal Company for the death of his wife Gioconda, in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court. The company operated an electric plant in connection with its mining operations at Biddle, Westmoreland County, and supplied electric current to the company house occupied by Menegas and his wife, he stated. On April 4, while taking down an extension light on a cord, she suffered an electric shock which caused her death within a short time, due to excessive strength of the current, Menegas charged.

Alleged Slayer Sent To Insane Asylum

An order was signed by Judge James B. Drew in Criminal Court, committing John L. Schmitt, 61, of 3209 West Carson street, to the state hospital for the criminal insane at Fairview. The commitment papers were signed at the request of Schmitt's attorney, Benjamin Lencher. On April 19, Schmitt is alleged to have beaten to death his business partner, Nelson Bell, of Oakmont. A commission examined Schmitt and reported him insane.

Father of Eleven Ordered from Town

DOVER, O., June 18.—Clyde Burson, father of 11 children, was ordered from the city by Mayor Ernest Barthelmeh, with the alternative of six months in the Canton workhouse for disorderly conduct. Burson must take his family with him.

PATRICIA PITT'S COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Attendants Named for Wedding

NOT a great many large weddings are set for this week here in Pittsburgh. As I have said many times, our society brides seem to choose alternate weeks for their weddings, and I think you will agree with me that last week had more than its share. Just one or two are arranged for the next few days, but on Saturday there will be a wedding over East that is interesting a great many local folks.

I am referring, of course, to the marriage of Virginia Morris, daughter of Mrs. Alfred Paul Morris, of "Dundale," Villanova, to William T. Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lafayette Collins, of Blackburn Farms, Berwyn, and grandson of Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., of Pittsburgh and Sewickley Heights. Mrs. Collins was Elizabeth Burd Thaw before her marriage and the family had lived here for many years before going East.

Virginia will be given in marriage by J. Kenton Eisenbrey and she will have just one attendant, her sister, Constance. Mr. Collins has asked his father to be his best man and the ushers will include Davidson K. Girvin, John L. Harrison, Francis Lieder, J. E. Cope Martin, Jr., Lynch Read and Henry Lafayette Collins, Jr.

The ceremony is set for noon and it will be performed in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Rosemont. A small reception at Dundale will be held afterwards.

AND just while we're discussing events in the East, let me remind you that on Friday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas Brown, of Moorestown, N. J., are going to give a garden party to introduce their daughter, Helen. And at the same time the guests will meet the hosts' son and his wife, the Bradway Browns, who were married last winter. Mrs. Bradway Brown was Ruth McCauley, of Beaver, before her wedding.

After the garden party is over, Mr. and Mrs. Brown will be hosts at dinner.

DID you know that Mrs. W. Harry Brown has opened her Fifth avenue house and, I understand, is planning to spend most of the summer here? Mrs. Brown gave a small luncheon for some of her friends yesterday afternoon in the Allegheny Country Club. There were 14 guests.

* * *

SEVERAL local folks are going East this week-end to see the the annual Yale-Harvard boat race on the river at New London, Conn. The river, of course, will be dotted with yachts filled with interested spectators, and among the boats anchored there will be the Vagabondia, owned by the William Larimer Mellons. The junior Thomas Hitchcocks will entertain a party of guests on the Vagabondia, those from Pittsburgh including Mrs. Thomas G. McCutcheon, Jr., Richard King Mellon and Malcolm McGiffin. Mrs. Hitchcock was Margaret Mellon Laughlin before her wedding a few months ago, you remember, no doubt.

MISS KATHERINE and Miss Margaret Vaughn entertained in their home in Trenton avenue, Wilkinsburg, last night in honor of Miss Grace Irene Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Wilson, of Wilkinsburg, whose marriage to E. Edward Ohlson, of Spokane, Wash., will be solemnized Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock in the South Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church. Miss Nancy Jane Montgomery, who will be the bride's only attendant, gave a bridge luncheon Saturday afternoon in her home. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Edward B. Staples, of New York and will be followed by a small reception. M. Finley Wilson is to be Mr. Ohlson's best man. Miss Floss Baley will sing and Miss Mary Hess will play the wedding music.

MRS. THEKLA GORDON, of Squirrel Hill, announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Rose Gordon, and Arthur M. Spandau, which was solemnized today.

AMONG the Pittsburghers who spent the week-end at Bedford Springs were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Diebold and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis. Also out of town are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koch, of Northumberland street, who have been staying at the Traymore in Atlantic City.

THE marriage of Miss Dorothy Prigg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Prigg, of Washington, Pa., and Harry H. Hemphill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hemphill, of Tarentum, was solemnized yesterday at noon in the Prigg home by the Rev. Dr. G. P. Atwell, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Washington. Mrs. G. Leslie Zimmerman, sister of the bride, Miss Dorothy Wolfe and Miss Ruth Thomas were the bride's attendants, and J. Mac-Jones, Jr., was best man. The bride is a Washington Seminary girl and Mr. Hemphill was graduated from Washington and Jefferson College.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH S. THOMAS, of Espy avenue, Dormont, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Madeline Edna Thomas, to Orville Maynard Siegfried, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis H. Siegfried, of Hazel drive, Mt. Lebanon. The engagement was announced Saturday at a bridge luncheon given by Mrs. Thomas in the St. Clair Country Club.

ALUMNAE of Dilworth Hall will hold a garden party Saturday on the grounds of the home of Mrs. J. A. Ellen in Waldheim road, Aspinwall, closing the association's activities until fall. Mrs. Ellen is being assisted by the officers, Mrs. J. Frank McClurg, Mrs. Howard W. Kunkel and Mrs. Thomas Pringle, and a group of members.

* * *

MRS. HAROLD B. HERSHMAN and her young son, Oliver S. Hershman II, of Beacon street, have returned from California where they spent the winter and spring with Mrs. Hershman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, of Glendale.

DORCAS CHAPTER No. 401, O. E. S., will give a card party Wednesday afternoon in Oppenheim-Collins auditorium. Mrs. Mary Meader is chairman.

Junior Guild Plans Bazar for Friday

THAT rather unusual and decidedly active organization, the Junior Guild of Squirrel Hill, will have its annual street bazar all day and in the evening Friday at Beechwood boulevard and Wilkins avenue. The Guild, which is nonsectarian, and was organized as an experiment in philanthropic work four years ago, meets in the basement of the Third United Presbyterian Church, Shady and Northumberland avenues. It is made up of 45 young matrons, the majority of whom are mothers, and has the unusual ruling that no woman with children of college age is eligible. Founded by Mrs. Joseph Shilliday, who was its first president, it has in its four years of life completely furnished the playroom at the Curtis Home, two rooms at the Crittenton Home, the dining room at Faith Home, has given assistance to the Penwood Home and the Lawrence Neighborhood House and annually aids the Pittsburgh Home for Babies and carries many individual cases, dispensing about $3,000 every year. Mrs. Richard Quay Cleavenger has been president for three years, and the other officers include Mrs. Richard Healey, vice president; Mrs. Clarence Rodgers, corresponding, and Mrs. Frederick Brinker, recording secretary.

HAVE the Jews, as a people, contributed in a sufficient degree to the culture, civilization, art, literature and religion of the world, to warrant the establishment of a purely Jewish room in the Cathedral of Learning? This question has been asked, by letter, of 100 outstanding men and women by the Pittsburgh Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations in a survey suggested by Chancellor John G. Bowman's proposed plan of having the Cathedral's class rooms represent the cultural contributions of the various national groups making up cosmopolitan Pittsburgh. The letters have been sent to both Jews and non-Jews the list including rabbis, ministers, educators, artists, scientists, professional and business men.

THE Pittsburgh Girls' Club will have its annual Fourth of July party at Sandy Lake Camp, Stoneboro. A bus is being chartered by the club to leave Pittsburgh at 6 o'clock on July 3, returning the evening of the Fourth. Miss Gertrude Kelly, at the club headquarters, Bessemer Building, is in charge of registrations.

THE home safety division of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council will have a rally luncheon Thursday at 12 o'clock in the Congress of Clubs. The speakers will be Miss Marian Telford, educational division, National Safety Council; Burton Marsh, city traffic engineer; C. H. Roth, Pittsburgh Motor Club and Walter Laird. Assembly singing will be led by Mrs. Elsie Breese Mitchell and Mrs. Charles S. Hutchison will have charge of the luncheon arrangements. Hostesses will be Mrs. D. Edwin Miller, vice president in charge of the home safety division; Mrs. John S. Sloan, Mrs. Frank D. Johnston and the executive committee including Mrs. Ralph W. Johnston, Mrs. J. G. Chalfant, Mrs. Walter R. Fleming, Mrs. Thomas P. Horan, Mrs. Olen B. Hughes, Mrs. Alberta Hull, Mrs. Hutchison, Mrs. Raymond Kaufmann, Mrs. Harry C. MacDonald, Mrs. John E. McKirdy, Mrs. John M. Phillips Mrs. E. P. Schempp and Miss Helen W. Stevens.

AS an aid society to the Syrian Orthodox Church, the Syrian Girls' Activity Club has been organized and will meet every two weeks. Miss Elma Farrar is president; Miss Lottie Simon, vice president; Miss Marie Abraham, secretary; Mrs. A. Kelly, treasurer and the officers also include four chairmen, Miss Nabeeha Davis, Miss Sally Sarras, Miss Effie Annis and Miss Mollie Joseph.

GEORGE SEIBEL, dramatic and literary author of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, has been re-elected president of the Authors' Club of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Harriet Avery Gaul is the new secretary.

A GARDEN party will be held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wesley W. Jones, Ardmore boulevard, by the Woman's Club of Forest Hills. Mrs. Douglas Miner, chairman of the program committee, and her aides, Mrs. E. B. Newill and Mrs. R. T. Toner, will outline next year's program. Assisting the hostess will be the executive committee, which includes the newly-elected officers, Mrs. M. F. Packard, president; Mrs. E. R. Sampson, vice president; Mrs. E. P. Gooch, secretary; Mrs. Charles Jablow, treasurer; Mrs. R. A. Neal, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. G. B. Sittman, assistant secretary.

TO complete plans for its annual boat excursion, the social service committee of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind will meet tomorrow in the Workshop, Boulevard of the Allies. The excursion, which is set for July 3, is held each year for the blind, their guides and their families.

* * *

SUPERINTENDENTS of the different departments will be named and officers elected at tomorrow's meeting of the Crafton Women's Christian Temperance Union in the home of Mrs. Harry Brown, Emily street.

Dawes Among Guests At Diplomatic Fete

LONDON, June 18.—(AP.)—Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson yesterday held his first diplomatic reception at the foreign office. United States Ambassador Dawes was among those received.

PRESBYTERIANS BACK HOOVER

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—(AP.)—Appointment of a national loyalty commission consisting of 17 ministers and eight ruling elders was announced today by the Rev. Dr. Cleland B. McAfee, of Chicago, moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, from the headquarters of the assembly here.

This commission is to assemble in New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, Washington, tomorrow and call on President Hoover and tender to him the support of the Presbyterian Church in his stand for law observance.

The commission was authorized by the general assembly at St. Paul, May 27.

The avowed purpose is to give encouragement to the President carrying out his policies for law observance and enforcement.

The commission will have a luncheon conference with Presbyterian members of the cabinet and will adopt a plan of national campaign for law observance.

It will also issue a proclamation to all Presbyterians to observe Sunday, June 30, as national loyalty Sunday.

The membership of the commission includes Dr. Hugh T. Kerr and the Rev. Dr. Clarence Edward Macartney, both of Pittsburgh.

THE new RCA Screen-Grid Radiotron—a very remarkable advance in vacuum tube design—has made possible the construction of a simplified Radiola receiver of amazingly high efficiency.
The creation of the associated research laboratories of RCA, General Electric and Westinghouse, this new Radiotron of great amplifying power has been for years under test and development. A special circuit had to be devised to make full use of its remarkable capabilities.
The same RCA engineers who developed the tube, and then the circuit, have now designed Radiolas 44 and 46 to make the most efficient use of the Screen-Grid Radiotron in radio receivers operated with alternating current.
The new Radiolas utilize only five vacuum tubes—three of which are Screen-Grid Radiotrons. There is also employed a new power-amplifying Radiotron, with capacity for much greater volume without distortion.
The beauty of tone achieved in these new Radiolas has never before been possible in receiving sets employing so few tubes, or selling at these prices. The full rich tones of the bass register are a revelation in radio reproduction.
Radiola 44 (table model) is in a compact, two-tone walnut veneer cabinet of graceful design. The console model, Radiola 46, makes use of the finest of all reproducers, the famous RCA Electro-Dynamic Speaker, an integral part of the assembly.
Among the interesting refinements in the new instruments are the concentric, or "two-in-one" tuning and volume control; the special switch to maintain high quality of reproduction for both distant and local stations; and the selector dial graduated for kilocycles, with readings magnified on an illuminated window.
RCA Radiolas and Loudspeakers may be purchased through RCA Radiola Dealers on the convenient RCA Time Payment Plan.

AVIATION BOARD ORGANIZES

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 18. —(AP.)—John C. Kelso, of Punxsutawney, was elected secretary of the State Aeronautics Commission yesterday at its first meeting since it became an administrative body under the 1929 administrative code. He succeeds Robert M. Ginter, of Pittsburgh, who has been made vice chairman. Kelso, who served in the aviation corps during the World War, begins his new duties immediately.

Two committees to study the subject of rules and airports and civil landing fields, were appointed by James F. Woodward, secretary of internal affairs, who is also chairman of the aeronautics commission. Charles J. Biddle and Maj. J. S. Owens, both of Philadelphia, will promulgate rules for control of aviation. The committee on airways is composed of R. W. Robbins, of Pittsburgh; H. N. Taylor, Philadelphia; J. T. Wolfinger, of Reading, and Maj. Owens.

Weather Conditions.

The skies are clear at most places east of the Mississippi, but scattered local thunderstorms occurred in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia and North Carolina during yesterday and last night. The barometer over that section is relatively high.

The Northwest low diminished considerably in intensity as it advanced slowly eastward. It is centered over Northern Manitoba this morning and a trough extends southward over the Plains states to another center developing over the panhandle of Texas and New Mexico. It caused light scattered showers over the northern and central plains and the Northern Rocky Mountain states. Cooler weather is following the low.

Blawnox Boy Runs Into Auto; Killed

When he became confused by the sound of an automobile horn, John Chueala, 10, of 415 Blawnox avenue, Blawnox, ran into the side of a car on the Freeport road and was killed, according to a report to the coroner's office. Barton R. Truitt, of Verona, said to be the driver of the car, and Jacob L. Diebold, Millvale, took the victim to the Pittsburgh Hospital, where he was pronounced dead. Truitt was notified by police to appear before the coroner.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

LOUD voices were coming from the officers' cabin, masculine, drunken with laughter. The shrieking laughing voice of Eve above it all, urging Ruth on.

It was into this masculine scene that Jimmy staggered. He saw dimly through eyes that were blurred the lithe figure of Ruth, weaving the tortuous movements of the hula. Saw her gaily kick a glass out of young Watkin's hands. Then catch another from the hand of the swarthy young officer and gulp it. Wildly slipping about with a grace that stirred them all.

"Be Jabers! I've been sitting around and listening to my arteries harden too long. Wine, women and song for me henceforth." It was Col. Simpson speaking, the oldest in the group. He was answered by taunting jeers that Jimmy would never forget.

He now knew what it was he wanted to do . . . teach Ruth a lesson . . . hurt her as she had him . . . only he could never do that . . . but he must make good his threat . . . and Adamses always make good.

Ruth finished the dance in a whirl of sensuous rhythm amid wild cheers. She stepped off the pine table, and ran forward to the door. Grasping hands clutched at her. Jimmy watched sullenly. His time would come . . .

Ruth's mood had changed. Gone was the exultation of those wild, drunken moments. It was the thought of Al's hurt eyes that sobered her; she hated to go back to the cabin and face them.

As she turned toward her cabin she found herself staggering. She was tired . . . so tired . . . Perhaps fresh air, before she returned, would revive her.

Under the shadow of a tree she encountered Jimmy, who reeled toward her, muttering, his hair disheveled, collar torn off. She shrieked.

"Jimmy!" He pursued her and she quickened her steps to evade him; he caught her arm, forced her to walk beside him.

"Jimmy! Let me go! Ugh! You're drunk!" She saw him staggering dizzily.

"You're coming with me," he muttered vehemently. "I'll teach you to disgrace yourself—and me, too. Making mockery of my love."

"Jimmy! You're hurting me!"

"You're going with me in this car," Jimmy dragged her towards one of the officer's cars which was parked beneath an algoroba tree.

Drink had given Jimmy strength. He tossed the frightened girl in the seat beside him; started the engine violently and turned the car toward the edge of the crater. He swung dizzily near the edge of the precipice. The car righted itself.

"Oh, Jimmy! Be careful!" Ruth pleaded. "You're crazy drunk . . . Let me get out of this car at once." She was trying pitifully hard to hang onto a shred of her dignity. She didn't want him to know she was afraid of him . . . dreadfully so. "Wait until Al hears of this." She was trying to bolster up her own courage with the thought of Al.

"Al? Ha! ha! That big fool! What does he want of you, anyhow? You're trash, reveling in the drunken flattery of a bunch of bums. Why, you'd be better off dead than going the path you are. You're headed straight for the devil!"

Fear and disgust struggled for mastery of her, but when he shouted, "You're nothing but trash!" fear was supplanted by anger, white, blazing. A Wilson was as good as an Adams, any day!

She struck him with all the force of her muscular arm.

Jimmy was clutching at her, madly, blindly. Reason deserting him; shouting in his frenzy:

"Better off dead, did I say? Why, I'll kill you myself, you cheap, common—"

He lurched toward her. Murderous intent distorted his face. It looked ghastly in the moonlight. His left hand reached for her throat. To Ruth's ears rang the witch's wail: "Death! Death!" She should scream for Al. Closer and closer came the clutching hand. Each thousandth part of a second being drawn out to an hour by fear and terror.

She tried to scream. She tried to draw farther into the corner of the seat. She threw up her arm to guard her throat. Why didn't Al come to her aid?

A flash . . . a thunderous report . . . Jimmy shot Ruth, shot her with the army pistol he'd found in the car.

A sharp, searing pain tore at the warm living flesh of her . . . She thought she shrieked. But fear made of her voice but a breath of sound. She clutched at her side, there where the pain was so severe . . . while Jimmy sat beside her gibbering in fright.

Her hand came away stained—and warm. And then Jimmy pulled the trigger again—and a third time.

GRANDMOTHER'S AND OUR'S

Drawn by Dorothy Flack

WHEN Grandmother wore them they were all befrilled and covered with tiny lace ruffles and were designed to hide her dainty little ankles. And she called them "pantalettes."

When Grand-daughter wears them—well, they're liable to suddenly make their appearance at the bridge tea, or on the beach, or the links, or the court, or anywhere one finds Grand-daughter.

In this day of athletics for women, Grandmother's frail daintiness would look as out of place as a Dresden shepherdess in a Zulu's hut. Therefore, Grand-daughter has borrowed some of Brother's practical ideas and fashioned "pantalettes"—but, oh, so different.

Brother's riding breeches are feminized now, and his tennis flannels aren't safe from Sister's frantic search for something different. Even on the links, she has adapted his "shorts" and made the cutest little divided skirt you ever saw.

Her bathing suit differs from brother's only in its colors and trimmings. And her beach pajamas! Well, I wonder where they'll stop?

Poor Grandmother constantly dreams of the days that were and tells of HER dainty lace pantalettes, but Grand-daughter only smiles in a superior way and demands to know what she would do with such a lot of frilliness to drag around.

Times change, girls change; only Love ever remains the same. And whether it was 1825 or 1929, the search for love goes merrily on—and neither pantalettes, ancient or modern, can impede its progress. And after all, that's all that matters.

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

Fruit Compote

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Should one eat sliced pineapple with a spoon or a fruit fork? The restaurant I went to served a spoon. I think a fork should have been served instead.

A READER.

THE really correct way to serve sliced pineapple is with a dessert spoon on the right and a fork, a dessert fork or any medium-sized fork, on the left. That is the Continental manner of serving desserts of that kind, or compote of fruits, and all other dishes of this kind, and this kind of service is rapidly growing in this country. Then the pineapple is eaten, of course, with the spoon in the right hand, and the fork in the left hand is used as a "pusher" to assist in putting a piece of fruit on the spoon. However, it is correct, too, to use a fork, but then, of course, you miss the delicious juice.

Social Obligations

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Will you please tell me my social duty toward the parents of my daughter's fiance; they are strangers to us.

MOTHER.

IF the parents of your daughter's fiance live in the same town, they have undoubtedly called on your daughter and yourself. You have probably returned this call with your husband and daughter. These two calls are absolute social obligations on the part of both the parents.

Now if you mean by "strangers" that you have never met them, it is a more difficult situation. If they have not done their social duty of calling on you and your daughter, then I suppose the only thing for you to do is to disregard their lack of making the first step, and you yourself make the first step. In that case, I should, if I were you, invite them to come, although of course this invitation should not be necessary. Why not write the mother a note and ask her and the father to come to tea on a designated Sunday afternoon? In your note you might say that you are anxious to know them and that, since the families are going to have such a close bond, you wish to welcome them.

ADAM AND EVE By JACK WOODFORD Daily Short Story

THE girl furtively descended the steps from the top deck of the ferry, walked around behind an automobile parked upon the poop deck, and glancing around to make sure nobody was looking, slipped off into the black, swirling water.

The backwash from the propeller caught her and whirled her around dizzyingly. Strangling, she fought frantically. Presently she felt herself grasped. There was a moment of complete unconsciousness, and then she awoke, still in the water, but supported firmly.

"I guess nobody saw either one of us go off," her rescuer said ruefully, as he held her down to her chin in the water, to make the water support as much as possible of her weight, while he treaded water to support them both. "Figured somebody'd see us, sure. Dived from the top deck."

"Why did you do it?" she got out. "I intended to kill myself."

"Why did I do it, indeed?" he asked himself as much as her. "Just impulsive and a trifle nutty, I guess. Lord, I hope another ferry or something comes along pretty soon." He sank still farther down in the water and, with his mouth even with the surface let out a bellow that resounded loudly along the water. But there were no boats there. Far away on one side they could see the twinkling lights of the Jersey shore; behind them was the blazing shore line of Manhattan.

"You'd better," she said, "let me go, and swim for your life."

"Nothing doing," he said. "I started this, I'll finish it. I can swim almost indefinitely—that is, I could if it weren't for these clothes. Hold very still, I'm going to take some of them off." Holding her with one hand he managed to slip out of his trousers. His oxfords he kicked off. Holding her with the other hand he got rid of his coat, then his vest, tore off his shirt.

"There, that's better, feel like a fish," he reported. "Now, I'm sorry, but you'll have to get rid off some of your excess baggage, or you'll drown me, because I'm determined to get out of this or sink with you, so that's that." Tearing and pulling he managed to help her out of most of her clothing. "Now," he directed, "lie perfectly still. Don't move a muscle. I'm going to start for the shore." With one hand beneath her shoulder he started swimming on his side, with his one free hand. It was slow work. Several times ferries passed them, but he was afraid to swim toward the big awkward boats for fear of being caught in their propellers, and nobody heard their shouts. At last he said:

"Listen, I've got to get a complete rest for a few minutes. If you lie utterly still upon the water, with just your mouth and nose above water, you'll float. Keep your lungs full of air, breathe it out and take it in in quick gasps, your mouth and nose won't go under water so long as your lungs are kept full, and if you take the gasps of air quickly enough you won't have time to sink in between them. Try it now." She tried it and was successful. Her body lay in the water, feet downward, neck bent back, face just a little above the water.

"You've got good nerves," he told her, after they had thus rested for twenty minutes; "usually takes people a long time to learn the dead man's float. Now come on, we'll let 'er flicker again." For half an hour he swam with her toward the Jersey shore, which was nearest. Finally he said.

"Try kicking your feet a little, to help me. Kick them straight back, then bring them together like scissors." She accomplished it sucsesfully and increased their speed a bit. Then he showed her how to stroke with the arm that he wasn't holding. Then he let her try both arms. They took another twenty minutes rest, doing the dead man's float.

"You've got wonderful nerve," he told her admiringly, as they started to swim again. "Used to be a beach life guard during my vacation from college. Taught many a girl to swim, but never found one could learn as fast as you." She thrilled to his praise. She couldn't see him yet, but she liked his voice tremendously. At last she reported regretfully.

"I'm all in."

"Me too," he admitted. "Looks bad. You'll have to slip out of the rest of your clothes, and I will too. It's our only chance. They hold us back and tire us." They both managed the job somehow, then a full half hour of dead man's float. A little refreshed they started out again. She was swimming sure enough now, with double overhand he had taught her. This time they could see each other with the faint flush of dawn peeping over the horizon. A ferry boat suddenly stopped in its course, tooted frantically started toward them. The tabloid papers the following morning said:

"Adam and Eve, who were picked out of the channel this morning, would give no explanation for their strange presence there, other than that they 'just wanted to get acquainted.' It is thought that they pulled another publicity stunt. If so, they were successful. A moving picture theater is going to feature their wedding in bathing suits. Both of them, it is reported, were out of work—but they're not any more. The Eureka circuit has booked them for twenty weeks at a reputed salary of one thousand per week each."

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

The Victim

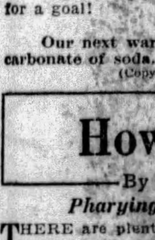
IT IS foolish to say that prohibition has not benefited any large class of people. Think of the undertakers!

* * *

And the doctors! Undertakers and specialists must LIVE! Take away prohibition and many a stomach specialist wouldn't know where his next million was coming from.

* * *

All these people who are protesting against the effect of the Eighteenth Amendment and its little brother, the Pocket Flask, on the Younger Generation, have picked the lesser victim.



HELEN ROWLAND

A young stomach is a STRONG stomach. And if any of the Younger Generation are still alive after they have finished trying to beat the locomotive to the crossing, and shooting each other up, they may worry along for quite a while before the acidosis sets in.

That beautiful, innocent, once-perfect engine of the human body! That stomach on which the Continental Army fought the Revolution, and the Union Army won its victories—and the A. E. F. made the world safe for—the bootleggers!

* * *

That gorgeous organ which survived New England pies and doughnuts and Southern hot breads and fried steaks—and STILL was the best stomach in the world!

Everybody you meet is on a diet. Or going on a diet. Or OUGHT to be on a diet!

Everybody has got acidosis, or pyrosis, or halitosis, or arteriosclerosis! Or neuritis, or colitis, or arthritis, or gastritis. Or sciatica, or rheumatism, or lumbago.

Everybody is on a liquid diet, or a vegetable diet, or an anti-acid diet. No matter how gaily a dinner party begins, it always ends in a CLINIC—with all the guests comparing symptoms and diet lists. And water cures and blood tests.

No use trying to talk love or art or books—or even golf. All conversations lead right to the kitchen or the stomach. Violent hatreds and even divorces begin in incompatibility of diet lists. And life-long friendships are founded on a mutual faith in spinach and buttermilk.

Practically the whole nation is on the sick list. And a man with a healthy appetite for rare beefsteak is regarded by his kind with suspicion and dislike.

Thus have synthetic gin, wooden alcohol, home brew, corn likker, Maryland rye, "swamp rum," needled beer, green Scotch and redenatured hair tonic dealt a solar plexus blow to the finest digestive organ in the world.

Big Whoopee has knocked the Grand Old American Stomach for a goal!

Our next war will be fought on a diet of milk toast and bicarbonate of soda.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Pharyingitis Common Though Not Serious

THERE are plenty of ailments which are not particularly serious, but which are capable of making you feel very unhappy. One of these is commonly called "preacher's sore throat."

DR. COPELAND

If this trouble were limited to the clergy, there would not be many cases. But since the most profane of men may also have it, it is pretty common.

The part of the throat back of the tongue is known as the pharynx. If you open your mouth widely in front of the mirror, you can see the back part of the throat. This is the pharynx.

Of course, when you look into the throat, you see the pendulous body hanging down, perhaps touching the base of the tongue. This is known as the uvula. On each side of the uvula are the tonsils.

Pharyngitis is really an inflammation of the mucous membrane covering the pharynx. It may be an acute condition or it may be a trouble which persists for weeks or months at a time. The latter condition is the one we speak of as "preacher's sore throat."

The symptoms of acute pharyngitis are quite definite. The throat feels irritated, and sore on swallowing. That's about the way you are treated the first day.

The first night there may be a little fever and restlessness. In consequence the sleep is somewhat disturbed.

The throat symptoms are worse the next day. The appetite is poor. You don't feel like work.

That night you have a very distressing experience. The throat feels raw and scraped. It seems as if the flesh were actually raw. There is an inclination to swallow all the time, and every time you swallow it hurts. Perhaps the pain runs up to the ears. You feel as if you didn't have a friend in the world.

But when you get up the next morning you will find your throat is beginning to feel better. After that you will sleep all right.

Almost invariably it is found that constipation is present. The first thing to do is to get the bowels open.

Sometimes the pain is revealed by applications of cold to the throat. A wet cloth wrung out of cold water will help a lot.

The chronic cases are more difficult to handle. The first thing to think of is the upbuilding of the health. Regular exercise, fresh air and sunlight are helpful.

There is no more irritating thing to a sensitive throat than exposure to dust or bad air. Free ventilation is essential.

If the patient is a smoker it will be well to reduce the amount of tobacco for a little while. In any event, do not stay in a smoke-filled room. Do the smoking out-of-doors where it will blow away and not come back to arritate the throat.

If there is obstruction of the nose, and nasal catarrh, it should be overcome. Many times the trouble with the pharynx is an extension downwards from the nose.

Answers to Health Queries

S. S. M. Q.—What can be done for varicose veins on the legs? I am only 25 years of age and this is very embarrassing?

A.—Keeping off the feet as much as possible and wearing an elastic stocking or bandage on the leg during the daytime should bring about improvement. Undue exertion will tend to increase the tension of the blood through the veins and aggravate the existing condition.

H. W. Q.—How can I prevent gas forming in the stomach after eating?

A.—Correct your diet and avoid constipation. For further particulars send self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

H. H. S. Q.—What do you advise for thin, dry hair?

N. Q.—Is it necessary to omit salt from the diet where this is a rheumatic tendency?

2.—Is four glasses of water and two glasses of milk taken daily too much fluid?

A.—No.

E. M. F. Q.—What should a girl weigh who is 14 years old and 5 feet 2 inches tall?

2.—What can be done for pimples?

A.—For your age and height you should weigh about 110 pounds.

2.—Correct the diet by cutting down on sugar, starches and coffee. Almost always constipation or at least sluggish bowel movements are present.

A. D. Q.—I have a little girl 11 years of age who has a bad case of nervousness—what would you advise?

A.—The child should be kept very quiet under the circumstances. A thorough examination will probably locate the source of the trouble and determine the necessary treatment.

M. B. Q.—What can be done for pimples and blackheads?

A.—The diet should be corrected and constipation overcome.

MARY R. Q.—What causes a pain in my right arm? It feels lame and I can hardly hold anything with it.

A.—This may be due to neuritis. The cause must first be removed before the trouble can be cleared up.

LOVE'S AWAKENING -:- -:- A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Marion Helps to Clear the Coast for a Family Conference.

WITH Katies' assurance of discretion in my ears, and clasping tightly the evidence of "Janet Rawdon's" identity which she had secured, I hurried to my room and put into my desk the things she had given me. I wished to show them to Lillian and Katherine and get their advice concerning my treatment of Mary's secret, but not until Prince Georges left, and I could be sure that Dicky's niece was safely out of earshot. Georges might leave at any minute and Mary come dashing up stairs.

As I came out into the hall again I saw Marion doing a little dance step outside her door.

"I'm celebrating, Auntie Madgie," she said. "My bag and suitcase are all packed to the last handkerchief. Every last tear has been mended and my room is in order. All I have to do in the packing line is to put my tennis racquet in its press tonight and I'll be ready to start at daylight tomorrow for school. Have you heard from—Uncle Dickey yet?"

I comprehended—and resented—her avoidance of her stepfather's name. But I was careful not to let her see my reaction.

"He hasn't telephoned today," I said. "I doubt that he will. He knows that we expect him and your stepfather for dinner tonight, so he probably will not phone unless something happens to delay them. Congratulations upon your efficiency! Do you mind if I take advantage of it? I'd like you to do something for me."

I lowered my voice, for the upper hall is an open one, and the outer doors downstairs I knew, were thrown wide to the autumn sunlight. It was possible for Mary and Georges to hear ordinary tones, although I doubted that they would pay attention to anything but their own conversation. But I was taking no risk of being overheard.

"You know I'd love to do anything for you, Auntie Madge," she said.

"Then as soon as Georges goes get Mary out to the tennis court. Keep her there until I come out to the court. After that it does not matter. And—forget that I asked you."

She nodded brightly. "Of course," she murmured. "As it happens, I was going to do that very little thing, anyhow. I shan't have a game with her again until spring and I want to see if I can beat her this afternoon. She's been winning all this week."

The veranda door opened and shut again and Marion danced over to a window.

"Georges is going now," she said. "I'll go down right away."

I waited until I saw her begin to play opposite Mary before summoning Katherine and Lillian to my room. As I locked the door Lillian struck one hand into the palm of the other.

"Ten to one Katie's uncovered the dope," she said.

"You'll have no takers," I told her. "Sit down and get ready to doff your best chapeau to our handmaiden, who assured me at two-minute intervals during our interview that she was a graduate of a 'detective correspondence school mit 20 lessons.'"

"And I wasn't there to hear!" Lillian lamented. "But hurry up and sweep the dust, Marge. Who is Janet Rawdon?"

"Mary herself—none other," I returned, smiling at their astonished faces. "She's been sending that money to herself at Southhampton and has an account in the bank there under the name of Janet Rawdon."

I outlined quickly the story Katie had told me and showed them the envelope and the bank deposit slip which had proved my little maid's story. Both Katherine and Lillian listened attentively, but Lillian cried out impatiently as soon as I had finished.

"In one way the mystery is deeper than ever," she said. "The spectre of a blackmailer has been laid, but why in the world does she want to pull a trick like that?"

"I think I know," Katherine said softly.

Household Hints

Stained piano keys should be washed with methylated spirit and polished with chamois leather.

Remember that new lamp wicks burn much better if first soaked in hot vinegar. When dry, dip in paraffin before passing through the burner.

Horoscope

Wednesday, June 19

ACCORDING to the stellar movements for this day there may be conflicting situations with some measure of difficulty, discord and duplicity to compose. It is probable that there will be waste and extravagance in pursuit of friendship, with little of worth in the way of reciprocity. Be on guard against treachery and conserve the funds. There may be news of the illness or misfortune of a friend.

Those whose birthday it is are at the brink of a year in which hard work and diligence may bring rewards, but otherwise there is sign of discord, treachery and friction in relations with friends, on whom there may also be extravagant outlay or loss of funds. Conserve the finances and make changes carefully. There may be illness or sickness of a friend.

A child born on this day may be industrious and steadfast, as well as ambitious and aspiring, but it may suffer in its friendships, through duplicity, craftiness and extravagance.

A friend that you have to buy won't be worth what you pay for him, no matter what that may be. —Prentice.

PUPILS STAGE HEALTH PLAY

Under supervision of Dr. Harry N. Burns, chief of the department of hygiene in the Board of Public Education, 8,000 school children will present a pageant, "The Pied Piper of Pittsburgh," at Forbes Field at 2 p. m. tomorrow. If it should be raining the performance will be postponed until the first day of fair weather.

All schools will close at noon to permit the pupils to attend. Attendance of 40,000 is expected. Admission will be free. Crippled and invalid children from institutions will be taken to the field in automobiles furnished by service clubs.

Banquet Arranged For Young Priest

A banquet in the Fort Pitt Hotel Sunday will honor the Rev. Thomas B. Harynak, first member of St. Matthew's Slovak Catholic Church, South Nineteenth and Mary streets, to be ordained to the priesthood. He will celebrate his first mass in the church Sunday morning. Speakers at the banquet will be Judge Frank P. Patterson, President of Council James F. Malone, Michael Bosak, president of the Slovak educational campaign and honorary president of the Jednota, and the Rev. G. D. Barlok, pastor of St. Matthew's Church.

Fashion Decrees Pink Panties For Men

PARIS, June 18.—(INS.)—The startling prophecy that men will soon be wearing pink ruffled panties is being made by some of the artists now showing their conceptions of future male fashions in an exhibition at the Manuel Freres gallery here.

Much louder and funnier raiment for the future is to be seen at this exhibit for men only.

B. & O. Abandons Bridgeport Trains

BRIDGEPORT, O. June 18.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's accommodation service between this point and Holloway will terminate July 1. The Ohio Public Utilities commission has granted the railroad authority to discontinue the trains after their trips on June 29.

Tarentum Boy's Body Recovered

The body of Harry C. Stewart, 14, of 2156 West Seventh street, Tarentum, was recovered late yesterday from the Allegheny river near that town, a few hours after the boy had been seized with cramps and drowned.

MORROW TALKS CHURCH ISSUE

MEXICO CITY, June 18.—(AP.)—United States Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, returning from his country home at Cuernavaca, made several calls yesterday on persons prominent in the negotiations for settlement of the dispute between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church.

He had talked separately on Saturday with both President Emilio Porter Gil and Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz.

No statement of the situation came from any source today, although the archbishop said he had asked for another conference with the President.

The date for the next conference of the President with the bishops still was unfixed, but the significant statement was made in official circles that something definite with regard to negotiations might be published this week.

First Aid Teams Meet at Coverdale

Fourteen teams of men, boys and girls will compete in a first aid contest on the athletic field at Coverdale at 6 p. m. today. They will be drawn from many sections of the Pittsburgh district. Judges will be officials of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation and representatives of the United States Bureau of Mines.

State Commander Will Visit Beaver

BEAVER, Pa., June 18.—Charles A. Gebert, of Tamaqua, Pa., commander of the Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion, will be given a reception Thursday evening in the high school auditorium by American Legion posts of Beaver, Butler and Lawrence counties. Preceding the reception there will be a parade.

Mrs. Hoover's Talk To 4-H Clubs Going on Air

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP.)—A radio hookup of 30 stations will carry the voice of Mrs. Herbert Hoover over the country next Saturday night when she will address a meeting here of 4-H boys' and girls' clubs from 40 states.

Her talk is to begin about 10:30 p. m. eastern standard time. She was invited to speak by the Secretary of agriculture, who announced Mrs. Hoover had consented because of her deep interest in youth.

South Side Schools Hold Annual Picnic

Pupils from the public schools of the Sixteenth Ward gathered at Kennywood Park today for their annual school picnic. Special cars transported the children to the park and free amusement tickets were provided. The children are from the Morse, Bane, Wickersham, Spring Lane, Brashear and Beck's Run schools. Norman T. McCoy is chairman of the outing committee.

Child Loses Legs Under Mine Motor

BERLIN, Pa., June 18.—Robert, 4-year-old son of Matthew Brown, of this place, lost both legs under the wheels of a mine motor car at the John O. Ream mines. He followed two older brothers to the mine and crawled up on the motor, which started down the grade. The child was thrown under the wheels.

Static Starts $100,000 Fire in Paper Mill

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., June 18.—(AP.)—Investigation of the fire which yesterday destroyed the plant of the Bloomsburg Paper Company three miles from here, has revealed that static electricity caused the $100,000 blaze. The electricity ignited oil, officials said.

The fire was the third to destroy the company's plant, the others having been in 1905 and 1922. The company manufactures kraft paper for use in wrappings and making of cheap rugs and waterproof cartridge paper.

Mary Eaton, Film Actress, Engaged

NEW YORK, June 18. — (INS.)—Mary Eaton, petite musical comedy star, and Millard Webb, movie director, are speeding westward today—engaged. Miss Eaton admitted the engagement just before she and Webb boarded the train which is to carry them to Hollywood, where Mary will act and Webb will direct in the filming of "Glorifying the American Girl."

Why Treat Corns Three Days?

Take them out in 3 minutes!

Shur-On, the wonderful new discovery in corn remedies, will remove the worst corn or callous in 3 minutes.

No other remedy is like it! Ends forever 3-day treatments and foot soaking. And it's positively guaranteed not to harm or irritate the healthy skin. Yet it softens old, tough corns so quickly that in 3 minutes you can take them out—root and all.

Why envy people with corn-free feet? Get a 50-cent bottle of Shur-On at Mayflower Drug Stores, or of any other good druggist and in just 3 minutes you'll be rid of that sore, aching corn or painful callous.

Get up to a Breakfast

Worth getting up for!

Who's a sleepy-head? Certainly no one who has a breakfast of Heinz Rice Flakes to look forward to. While you're dressing there's that vision of a bowl of those crispy, curly flakes toasted to a golden brown. And the flavor! Remember? But of course you do. Like nut-meats that have been shaved tissue-thin and roasted!

And even if Heinz Rice Flakes didn't have that wondrous flavor you'd be glad to eat them. Glad for the health they help to bring. Because they are made by a patented, Heinz process which transforms the natural roughage of the rice into a pure cellulose that acts as a gentle, natural laxative.

Worth getting up for? A thousand times yes—says the whole family!

With this new process* which deodorizes sanitary pads, self-consciousness disappears.

THROUGH a new discovery of Kotex scientists, each pad is scientifically treated to deodorize. The process is patented. No other pad offers such security Corners of Kotex are scientifically rounded and tapered so as to leave no evidence of sanitary protection. You easily adjust the layers of filler.

Yet every advantage remains

Nothing is like the softness and delicate protection of Cellucotton absorbent wadding. The identical material used by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals, it must be hygienically superior and thoroughly comfortable.

The fact that you can so easily dispose of it makes a great difference. And a new treatment renders it softer than you thought possible.

PRETTY YOUNG FACTORY GIRL FINDS RELIEF FROM PAIN

"I will always feel grateful in my heart," says Miss Branbak, McKeesport, Pa., "to the scientific men who have given World's Tonic to suffering people.

"Before I learned about World's Tonic I used to suffer terribly at intervals. I would have awful shooting pains across the small of my back and an ache in the top of my head that was like a hot iron pressing down on my brain. When I had these spells I could not go to work. This made it hard for me to hold a job. I tried lots of different medicines, but none of them did me any real good. By and by my girl friend told me how World's Tonic had helped her. She said the herbs in World's Tonic were gathered in their natural state and used that way. In compounding the medicine. This is why World's Tonic brings such amazing benefits. Other so-called remedies are often mere 'chemical extracts,' which cannot possibly retain kindly Nature's curative powers. When my next bad spell hit me I tried World's Tonic. I found it absolutely different from any remedy that I had ever used before. I was better from the first bottle. I continued taking it for a while longer because I wanted to get the complete effect of World's Tonic on my system. But I did not lose a day from my work. I was absolutely free from the terrible pains in my head and back and my whole system felt refreshed and cleansed.

"These bad spells don't bother me any more. I don't let them get started. At the first symptoms of one coming on, I take World's Tonic and that's the last of my trouble. I tell all my girl friends at the factory to keep World's Tonic on hand all the time. It has helped every girl who has used it."

World's Tonic is on sale at Dow's, formerly McCulloch's, also May's, and all other modern drug stores. (A-12)

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

By HAVEY J. BOYLE

AS a preface to a brief allusion to the radio announcers who work in Pittsburgh stations it may be interesting to remark what Pat Barnes, a Pittsburgh district boy who works out of Chicago on the air, said about radio announcing. Said Mr. Barnes between songs one evening:

"What we are moving to, I don't know, but that the present system of announcing in time will be as obsolete as the thin, cracked voice we used to hear on the cylindrical phonograph records saying: 'Good-by My Blue Bell, sung by Thomas O'Keefe, an Edison rek-kord, by the Edison Phonograph Companee, is most certain."

That specialists more and more invade the field seems also to be a good guess, for one always recalls Ring Lardner's criticism of a celebrated announcer. Mr. Lardner, sitting beside the broadcaster at a world series game, later wrote it was just like attending a double header. One saw the game on the field and one heard the game that the broadcaster was sending over the air. At any rate, no such criticism, I am told, can be made of our Pittsburgh announcers, who, through their personalities, have acquired large followings among what someone has nicknamed the invisible audience.

The Pittsburgh announcers are a varied collection. Louis Kaufman, whose voice has penetrated farthest north, busies himself with announcing when he is not looking up what happened in the case of Smith vs. Smith, for an opinion, or saying to a jury: "Now, gentlemen, before you retire let me be assured that in the confines of yonder room, you will ponder the lying face of that scoundrel who testified here, and that you will send this little woman back to the bosom of her kiddies. Pardon me, gentlemen, if I cry a little." Stephen Leyshon, and I don't ring this in as a contrast, for I like lawyers, is a church organist. Glenn Riggs puts in a full day, arranging programs. Walter Myers works a full shift in the William Penn Italian room.

R. P. Griffith specializes in stock market reports and baseball scores. For instance, if you are anxious about how linseed oil closed, Mr. Griffith is right on the trigger.

All these fellows are connected with KDKA.

AT WCAE there are C. A. Wakeman and Joe Villella. The former is a law student at Duquesne, who at one time carried what we experts called the pigskin for the Wilkinsburg High School team.

The latter is a former taxicab driver, this being a sentence where latter and former come dangerously close together.

Francis Owen at WJAS deserves a lot of space for he is a man of many arts. An extensive traveler, a novelist and a playwright, Mr. Owen has done those things that less energetic men promise themselves they'll try to do—when they find time. Howard B. Clark, at the same station, is what the headline writers would call a "local vet." He started with KQV, which is the second oldest licensed station in the world. Jim Hughes, a former vaudevillian and a minstrel man of distinction, also works out of WJAS.

AT KQV Ted Kaufman, a distant relative of Louis Kaufman, being a brother, covers night club broadcasts, while learning to strike a balance in the school of accounting at Pitt. He also is known as boss of the remotes, this being a technical term, to describe which the writer has neither the time nor space to do adequately. Suffice to say that a remote is a remote, a sort of a—but you get the general idea without any lengthy explanation here. It would probably be wrong anyway.

And now, ladies and gentlemen of the ralio audience (and I hope Aunt Agatha is listening in at New Kensington) we bring our program to a close with that every popular, ever melodious theme song of the station: "Try Old Ever-Shine to Polish Up That Scratched Furniture, Good Also For Restoring Hair."

PARKING BAN PROPOSED BY COUNCIL

Officials Consider Measures Making Many Changes in City's Traffic Regulations

Five ordinances authorizing changes in traffic rules will be considered today by Council in the public safety committee.

One measure would prohibit parking at any time on the west side of Logan street from Fifth to Bedford avenue; on the west side of Congress street from Fifth to Webster avenue; on both sides of Elm street from Fifth to Hazel avenue; on the west side of Elm street from Hazel to Bedford avenue; on the west side of Fernando street from Fifth to Wylie avenue; on the west side of Chatham street from Fifth avenue to Bigelow boulevard; on the north side of Epiphany street from Washington place to Elm street.

HOUR PARKING

Another ordinance would allow one-hour parking between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. on the east side of Logan street from Fifth to Bedford avenue; on the east side of Congress street from Fifth to Webster avenue; on the east side of Elm street from Hazel to Bedford avenue; on the east side of Fernando street from Fifth to Wylie avenue; on the east side of Chatham street from Fifth avenue to Bigelow boulevard; on the south side of Epiphany street from Elm street to Washington place.

A third ordinance would not allow parking at any time on the southerly side of Nobles Lane, Carrick, from Brownsville road to Trost avenue.

CARSON STREET BAN

Another bill would forbid parking at any time on both sides of Carson street from South Tenth to South Seventeenth streets.

The fifth ordinance would prohibit parking at any time on the northerly side of East North avenue from Federal street to Loraine street.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., June 18.—At the One Hundred and Thirty-fifth commencement of Williams College on June 24, five men from Pittsburgh and the vicinity will be among the graduating class. These Pittsburgh men about to become alumni are James Alexander Bell, of 808 Devonshire street; James Murdoch Henninger, of 715 South Aiwen avenue; Benjamin Jay Jarrett, Jr., of 720 Shady avenue; David Earle Robeson, of 4131 Bigelow boulevard, and John Knight Reeves, of Patterson Heights, Beaver Falls.

Jarrett has confined his activities to the cross-country team during his four years at college. He has been a consistent point gainer for his fraternity, Zeta Psi, in the inter-fraternity track meet, where he ran the 440 and 880-yard dashes.

DEMOCRATIC APPROVAL ALSO WON

Metro Plan Given Support By 2 More Organizations; Meetings Slated Tonight

From two sources today the Metropolitan Charter received indorsements that gave impetus to the drive to make Allegheny county a consolidated city.

The Metropolitan Commission announced that the charter had been indorsed by the Democratic organization, meeting in the Pittsburgher Hotel, and by the Allegheny County Association of Township Commissioners.

The action of the township commissioners was taken by resolution which "pledged all the association's resources, both moral and material, to the end that the Metropolitan charter be ratified."

ENDS ANNEXATION

The resolution recites that "under existing conditions in Allegheny County, the integrity and independence of each and every township in the county is continually meanced by the threat of annexation by a larger municpal unit." It states that this threat in many cases has become a reality "resulting in the loss of the richest and most productive portions of townships without any consideration for the remaining poorer sections."

The resolution states that the charter contains the "long-sought provision of security-freedom from annexation," but warns that the protective provisions contained in the constitutional amendment accepted last November guaranteeing to these townships their continued existence as such will not become effective unless this charter is approved.

BENEFIT TO ALL SEEN

Present at the Democratic meeting in the Pittsburgher Hotel when the charter was indorsed were County Chairman David L. Lawrence, Vice Chairman Mrs. J. Wood Clark, former County Commissioner James H. Houlahen, John J. Gallagher, Dr. Adam C. Davis and Martin S. Howley.

Another business executive today gave his support to the charter. He is George W. Ratcliffe, president of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company. In a statement he said:

"My belief is that the Metropolitan Charter will benefit all residents and prove to be of great advantage to every citizen in Allegheny County. The adoption of the charter would not mean that any city, borough or township in the county would be deprived of its constitutional rights, but rather this plan would develop a co-operation between these communities and assist in solving their problems.

"Only after a careful study of the provision of the proposed Metropolitan Charter is it possible to visualize the advantages a federated Pittsburgh will bring. To say I favor the proposal is expressing my attitude toward this important question in a mild way, as I can really see the possibilities for this great city of ours under the consolidation plan—and these lie not only along industrial lines, but all other activities as well.

"No one should fear for future developments should the Metropolitan Charter be indorsed. It is a great effort to effect the realization of these things which Pittsburgh is capable of securing.

"As one closely related to the industrial heart of the county, I have pictured a steady growth and development, and a bright future in this direction. As a resident, I can see civic co-operation coupled with many advantages, which time alone would bring about. As a voter and taxpayer, I realize what the benefits of a broadened city government and administration might be."

PAVING BIDS ARE SOUGHT

Mt. Lebanon Township commissioners at their semi-monthly meeting in the Washington School auditorium last night authorized the township engineer to advertise for bids for the improvement of several streets in the Beverly School plan. It will be a two-inch asphalt surface with an eight-inch concrete base. The streets to be improved are: Seneca, Markham, Altadena and Purchase drives and Audit way.

A delegation appeared before the body, urging the commissioners to act with the County Commissioners for the joint improvement of Cochran road, which is in need of widening and paving.

A petition was presented for the rezoning of a part of McFarland road from Dell avenue to Edwards street, so as to permit the erection of multiple dwellings. The petitioners desire to construct three large modern apartment buildings in that section, if it is rezoned.

Beats Dog With Strap, Given $10 Fine

Roy A. Crowder, 39, of 122 Virginia avenue, was fined $10 by Magistrate John J. Sweeney in South Side Police Court yesterday after it was testified that he beat his police dog with a strap.

Traffic Patrolman Walter Mullen, who arrested Crowder at his home on a charge of disorderly conduct, told how Crowder, while driving on Mt. Washington, got from behind the wheel of his automobile, and struck his dog with a strap when it refused to ride on the running board of the machine.

The officer also testified that when he attempted to reprimand Crowder for his actions he swerved his machine forcing the officer's automobile off the road.

Two Women, Man Hurt as Car Upsets

Two women and a man were slightly injured last night when their automobile overturned on Washington boulevard near Silver Lake. They were Walter Hayek, 40, of 4209 Dunkeld street; Mrs. Hayek, and Mrs. Louise Schneider, 30, of 363 South Negley avenue. After being treated at Pittsburgh Hospital they went to their homes.

BULLET-PROOF GLASS TESTED

Superintendent of Police Peter P. Walsh satisfied himself today that the windshields of the two bandit-chasing automobiles, which he hopes to secure for the city detective bureau, will be bullet-proof. He tested a piece of the glass to be used for the windshields by firing five shots from a 38-caliber revolver into the glass.

All five bullets struck the surface of the glass, cracked it, but failed to pierce or splinter it.

The bullet-proof glass for the test was furnished by H. H. Parker, of the American Window Glass Company. It is about one inch thick and is bullet-proofed by two layers of celluloid.

Walsh has asked city Council for two bullet-proof bandit-chasing cars, to cost approximately $6,000 each. One machine, he said, is to be used for cruising in the city 24 hours a day. Both machines will be equipped with shotguns and tear gas. To protect both front and rear tires from bandit bullets, they will be equipped with automatic, bullet-proof steel drops.

"We must protect our men against desperate bandits," Walsh explained. "We can do this only with absolutely bullet-proof automobiles. The sooner we get them, the better will be our chances to capture desperate gunmen."

MEMORIAL SITE IS SOUGHT

A tablet commemorating the success of the government in suppressing the Whisky Insurrection of 1794 to be erected by the Pennsylvania State Historical Commission is expected to be placed in the South Hills district. A survey of the scene of the activities of the insurrectionists is being made by direction of the commission and was discussed at a meeting here early this week.

Bower Hill, home of Gen. John Neville, internal revenue agent, situated between Mt. Lebanon and Woodville, was burned after a fatal skirmish between the insurrectionists and Neville's servants and representatives of the government, and it is considered probable that the historical marker will be erected on public property near this scene.

Several sites have been suggested including the Allegheny County Home property, St. Luke's churchyard at Woodville and a plot of ground on the Bower Hill road, Mt. Lebanon. In the event the Mt. Lebanon site is selected, it is pointed out that it will be necessary to donate the ground to the state.

West View Prominent in Struggle of Colonies

West View's civic pride went a few notches higher last night after Attorney John E. Winner, solicitor of Ross Township, finished sketching the history of that district from pre-Revolutionary war days.

Winner told a community meeting held by the Men's Brotherhood of St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church that George Washington had passed through what is now West View on his way to Fort LeBeouf in 1752, and that munitions of war for Commodore Perry were taken from Pittsburgh along the Franklin trail, now the Perry highway, enabling the famous naval officer to defeat the British and pen his immortal report, "We have met the enemy and they are ours."

Other incidents connected with the early history of the district were recounted by Winner, who comes of a pioneer family of Ross Township.

Dr. D. A. Atkinson, burgess of West View, gave an illustrated lecture on Western scenic points.

Will Rogers Says

BEVERLY HILLS, June 18. Ambassador Dawes arrived in England at 9 a. m., built a fire in his pipe at 9:15; met King George at 9:30 and told him Senate jokes until 10.

Refueled his pipe at 10:15, grabbed the Flying Scotchman and went to the Heelands to interview Ramsay MacDonald.

Reloaded pipe at own expense, also MacDonald's pipe. Decided the world should disarm at 5:30 p. m. Both refilled pipes from Dawes' auxilliary supply and went into huddle on World's Court. Settled World's Court and duty on smoking tobacco by 6 p. m.

Back to London same night and reported to Prince of Wales and Lady Astor; cabled Hoover for more tobacco and instructions as to how to put in his time from now on. Yours, WILL.

GRAND JURY APPROVES M'KEES ROCKS BRIDGE PLAN

JURORS HELD TO PASS ON PROJECTS

Ohio River Road to Come Before Group Ordered to Reassemble on July 18

To permit the starting of work late this summer on the Ohio River boulevard and several other big improvements provided for in the people's bond issue and approved by the County Commissioners, the June grand jury, instead of being discharged upon completion of all its other work yesterday, was ordered by Judge James B. Drew to reassemble July 18 to pass upon these matters.

The law requires that all public improvements be approved by the grand jury, and these projects had not advanced far enough for presentment to the jury yesterday.

A number of bridge and road matters were approved, however. These included:

Bridge over the Ohio River from Island avenue, McKees Rocks, to California avenue and Termon avenue, North Side. Judge Drew ordered the petition filed and granted 10 days in which exceptions may be filed. It is reported that a protest will be made against some of the provisions in the matter.

Approval was granted for the lengthening of culverts and widening of the Butler Plank road at County Bridges Nos. 12, 13 and 14, near Undercliffe. A bridge over Chartiers Creek near Boyce is to be rebuilt to a width of 60 feet and this was also approved.

The grand jury also approved the project for widening the Moss Side boulevard to 60 feet from the Wilmerding-Trafford City road to Wall, a distance of two and one-half miles, and the widening of the Allegheny River boulevard to 60 feet from the Washington boulevard to Verona, a distance of two miles, and approved the elimination of two curves on the Babcock boulevard near Keown Station.

PRESBYTERIANS PLAN PICNIC

The annual Sunday school and congregational picnic of the Bellevue Presbyterian Church will be held Friday afternoon at the chapel, Riverview Park. UNION LEADER OFFERS ALIBI IN RIOT

Denies Being Near Scene Of Milk Wagon Attack, Facing Contempt Charge

A decision was deferred by Judge Elder W. Marshall in the action of the Liberty Dairy Products Corporation to have Carmen DeRenzo, vice president of Local No. 306, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Drivers and Helpers of America, adjudged in contempt of court for violation of the injunction granted by the judge restraining interference with the production and delivery of milk in the strike of drivers and helpers of the corporation.

At the hearing before Judge Marshall in Common Pleas Court yesterday, the corporation offered evidence to show that De Renzo's automobile was found near the scene of the attack on Lee Collins, driver for the corporation, while making deliveries on Hazel drive, Mt. Lebanon, June 1. He was alleged to be a ringleader in the strike.

De Renzo testified that he became ill while attending a meeting of the union in the McGeah building the night of the attack and was taken to the home of a friend in Watson street. His alibi was supported by other witnesses. He said his car was parked adjoining the McGeah building and that members of the union were accustomed to use it at times.

RIVAL TAXICAB DRIVERS IN STREET WAR

Traffic Jammed for Half Hour As Yellows and Greens Battle for R. R. Business

A battle between drivers of the Yellow and Green taxicab companies to reach crowds arriving in Pittsburgh on an excursion train over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad early today kept police busy for half an hour before the tangle of traffic at Smithfield and Water streets was restored to normal.

Drivers for the Yellow company, which has the station stand, police said were surrounded by Green cabs which nosed their way toward the platform, only to be driven back when the Yellow drivers brought their machines into action.

Police reported that no damage was done and no arrests made.

LESS BUILDING, GREATER COST

Estimated building cost in Mt. Lebanon from January 1 to June 15 has increased 25 per cent for the same period last year, according to a report submitted to the township commissioners at their semi-monthly meeting held yesterday. Building Inspector George J. Irwin's report shows that last year's permits issued exceed this year's by three permits.

The estimated costs for the 272 permits issued are $3,438,854, as against last year's for the same period, $2,752,042.

These permits were issued: Dwellings, 189; apartments, 17; double houses, 16; duplexes, 3; business houses, 10; remodeling, 17; garages, 16, and temporary buildings, 4.

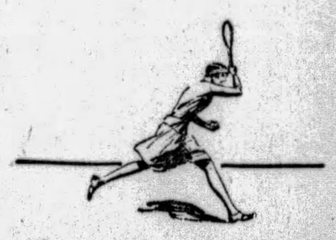
AMAZING DISCOVERIES

now make Hires

not only most delicious and vitalizing but also nourishing ... a beverage with 3 outstanding qualities

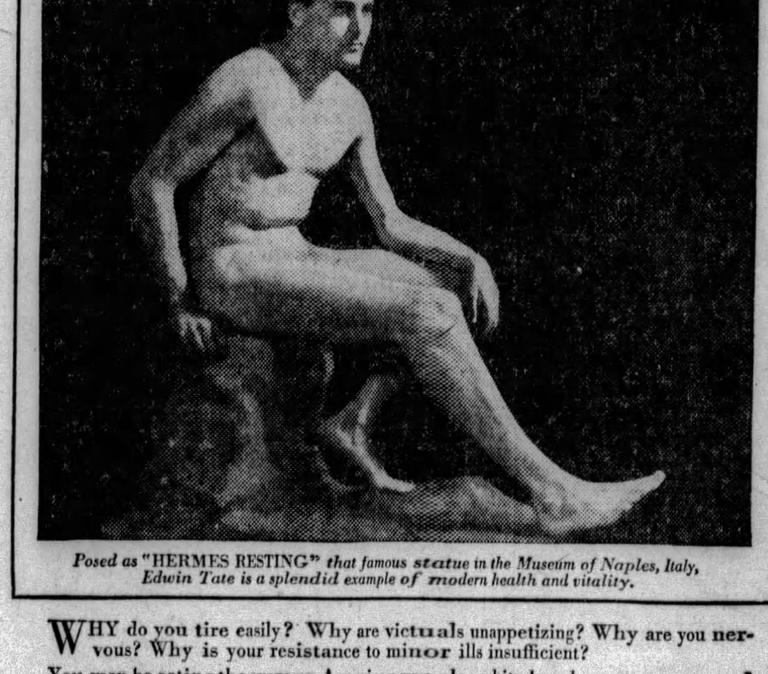


After costly research, nutrition experts give to Hires a third new and rare virtue. Famous for 50 years as appetizing and invigorating, now Hires also becomes nourishing, by addition of precious Vitamin B and Calcium.

The New Hires is now on sale at all soda fountains and from Hires Barrels.

Free from drugs—utterly pure—

Hires does not contain caffein, tannic acid or any other harmful or habit-forming drugs. No capsicum or red pepper to irritate the stomach. No artificial coloring or flavoring to hinder digestion. Hires is certified as pure by a leading research laboratory. No artificial stimulants. Hires is 100% natural, beneficial ingredients.



Posed as "HERMES RESTING" that famous statue in the Museum of Naples, Italy, Edwin Tate is a splendid example of modern health and vitality.

WHY do you tire easily? Why are victuals unappetizing? Why are you nervous? Why is your resistance to minor ills insufficient?

You may be eating the average American meals—white bread, meat, potatoes and over-cooked vegetables. But your diet may be unbalanced. Why?

Another answer is "not enough Calcium."

Costly research has found a way to include Vitamin B and Calcium with the 16 plant juices of Hires.

Such a delightful way to health! And certain—for Hires has been acknowledged as healthful for over 50 years. It is widely recommended by doctors and food experts. Yet it is far from a medicine. It is free from drugs.

Make this test: Stop at any soda fountain or Hires Barrel. Drink 3 glasses of Hires daily for a month. Then note your health.

1,400 ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS OPEN CONVENTION HERE

HUGE EXHIBIT FEATURE OF MEETING

Biggest Industrial Exposition To Draw Thousands of Visitors; Show Radio Train

Drawing 80 per cent of the buying power of the industry here, the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Association of Iron and Steel Electrical Engineers began its official sessions today in the William Penn Hotel.

More than 1,400 delegates are registered for the event, which features the largest trade exposition of its kind, the latter expected to draw 10,000 visitors during the week. The 217 exhibitors are occupying 40,000 square feet on the seventeenth floor, in the Pirate Hall and in lower floor lobby of the hotel. It was necessary to lay more than 17 miles of power lines to serve the working exhibits.

Breakfast opened today's program, at which members of all divisions—electrical, combustion and safety—attended. F. W. Cramer, of Youngstown, slated as the next president of the organization, presided at the electrical engineering sessions opening at 9:30 o'clock. Papers were read by F. D. Egan, of Lackawanna, N. Y.; George H. Schaeffer, Reading, and Walter H. Burr, Coatesville, Pa.

At a second morning session, Martin J. Conway, of Coatesville, presided before the combustion engineers, who heard papers by L. C. Edgar, of Braddock; H. G. Ebdon, New York, and R. E. Hall, Pittsburgh. A special program has been arranged for the afternoon for the women visitors, a bridge luncheon being held in the Keystone Athletic Club.

The convention formally opened last night with the demonstration of a voice controlled miniature locomotive in the hotel lobby. The commands to this latest development were given by James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, who spoke over the telephone from New York to Station WCAE which broadcast the words to the hotel. Hundreds witnessed the demonstration which was in charge of J. P. Smith, of Schenectady, who helped develop the invention.

FLORAL MARKET OPENED

A garden spot in the shadows of downtown skyscrappers transforms William Penn way, between Sixth avenue and Strawberry way, as leaders in Pittsburgh social and civic life today are staging the annual flower market under auspices of the Civic Club of Allegheny County.

Huge palms fringe the Sixth avenue entrance into a square of colorful booths from which flowers and novelties, ballons and refreshments are being sold. One of the features is a Bohemian Court where, under the shade of huge umbrellas, visitors are served refreshments.

"All in a Garden Fair", a pageant, is another feature in which a score of society girls and young matrons are posing this afternoon in "living pictures."

HURT BY AUTO, $75,000 ASKED

Alleging he will be hopelessly crippled for life because of injuries in an automobile collision, Harry L. Kirkpatrick, of Pittsburgh, filed suit against Elmer Teyssier, of Pittsburgh, in Common Pleas Court, asking $75,000 damages. Kirkpatrick alleged that Teyssier, driving recklessly and at high speed on a slippery street, lost control of his car on a curve at Brighton road, near Island avenue, early February 3, last, and crashed into the car Kirkpatrick was driving in the opposite direction. Kirkpatrick alleged both hips were broken and that he suffered other serious and permanent injuries, that he is still confined to bed in St. John's Hospital and that two operations have been performed and others will be necessary.

FREE CIRCUS TO BE ATTRACTION AT FROLIC

Kennywood to Stage Many Features for Children's Annual Outing July 3

One of the big free attractions that boys and girls from the Pittsburgh district will enjoy at the Sun-Telegraph picnic at Kennywood Park July 3 will be the circus, where the sensational Jacks will entertain the gathering.

During this season, the management of Kennywood Park will present outdoor circus exhibitions every afternoon and evening. These attractions are made up of the outstanding feature acts of European and American circuses.

A colossal combination of the biggest and best in circus achievement will be shown to these children who are visiting Kennywood Park as the guests of the Sun-Telegraph.

The circus is typical of American life. It has nervous energy, tremendous growth, and imposing feature. Nothing of an amusing nature has ever been invented by man which so generally appeals to the children of today as the circus.

There will be other interesting features staged for the benefit of visitors at the park July 3, and every boy and girl in the city should be at Kennywood to see them.

Everyone under 16 years of age is invited, and all the major features of the park will be open to guests of the day, without charge.

RAIN NO BAR TO PICNIC

The showers and threatening weather yesterday did not stop the merriment of the hundreds of Mt. Lebanon school children at their annual picnic held in Kennywood Park. The community affair was held under the auspices of the Mt. Lebanon Chamber of Commerce. All of the business houses in the township closed their doors at noon.

The children left in special street cars early in the morning and were given amusement and refreshment tickets by members of the chamber. They returned at 9 o'clock in the evening.

15th Ward Property Offered to Council

A used car that paid for itself in one summer

A MAN who bought a camp in the woods last summer said that he and his wife decided not to take their new car with them. "We had seen too many beautiful cars hurt by the rough treatment they get at camp."

They bought a sturdy but very inexpensive used car. "Aside from the great convenience of having a car in the city and another car in the country," he said, "we figure that the used car paid for itself in saving wear and tear on our new car."

In selling more than a million and a half new cars every year, General Motors dealers accept many used cars in trade.

Every one is unused transportation and represents a real bargain for somebody.

General Motors urges its dealers to move their used cars quickly, at fair prices, and in a way to build public good will. It cooperates with them by providing the convenient GMAC Payment Plan for both new car and used car sales.

"IS ZAT SO?" AT PITT SCORES ANOTHER KNOCKOUT IN PRIZE RING COMEDY

By GEORGE SEIBEL

WITH the thermometer way up town and fur dealers paying visits of condolence to the coal man, the Humane Society really should have stopped the bout between Chick Cowan and John Duffy at the Pitt Theater last night. It comes at the close of the second act in the comedy, "Is Zat So?" and is as fast and furious a mill as you could ask. Aside from a latent concern for the symmetry of each other's countenances, excusable in view of the fact that they have to fight seven more rounds in the course of the week, it was a rattling good event. Another knockout was scored by George Sharp's Players, who have made the Pitt Theater look like its old self with old-time audiences since the summer stock season began.

George Seibel

"Is Zat So?" is described as a pugilistic comedy. The authors, James Gleason and Richard Taber, hit upon the idea, worthy of Clyde Fitch, of building their comedy around a boxing bout in a Fifth Avenue parlor. This they have embroidered with all the picturesque slang of the prize-ring, and set it in the midst of a good old melodramatic plot—and the result is tense interest with frequent bursts of laughter.

There is an opening scene in which the prizefighter and his manager, both down and out, are "telling each other" on a park bench, till the drunken scion of the rich family takes them home because he wants to go in training to get even with somebody.

THAT STARTS THE COMEDY

As soon as the slangy pair have been installed in the Fifth Avenue mansion as butler and footman, the fun starts.

Of course the prizefighter, played with domeless naturalness by Robert Lowes, meets the charming nurse whose sprained ankle made him forfeit the last fight—and as Brown Mehard played the nurse the audience could not blame Chick.

And of course the prizefighter's manager, played with punch by Kenneth Daignau, takes lessons in grammatical English from the pretty stenog-rapher—and as Pauline MacLean was the stenog, the audience excused his slow progress.

Robert Fiske did a fine drunken scene, Mabel Kroman irradiated the part of the society dame, Gus A. Forbes had some happy moments when as referee he was nearly knocked out in the prizefight, Willard E. Mead also contributed some alcoholic effervencense, and Hermann Foraman was a natural boy who really should have been a stowaway at the ringside. How came the authors to miss that?

PUNCH THE RIGHT MAN

Everything ends satisfactorily, as the scoundrelly Robert Parker, played by Charleton Young, gets "socked in the jaw," "poked in the nose," and otherwise penalized for all his scoundrelly tricks.

It's a complicated plot, well put together, not easy to believe, but full of humor. As a demonstration of the lost art of conversation, it is all there. Irony, scorn, defiance, bravado, chagrin, and a score of other passions and sentiments are all condensed in the phrase "Is Zat So?"

The correct answer to which is, "Yes, Zat's So."

As usual the company had been keyed to perfection, and things went smoothly for the opening night. But our sympathies go out to Messrs. Daigneau and Lowes, who leave a cool bench in the park to enter domestic service in a Fifth Avenue Mansion, and to Spike Griffo, who has to take punishment in the hot mill at the same address with Lowes.

Everybody wonders which'll draw first blood.

ALDINE GETS FIRST FILM 'FOLLIES'

By CLARENCE E. GRUNDISH

The Ziegfeldian gesture of William Fox, titled "The Fox Movietone Follies of 1929," fills the screen in the Aldine this week. It offers eyefuls of dancing maidens and earfuls of tuneful melodies. Yet, after its hour and a half spends itself, you may wonder at all the advance noise the Fox people made about it.

The picture presents a little story. Between the progress of a big revue in action, a youngster and a girl have a rocky romance. The boy comes from the South to persuade his girl to leave the show business and marry him. "What of my career," she says, with one of those heroic movie poses, and refuses to quit her job. So the boy friend buys out the show and "fires" her. However, before the opening night is over—what, with creditors and a temperamental leading woman!—he is glad his little girl insisted on a two-weeks' notice.

A STEPPING STEPIN

Everything moves along at a pretty neat pace. Girls dance and sing while the camera lens travels upwards—from stepping feet to smiling faces. Stepin Fetchit, the Negro comic, makes comedy whoopee in backstage shots and before the silken drapes. He is seen as a theater porter. The head porter, he announces. The only porter, to be exact. He spends his time kicking some neat steps and returning the ballet slippers to an irate creditor. And how he returns them! A hamperfull of them on Mr. Creditor's head.

Incidentally, this Stepin is the real star of the picture. He outshines all the other entertainers. And there are quite a lot of them, including Lola Lane, Sharon Lynn, Sue Carol, David Rollins and De Witt Jennings.

UNDERSEA COLOR

There is one episode done in color. In it some attractive maidens, almost as sparsely clad as in a Shubert revue, cavort about in an undersea atmosphere. It is quite elaborate; and beautiful, in a way. But the machine that regulates the lighting effects must have gone temperamental during its filming.

Song numbers that come easy into the ears are "That's My Baby" and "Walking With Susie." Then there's a combination song and dance number, "The Breakaway," or some such, that is peppy and catchy.

Boys Recover Body After Divers Fail

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., June 18.—After divers had failed in an all-night search, boys swimming in the Connoquenessing Creek at Rock Point, today found the body of John Pearson, 19, of Rock Point. He had been missing from home since Sunday night. When his clothing was found on a rock overlooking the creek, the stream was dragged.

KISSER

Grand Retains Movie Deluge

"Noah's Ark," sound photoplay combining war and flood, is being continued for a second week in the Grand. The picture story is told in two episodes. There is a modern romance concerning an American doughboy and a German girl, and an ancient romance that involves Japheth, son of Noah, and his betrothed, Miriam. George O'Brien and Dolores Costello have the leading roles. Noah Beery is prominent as a villain. Myrna Loy has one of the lesser roles. Thousands of extras try to escape the seething waters in the flood sequences.

MUSICAL COMEDY STAR MAKES FILM DEBUT IN PENN SCREEN FEATURE

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

"THE Rainbow Man," talkie with singing by Eddie Dowling, feature on the Penn screen, reveals that, in Dowling, recruited from the musical comedy stage and making his film debut, the regular movie actors have another rival to worry about. Eddie's personality "gets across" on the screen as well as on the stage and his singing voice is just as pleasing "canned" as otherwise—a voice that audiences like to hear.

"The Rainbow Man" is a little story of an actor's love for a country girl he meets in his journeys around the country and for a little orphan boy, son of another actor, friend of "Rainbow" Ryan, the character played by Dowling. It has its little touches of wholesome comedy, a measure of pathos here and there, and proves to be quite satisfactory entertainment until the closing scene, when it becomes maudlin and foolish, with "Rainbow," before a theater audience, asking the forgiveness of the girl he loves for having heroically deserted her for her own good and that of the youngster.

DOWLING AND BOY SING

The dialogue and songs are well reproduced, the latter including "The Rainbow Man," "Little Pal," and a theme song. Both Dowling and the boy sing.

Dowling plays his role with a fine conception of humor and sentiment, but must take some of the blame for the hokum of the silly finale, since he wrote the piece himself. Marian Nixon is pleasing as the girl, and Frankie Darrow, boy actor, does excellent work, as he usually does. Sam Hardy and Lloyd Ingraham are prominent in character roles.

Wesley Eddy doesn't do much in the stage presentation—but he doesn't have to. He has got his audiences at that stage of admiration at which a mere movement of his hand brings forth gales of laughter. So his bit of violin playing, including teasing the instrument while holding it upside down with the bow on the floor, and a song about "walking back," are applauded more loudly than anything in the show, titled "Seashore Follies."

DANCING TWINS IN BILL

The acts of Prosper & Maret, hand balancers; Ed and Morton Beck, singing comedians; the Darling Twins, cute and capable dancers, stepping as one, and the dancing of the ensemble, are very well received.

Elias Breeskin plays "The Last Rose of Summer" as a pleasing violin solo in the orchestral overture, which groups that "rose" with three others, "Roses of Picardy," "Moonlight and Roses" and "Sunshine and Roses."

Dick Leibert's organlogue takes graduation as its theme and gives the audience "tests" in singing.

Parked Autos Bring Protests

Property owners have complained to Council of automobile agencies that obstruct South St. Clair street, Euclare alley and Friendship avenue with parked machines.

Sheridan Star Vic. McLaglen

Victor McLaglen is featured in "The Black Watch," current in the Sheridan Square. His role, though a military one, is as different from that of his captain in "What Price Glory." Myrna Loy is the leading woman. The plot revolves about the two with a background in India to heighten their love duel. It is in dialogue. Mitchell Lewis, Lumsden Hare, David Rollins and Roy D'Arcy are in the cast. Short talking features include "Jed's Vacation," a comedy, Born and Lawrence, Pathe Sound Review and other films.

Enright Film Has Talk, Blue

Monte Blue talks and grows a beard in "From Headquarters," current photoplay in the Enright. Of course, Monte shaves himself a bit before the happy fadeout. The star appears as an adventurer, also embezzler and a deserter from the United States Marine Corps. Down in the tropics somewhere he meets up with the Marines again and has a rather hectic time of it. The cast includes Guinn Williams and Gladys Brockwell.

Dick Powell, popular master of ceremonies, presents "Keep Cool" as his new show. And again he finds time to take his glittering megaphone in hand and croon another song to the audiences. The show offers a half-dozen or so featured entertainers and some scenic effects that win applause. Three Japanese performers put on a novelty act. Then there's a rotund fellow and a little blonde miss who wrestle toy balloons and engage in other humorous efforts. A couple of roller skaters also whirl about. The Enright Rockets dance.

First Child Born In Vatican State

VATICAN CITY, June 18.—(AP.)—Tommaso La Bella's son is the first citizen of the new Papal state by right of birth. The new father is a Papal servant.

MUSICAL

India and War In Harris Film

"The Black Watch," picture of war and adventure, is current in the Harris. It is a talk film, based on Talbot Mundy's story. "King of the Kyber Rifles." Victor McLaglen, as the star, has the role of Captain King, a British soldier, detailed to avert a Holy War in India. In the averting he runs into a lot of adventure and meets up with a heathen charmer, played by Myrna Loy.

McLaglen doesn't make a very great impression as a talking star. And the vamping Myrna is not as keen with her wiles and tricks as she has been in previous pictures. Others in the cast include Roy D'Arcy, who makes his teeth as prominent as ever, and Walter Long, who sounds like some carnival barker every time he opens his mouth.

The story of "The Black Watch" holds interest and there is some good photography. Incidentally, the scene that shows a famous Scottish regiment entrain for the war is keenly done. It would have been near a masterpiece if the director hadn't allowed himself to get sloppy with a little girl's parting from her daddy.

Entertaining screen shorts are on the bill.

FILMLAND.

MYRNA LOY'S KISSES IN STANLEY

If there is anybody masculine in "The Squall," the talking picture in the Stanley this week, that doesn't get a share of Myrna Loy's kisses, the gentleman has been overlooked. Myrna is a gypsy, her name is Nubi, and her eyes won't behave. She wants what she wants when she wants it, and she gets it while the getting is good. She is blown into a blissful Hungarian household during a squall—hence the title—and the squall isn't over until she is blown out again. Meantime Alice Joyce has a hard time looking mournful and praying to heavenly powers for comfort.

IT IS TRULY RURAL

All sorts of livestock wanders across the range of the camera when Myrna isn't kissing. Ducks and geese, cows and goats, everything but the unpoetic pig, is represented. These rural scenes are among the best that have ever been screened, and while they are being reeled off to the accompaniment of the "Kuhreigen," the audience might think it was a Barbizon with Rousseau and Troyon, "The Squall" is as good as a vacation in the country — with the anatomical Myrna kissing some rural swain behind every haymow. Someone ought to pass a law against haymows and theme songs. They lead to no good.

BROUDY IS MISSING

The stage show, even with Broudy's orchestra gone, was very attractive. "In California" proved to be scenically the most attractive exhibition ever put on in the Stanley. It makes you feel like climbing up on the stage and picking your own oranges. This reference is to the fruit-laden boughs of the grove in which the stage orchestra is embowered, not to the luscious ladies of the chorus, nor to the Williams Sisters powdered with suntan, who, of course, sang "Sam the Accordion Man." Mills and Shea also proved a hit with their dancing somersaults, and Charlie Melson sang well with Madelyn Killeen.

Claims Damage by Policeman's Bullet

S. J. Purkiss of 1100 Lincoln avenue, has filed with Council a claim for $35 damages suffered to his house by a bullet fired by a policeman pursuing a suspected criminal. The bullet glanced off the cement floor of the porch, broke two window panes, damaged the shades and curtains.

REGAINS HEALTH; ILL 35 YEARS!

Local Lady Says New Medicine, Ten Herbs, Gave Amazing Results.

More and more men and women of this section report that the famous new herbal compound, Ten Herbs, gave them amazing relief from such health troubles as chronic stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders. Thousands of local residents have found Ten Herbs to be the proper medicine when these organs are not working as Nature intended, and for rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. No wonder so many words of praise for Ten Herbs are heard at May's Main Store, Fifth and Liberty, Pittsburgh, where this popular preparation with the ten wonderful natural ingredients is being introduced.

MRS. H. C. EDMISTON

"It was a fortunate day for me when I started using Ten Herbs, for it proved a godsend," said Mrs. H. C. Edmiston, 232 Isabelle Street, North Side, Pittsburgh. "I had been unable to do my housework. I would be in bed one day and out of bed the next. This condition existed for 35 years. I suffered from neuralgia, indigestion and nervousness, and was also bothered with constipation. My stomach was so badly disordered that I had heartburn and a terrible bloated feeling. At times gas formed around my heart, causing pains and palpitation, and this caused awful weak spells and shortness of breath. I had terrible bilious attacks, dizzy spells and nervousness, and could not sleep well. The pains across my back felt like the thrust of a knife. I had to take physics about every other day because of constipation. I tried about every kind of medicine I had ever heard of, but got no results.

"After taking four bottles of Ten Herbs, I felt better than I had for 35 years. My digestion was greatly improved, and I became free of that bloated feeling, pains around my heart, palpitation and shortness of breath. I was relieved of the terrible bilious attacks, dizzy spells and nervousness. The awful pains across my back disappeared, and constipation was corrected. I was no longer troubled with sleeplessness. I gladly recommend Ten Herbs to others—it is the most wonderful medicine I have ever used."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at May's Main Store, Fifth and Liberty, Pittsburgh, and is sold at all May's Drug Stores.

Umpire Rule Helps Game.
Secret Reports Unfair.
Kremer Back in Form.
Hafey's Hard-Hitting.
A's Lose Two Straight.
Ruffing Ends Streak.

BARTELL MAKES BUCS LOOK NATURAL

WHETHER or not President Barney Dreyfuss, of the Pirates in questioning the justice of a fine of $50 imposed upon Manager Donie Bush, gains anything by his action in demanding a copy of the report made by Umpire Bob Hart on what occurred after Hart called Eddie Roush safe at third base in the fourteenth inning of last Saturday's game here, the mere fact that it is possible for him to make such a demand shows that a great change for the better has taken place in baseball conditions.

John A. Heydler

Previously an umpire made a report on an argument with a player or a manager, and that's all there was to it. That ended it. John A. Heydler, president of the National League, could fine or suspend the player or manager without telling the penalized man or his employer what the umpire had charged in his report.

The injustice of the system, making it possible for an umpire to exaggerate, or even to send unfounded allegations to headquarters, without the accused player or pilot ever being given a chance to defend himself, or to learn what had been charged against him, finally dawned upon the magnates of the senior circuit and last year they adopted a resolution requiring the league chief to furnish upon demand a copy of the umpire's report in the case of any fined or suspended man.

OF course, there can be no changing of Hart's decision nor of the result of the game. The decision and the Pirate defeat will stand, as it was a ruling involving only a question of judgment and in all such cases the umpire's judgment is final and games cannot be protested from that angle.

But it will be interesting to learn what Hart has to say in his own defense for what many of the spectators at Saturday's game pronounce the worst decision they have seen given by an umpire in many years, or how he figures that Bush did not have a strong kick coming by reason of an umpire's blunder that probably cost his club an important ball game.

PRESIDENT HEYDLER himself did not show the best of judgment in failing to send his best umpires here for the most important series being played in the league at the time.

The staff could stand considerable improvement. Major league baseball itself has gone back quite a distance since the World War, and National League umpiring has gone back even farther.

Branch Rickey

THE reported pending appointment of Max Carey to succeed Jack Hendricks as manager of the Cincinnati club, and the rumor that Russell Blackburne sooner or later will be deposed as pilot of the Chicago Americans, are not the only managerial changes under consideration, it is said. The latest is that Branch Rickey may become manager of the Boston Nationals. Friends of the Cardinal vice president and former manager are reported to have approached President Emil Fuchs on his behalf, and it is said that Rickey will be found willing to accept if the financial terms are satisfactory. Rickey went to the Cardinals from the St. Louis Americans. He managed the Cards from 1919, succeeding Jack Hendricks, until May 30, 1925.

HAD the Cubs, instead of the Cards, won yesterday's game in Chicago, the Pirates would have regained first place in the National League pennant race, but even as it is they are only two points behind the leaders and that slight difference is due to the fact that the Redbirds have played three games more than the locals, up to today.

Even though Cincinnati errors aided the Bucs in scoring both of their runs, Remy Kremer clearly earned the victory by outpitching Jake May and Red Kolp, never allowing more than one hit per inning and holding the Reds runless until the ninth. Kremer's splendid form shows how hard the Bucs were hit last week through being deprived of his services just after he had swung into his stride, and when Larry French also was out of commission.

THOUGH Charley Hargreaves still is off duty and French may be weak for a short time after his attack of grip, the Bucs are beginning to look normal again with Dick Bartell back on the job at shortstop.

Chick Hafey

The loss of Bartell for more than a week was a severe one, and if he had been in the lineup the club probably would have made a better record against Brooklyn and New York. Even now he is not at his best, and is not yet hitting up to form, but his pepper alone will help the team pending a complete recovery from his injury.

CHICK HAFEY, Cardinal slugger, became the top home-run hitter in the National League and tied with Lou Gehrig, of the Yankees, for the leadership of both major loops up to today, when he crashed out his seventeenth four-baser of the season in yesterday's game with the Cubs. It was said in the old days that any player who found it necessary to wear glasses never could become a real hitter in baseball; that perfect vision was required for success in the batting department. Yet Hafey has been wearing spectacles all season, and that they have helped his hitting is shown conclusively by his record.

FROM the beginning of the campaign Chick has been one of the most consistent sluggers in the majors, and if he maintains his present pace he may give all rival sock specialists a hard run for the year's honors.

Moreover, Hafey has improved in the respect that he no longer confines his drives to the port side. Formerly he was almost exclusively a left-field hitter, but he is now driving them to center and right, in addition. Unlike Babe Ruth, who hoists the ball with an CINCINNATI, June 18.—Now that Remy Kremer has reached the form that made him one of the leading pitchers of the game over a three-year period, the Pirates are more optimistic. Kremer today is feeling great over his best performance of the season, his slab classic of yesterday gaining him a 2-1 victory over the Reds.

The Cardinal success in Chicago was all that kept the Pirates from moving in to first place, but the Buccos are not one whit discouraged. They were all set this morning for the fourth game of the series with the skidding Reds.

BRAME READY

Manager Bush will call upon Ervin Brame for slab duty this afternoon. Brame worked only a short part of the now historic battle at Forbes Field Saturday and should be O. K. for another shot at the slab job. Brame owns five triumphs without a defeat. Red Lucas is due to ling for the last placers.

Monsieur Kremer's pitching in the third clash with the Reds had a fine effect on the poise of the Pirates. Kremer had a foeman worthy of his steel through seven rounds in Jakie May, but Frenchy had the edge on his southpaw rival. Each team made six hits, the Pirates getting their last blow off Ray Kolp.

The cross-word puzzle expert of the Pittsburgh club solved every form of attack sent out by the Rhinelanders through eight rounds, the home boys making their lone tally in the ninth when they really had the Buccos scared.

SCORE IN NINTH

Remy was ursing his two tallies carefully as Pid Purdy opened the last half of the final round. Purdy found one just right for three sacks and he rested at third for further instructions after hitting a peach of a drive down the right field marker. He sprinted over the plate on Pittenger's fly to P. Waner.

Kremer sized up the situation; the bases were cleared and only two more out to be recorded before the victory was clinched. Catcher Clyde Sukeforth, a fleet runner hit a grounder to Dick Bartell, Dick made a neat pickup but his throw pulled Sheely off the bag and the tying run was on. Johnny Gooch batted for Kolp, but Traynor grabbed his ripping grounder and in another moment put a double play in motion to end the contest.

It's a cold day when the Waner boys fail to have something important to do with a Bucco success—and yesterday was extremely hot. Brother Lloyd scored the first tally in the opening inning, the right field member of the family putting over the winning run in the fifth.

RED MISCUES COSTLY

Boots Grantham figured prominently in both of the Pittsburgh tallies. It was Grantham's smash that Critz fumbled in the first to open the gate at the plate for Lloyd Waner, while Boots, with two out

P. Waner Holds Own in Big Six Race

The Big Six had a very light afternoon yesterday both in the amount of work scheduled and the amount of hitting done. Only Jimmy Foxx, Paul Waner and Rogers Hornsby were scheduled. Foxx and Hornsby lost ground, the former getting one hit in four attempts and the latter none in two official trips to the plate. The leader slipped to .406, a loss of three points, while Hornsby dropped from .327 to .323. Paul Waner held to his mark, .333, by hitting once in three tries.

SMITH, COHEN DRAW

KANSAS CITY, June 18.—(AP.)—Steve Smith, Bridgeport, Conn., and Mickey Cohen, Denver, Col., battled to a draw in a 10-round bout here last night. They are featherweights.

BRACEY FAILS TO SET MARK

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP.)—The long suffering record for the 700-yard dash was spared further abuse in the big benefit track field meet at the Yankee Stadium yesterday but the classic mark for the one-mile run had only the narrowest of escapes.

Shortly before Claude Bracey, the Texan, trimmed Eddie Tolan of the University of Michigan in a 9 4-5 100-yard dash, young Leo Lermond of the Boston A. A. reeled off America's fastest outdoor mile turned in since away back in 1915 and the second fastest ever recorded in this country. He ran it in 4:13.

Bracey, the Rice Institute flier, and Tolan, the pair who ran one-two behind George Simpson in his now famous "9-2" century, and who have both been timed in 9⅕ seconds fought a memorable sprinting duel and proved to be the class of a good field. They finished an inch or so apart, ahead of Karl Wildermuth, Georgetown, and Pete Bowen, of Pitt.

DICK AND JOE STAR PAIR

CINCINNATI, June 18.—It is quite a tribute to any 21-year-old boy to say of him that he changes the complexion of a major league flag contender, but this may be said of Dick Bartell, and who can successfully refute the statement?

The Pirates seem to take on new zip as soon as Bartell goes to his position. His incessant chatter, for one thing, peps up a club that has little racket among its regular members.

FULL OF LIFE

A prototype of Bartell is Joe Cronin, now the regular shortstop for the Washington club. Like Bartell, Cronin bubbles over with life and both know what is good for them off the field.

Singularly enough these two school boys of the San Francisco district were discovered by explorer Joe Devine. The two native sons didn't cost the Pittsburgh management one penny, yet there are quite a few $50,000 performers in the league who could not begin to fill their places.

A lot of wise baseball men would have shaken their heads negatively if, when Cronin was passed to Kansas City by the Pirates, somebody had suggested that Cronin would soon be playing shortstop for a big league club.

BOTH HAVE SPIRIT

Cronin and Bartell both have several assets that go hand in hand with major league play. Both are blessed with natural ability, they have good arms and they are strong kids. But the greatest requisite in the makeup of Joe and Dick is spirit.

Cronin was yanked out of a tense ball game here in Cincinnati while he was with the Pirates. He was throwing poorly and was derricked. This sort of thing might discourage a boy with qualities different from those possessed by Joe, but although Cronin felt the incident most keenly he refused to let it have any serious effect on him.

MUSHY BEATEN BY GOODRICH

BUFFALO, June 18.—(AP.)—Jimmy Goodrich, former lightweight champion, last night gave Mushy Callahan, N. B. A. junior lightweight champion, a decisive defeat in 15 rounds. The title was not at stake, as both came in at 144 pounds.

GRID CAPTAIN DIES OF HURTS

MEADVILLE, Pa., June 18.—(AP.)—Ronald A. McKay, 21, of Charleroi, captain-elect of the Allegheny College football team for 1929, died in a hospital yesterday of injuries suffered in an automobile accident Saturday night near here.

McKay was quarterback on the 1928 football team. He was a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

HOW LLOYD HITS 'EM

WRIST HITTER

CONSISTENT

Lloyd Waner has gone hitless in only seven games out of 54 this season and has had hitting streaks of 11, 10 and nine consecutive games. He has had six hits in one game, four in another and five times has connected for three safeties. Last Saturday he made six hits in seven times at bat against the Giants, and, in the first game at Cincinnati on Sunday, he collected four more.

REFEREE HALTS BOUT AT END OF EIGHTH

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

Baltimore Joe Dundee, welterweight champion of the world, announced when he was signed to box Billy Alger, of Phoenix, Ariz., in the main bout at the Meyers Bowl, North Braddock, last night, that he wanted to get in a good workout before his meeting with Jackie Fields, of California, with his title at stake, at Detroit, July 16, and he got just that. Setting his own pace, and seldom going into high, he cuffed and hammered Billy from pillar to post throughout eight rounds and won by a technical knockout when Referee Al Grayber humanely halted the one-sided slaughter by refusing to permit the game Alger to come up for the ninth round because of a badly cut lip, which will require plenty of stitching.

Dundee demonstrated to the crowd that he is anything but the wreck of a champion he has been painted by the ease with which he handled his young, rangy and tough opponent. Alger has boxed Ace Hudkins, Ruby Goldstein, Vince

Fight Results

At Meyers Bowl, North Braddock—Joe Dundee, welterweight champion, won by technical knockout over Billy Alger, 8 rounds; Rudy Ceder defeated Jimmy Belmont, 8 rounds; Joe Colombo defeated Jackie Murray, 6 rounds; Johnny Michaels knocked out Eddie Guba, 1 round.

At New Castle—Paris Cangey knocked out Frankie Perro, 8 rounds; Leo Clemens won by a technical knockout over Fritz Otto, 5 rounds; George Rohanna defeated Bobby Green, 6 rounds; K. O. Hueke defeated Joe Midway, 4 rounds; Johnny Jennings defeated Jackie King, 4 rounds.

At Philadelphia—Leo Lomski defeated Matt Adgie, 10 rounds; Jack Gross knocked out Al Walker, 2 rounds; Roy (Ace) Clark won by a technical knockout over Big Boy Peterson, 10 rounds; Tony Talarico defeated Tom Toner, 10 rounds.

DI VODI TO BOX M'TIERNAN

Buck McTiernan and Andy DiVodi, of New York, will furnish the next feature bout in the Meyers Bowl, North Braddock, next Monday night. DiVodi has called off his battle with My Sullivan at St. Paul Thursday night to appear here.

Al Brown and Vidal Gregorio box the main bout of a show for the benefit of the National Sports Alliance at the Queensboro Club, New York, tonight. Kid Chocolate meets Terry Roth in the semi-final and Pete Myers and Izzy Grove are in another 10-rounder.

Gus Edwards, of Baltimore, and Tubby Wolfe, of Wilkes-Barre, will box the main bout of a show under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Clarksburg, W. Va., Friday night.

Although the opening show last week was a big success financially and artistically, it is unlikely that the new boxing club holding forth at Junction Park, New Brighton, will operate again until its new bowl is ready. The dancing pavilion, where last week's show was staged, is too hot for indoor shows during the warm months.

RIVALS ENTER NET TOURNEY

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN.

Chairman Toots Davis report that lready some two-score entries for the forty-first annual Western Pennsylvania tennis championships repose in his files at the Stanton Heights Golf Club, on the courts of which the district tournament will get under way next Saturday afternoon. Announcement of the donation of the McCahill Cup by Official Referee David I. McCahill has stimulated interest tremendously, and already it has been definitely assured that those age-old rivals, Champion John O'Loughlin and former Champion Byron Baur, ex-Pitt stars, will be among those present to contest for the initial leg on the flagon.

Other luminaries already in the fold are Marion Rinehart, Stanton Heights ace; Don Mattern, captain of the University Club array; Billy O'Loughlin, Duke prep flash and runner-up to Brother John for West Penn titular honors in 1928; Paul Hicks, Edgewood top-flinger; Andy and Bill Smeaton and Sam Keller, Duquesne varsity performers; Al Bialas and Jack Moore, P. A. A. standbys, and a veritable host of others.

Men's singles entries close at 5 p. m. on Thursday, while names for the other events—men's and mixed doubles and women's singles—will be received until the same hour on Monday. Address all communications to Chairman J. Phillips Davis, Stanton Heights Golf Club, North Aiken avenue, Pittsburgh.

STRIBLING WINS

WICHITA, Kan., June 18.—(AP.)—By the narrowest of margins, W. L. (Young) Stribling, of Macon, Ga., won a newspaper decision over Babe Hunt, of Ponca City, Okla., in a 10-round bout here last night.

'Rowdy' Horse Cripples Three Turf Stars

CHICAGO, June 18.—(AP.)—The plunging hoofs of Paul Bunyan while the field was at the post in the American Derby Saturday have caused three crack 3-year-olds to be withdrawn from action, probably for the rest of the season.

Naishapur received a deep gash on his hind leg, and it is believed that three months of treatment will be required to heal in the injury. Minotaur, owned by John R. Thompson, came within reach of Paul Bunyan's heels and suffered severe lacerations on one of his front legs, the ligaments being almost severed. He will be out the rest of the season.

Dr. Freeland also was pawed by the misbehaving horse and suffered injuries which, it is believed, will prevent him from racing for a long period.

HUGGINS TO DISMANTLE YANKS IN 1930

Every Day Now Is Picnic Day for the Ants

★ SUN-TELEGRAPH ★ SPORTS ★

TUESDAY, JUNE 18, 1929 TWENTY-FIVE

THIS IS THE END, MILLER DECLARES

By DAVIS J. WALSH,
International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Win or lose, the New York Yankees, three-time champions and one of the ranking ball clubs of all time, will be dismantled at the end of the 1929 season.

Miller Huggins, their manager, made this statement to the writer yesterday. Four days before the all-decisive series with the Athletics, a series calling for five games within a period of 72 hours. The fate of the 1926-27-28 champions will be determined by these games. But rise or fall, the Yankees, as we have known them, never will be the same again once the current season is ended. That much is ordained.

"Absolutely," said Huggins with great emphasis. "I'll have a different club on the field next year, regardless of whether they are champions at the time or just a ball club that used to be champions. They have gone far for me, but there must be an end to everything and this is about it."

His only hope for the pennant, he admitted, was to win four out of five from the Athletics in the impending series, but I gathered that this was not so much a hope as a despairing thought. The inference I gained was that, even if he did win the series, the gesture might be too late for all practical purposes. Huggins is a confirmed pessimist.

YANK PROSPECTS POOR

He comes by the characteristic honestly this time, with the rival club racing out in front by eight games.

"Racing" isn't exactly the term, either, since this implies a contest of some kind. So far, there has been almost none. The Yankees have won 11 of their last 15 games and may consider themselves fortunate that they did; otherwise there would be no race at all today. They lost ground even while they were winning.

"I wouldn't mind so much if Detroit or St. Louis was out that far in front," Huggins added. "I'd figure then I had the better club and that ultimately class would tell. But the Athletics are a good club with hitting and pitching and youth and all the other things that make a good club good. You don't stake that kind to eight games start and catch them every time you set out to try. And, of course, if they beat us in this series, they will add to the confidence they are getting in themselves every day and then you wouldn't be able to catch them with a posse."

Huggins, of course, wouldn't care particularly about being beaten out of his fourth straight pennant and the league record; yet it might be that he would accept the inevitable with some degree of resignation. It would make his off-season task that much easier, for then he could tear into things, fancy free and with an open mind. He wanted to make changes this year, but bet against this judgment when the Yankees rallied to win the World Series in four straight games. This time, nothing will interfere.

DOESN'T BLAME ANYBODY

"I'm not blaming anybody," he hastened to say. "It's human nature to get into a rut from continued success. Some of the men I'm thinking of will do well on other clubs. But I can't expect any more from them in New York. We have been together too long. New faces, new scenes will help all concerned. Connie Mack knows what I'm up against. He asked me about my club on opening day and I told him what I'm telling you. And you can go and bet on it that he's dinning that idea into his players' heads all the time."

Huggins naturally didn't discuss individuals who might be affected by his program for 1930. He admitted that Ruth must figure less prominently in his plans as time goes on and he did say that he expected to make a real third baseman out of Lyn Lary. He gives Ruth at three more seasons, although conceding that much of the latter's future depends on how he recovers from his present illness. This, in fact, is not his pressing problem. He must rebuild his pitching.

"I don't mind telling you that I thought I had swung a deal on Saturday for an old, experienced pitcher," he said in conclusion. "Many would have critized the deal, for the man I was after is not young. I was figuring him for what he would do for me in my reconstruction work next year. However, I didn't get him, so I'll have to look elsewhere."

It was gathered that he expected to do a lot of looking in a lot of directions and at a lot of problems during the next six months.

Yacht Club Accepts Sir Lipton's Defi

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP.)—Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge for a series of races for the America's Cup, most coveted of all yachting trophies, has been accepted by the New York Yacht Club. The races will be held in September of next year.

Formal acceptance of the challenge, issued some time ago on behalf of Sir Thomas by the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, was contained in the following statement issued by George A. Cormack, secretary of the local organization.

"The challenge of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club for the America's Cup is accepted by the New York Yacht Club. The measurement, scantling and racing rules of the New York Yacht Club will prevail. The competing yachts shall be 76 feet rating. There will be no time allowance."

Cruickshanks Take Out First Papers

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP.)—Robert Allan Cruickshank, better known as Bobby, professional golfer, and Helen Cruickshank, his wife, are to become American citizens. They have received first papers.

Cruickshank was born in Grantown-on-Spey, Scotland, in 1894, and Mrs. Cruickshank in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1895. They live in Portchester, N. Y., and have one child, Elsie, who was born in November, 1920, in Scotland. They came to this country on April 6, 1921.

Net Favorites Win In Delaware Play

WILMINGTON, Del., June 18.—(AP.)—The favorites had but little difficulty yesterday in winning their matches in the Delaware state turf court tennis championships at the Wilmington Country Club.

Survivors of the day's play included Tamio Abe, Japanese Davis Cup player; Berkley Bell, University of Texas; J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J.; R. W. Ryan, Yale, and Fritz Mercur, Bethlehem, Pa.

After disposing of E. T. Sloan, Yale, 6-0, 6-2, in the first round, Bell eliminated Hugh Dunlap, also of Texas, 6-4, 6-4, to enter the third round.

YALE WINS

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—(AP.)—Yale, present titleholder, yesterday defeated Pennsylvania Military College in a first-round match in the tournament for intercollegiate polo title, 7-4.

RISKO LOSES

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

Should the driver, brassie and spoon all be the same length? Why or why not?

Answered by

ABE G. ESPINOSA

The driver, brassie and spoon should all be the same length, provided the angle of the shaft to the club head is the same. By this I mean that when a player addresses the ball with any of these clubs, the sole of the club should be flat on the ground and the player should be the same distance away with one as with the other.

This would be impossible if the angles of the shafts to the club heads were not alike. For instance, if the angle of one is greater than that of the other clubs, the shaft could be shorter and still have the player at equal distance from the ball.

In the case of my own clubs I am careful that the three woods are of the same length and angle. As the shot is played in the same way the clubs should be of the same length.

Crews Handicapped At Poughkeepsie

—AP.)—The college rowing fleet—(AP.)—The college rowing ueet, assembled here for the Intercollegiate Rowing Association's regatta next Monday, is having more than its usual trouble in getting into condition for the four-mile classic.

Weather conditions have been such for the last two weeks that not one of the crews representing the nine colleges entered in the regatta, has been able to row against time under satisfactory conditions.

Wind and river conditions were against the oarsmen all last week. Yesterday the Hudson was as smooth as a millpond, but the intense heat, with the mercury hovering at or above 90 degrees almost all day, forced the coaches to curtail all but easy work.

CIVICS CAPTURE MOUND DUEL, 1 TO 0

By TOM BIRKS.

It was left to the J. L. Thomas and N. S. Civic nines to provide the best sandlot twilight battle of the season. Wallman and Sammy Leon staged a real battle last evening. Art Rooney kicked in with a timely bingle in the eighth frame and the North Siders won by a 1 to 0 score.

Quido and Yost put on some fine fielding exhibitions, and Wallman staged a desperate effort to throw out the last batter with the tying run on third base. It was one of those games that cause the fans to go home pleased.

In the Spalding Junior League, the Collier Juniors walloped the Chester Club, 9 to 4. St. Michaels defeated the 15th Ward Traders, 8 to 3, in a West Penn League game, and in the Central League, W. O. W. defeated the East Liberty Red Sox, 10 to 6. The Presbyterians downed Ingram, 3 to 2, in a Crafton Church League tussle.

GRAYS DEFEATED

Homewood put a sudden and decisive check to the winning streak of the Homestead Grays, downing the Negro stars 8 to 1. Ingomar halted the Monty Motors of Ambridge 10 to 2, and Edgewood secured an 8 to 0 win over the Dan Heeps.

Carnegie Steel will appear at Garfield Park this evening in the Commercial and Industrial League, meeting Gimbels. The followers of the store feel that Dick Mackey's club is going to get bumped. Gil Scannel is being primed to twirl this game, and when right Scannel is hard to beat.

SMILERS-CIVICS CLASH

Pleasant Valley meets the North Side Civics and the Reineckers play Stowe in the City League. The North Side battle will find Nary and Heidler doing their stuff on the mound. Heidler was kept for this game, but was in the bull pen throughout the Thomas game. Pop Geer cannot afford to let up, and will probably send Gus Otey to the mound.

The Beltzhoover club of the Inter-County League will appear at Dean field this evening opposing the Thomas club. The game starts at 6:30.

Ruth, in N. Y., Not To Play Until Friday

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP.)—Much improved in health, Babe Ruth is back in town, but he still needs a few days of rest before getting back into the New York Yankees' lineup.

The Babe has been spending the past week on a fishing trip near Washington in an effort to recover from a severe cold that forced him out of the Yankee lineup nearly a month ago. He probably will not get into uniform until Friday when the Yankees play their crucial series with the Philadelphia Athletics.

La Rose, Foe Fall From Wheeling Ring

WHEELING, W. Va., June 18.—(AP.)—Tony LaRose, Cincinnati, knocked Jackie Herman, Wheeling out of the ring in the third round of the 10-round feature go here last night and fell through the ropes after him. The bout was stopped and no decision rendered. They fought at 148 pounds.

Albert Williams, Martins Ferry, O., won by technical kayo over Tarboy Martin, Columbus, in the last round of the six-round semi-final.

WRESTLERS MATCHED

Long's Sport Comment

upward swing, Hafey drives it on a line. He hits the pill as hard as any player in the game.

TWO major league streaks that have attracted much attention were broken yesterday. For the first time this year, the Philadelphia Americans lost two games in succession when they fell before the White Sox, following their defeat in Cleveland on Sunday, and Pitcher Charley Ruffing, by beating Detroit, ended a losing streak of 11 straight.

Ruffing had not won a game since April 20, when he got a decision over the Senators in a game at Washington. Strangely enough, the score was the same as that of yesterday, 6 to 5.

Buck McTiernan

At that, Ruffing pitched only one inning on April 20, going in as a relief pitcher in the ninth inning, so that yesterday's victory was his first of the year in a game started by himself. The Athletics made one of the most remarkable records in modern baseball history in progressing as far as June 17 and playing 52 games before suffering two consecutive defeats. The Pirates and the Mackmen are now the only clubs in the majors that have not yet lost three games in a row.

BUCK M'TIERNAN, Pittsburgh welterweight, who meets Andy DiVodi, of New York, in the feature bout at the Meyers Brothers Bowl in North Braddock next Monday night, made a good move in grabbing a chance to appear in one of the five six-round bouts on the Joe Dundee-Jackie Fields welterweight championship card scheduled for July 16 in Detroit.

The bout itself may not mean a great deal, but to a rising boxer in McTiernan's position it spells a lot of good advertising to be one of the fighters at a world championship show. Besides, McTiernan is to join Dundee's staff of sparring partners for two weeks or longer before the Detroit show, and what he can learn in boxing with a champion won't hurt him a bit.

Natrona Quits Inter-County League

The Natrona club has withdrawn from the Inter-County League, according to an announcement by Mike Linhart, Natrona manager, and games remaining on Natrona's schedule will be forfeited to its opponents.

The league will finish the first half of the season with seven clubs competing, but a team to take Natrona's place probably will be found when the second half of the campaign gets under way.

Natrona's league record is nine defeats and no victories, but several of the losses were forfeit affairs.

PYLE INVOLVED IN SUITS

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—(AP.)—C. C. Pyle, promoter of the transcontinental bunion derby which ended here Sunday, was involved in a series of financial altercations yesterday.

He lost a $500 judgment in Municipal Court, and members of his cross-country troupe, including girls who said they had performed in his road show, informed City Prosecutor Lloyd S. Nix that they had filed claims against the promoter with the State Labor Bureau.

Pyle was called to Nix's office and questioned regarding complaints of three cross-country runners, who dropped out before the finish, that the promoter had failed to return to them money they had deposited with him at the start of the race. Nix suspended further investigation when Pyle assured him the men might have their money by asking for it.

In Municipal Court Pyle did not contest a suit of L. W. Greene, Altadena, Cal., electrician, who sought to collect a note for $400, declared overdue. Greene was awarded an additional $100 for interest and damages. The note, Greene testified, was given for services during the 1928 transcontinental race.

The men who complained that their cash had not been returned were Troy Trimble, of Bakersfield, Cal.; Nils Neilson, of Chicago, and Anthony Wenneger, of Boston. They told Nix they had given Pyle money at the start of the race, intending to draw on him as they needed it. Trimble put in a claim for $85, Neilson for $203, and Wenneger for $25.

Pyle laughed at reports that he was unable to pay off the winners in the cross-country marathon. He realized a big profit on the race this year and has promised to pay all winners. He also announced he will stage another race next year.

Penn Won't Agree To Baseball Playoff

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—(AP.)—Athletic officials at the University of Pennsylvania announced yesterday that despite the tie in the quadrangular cup league between Pennsylvania and Dartmouth baseball teams, the Red and Blue would not consider any proposals for a playoff.

Penn's team played its last game on Saturday, defeating Dartmouth in an 18-inning battle, and immediately disbanded. Dartmouth's victory over Cornell put the Big Green team in a tie for intercollegiate honors with the Quakers.

COL. BLACKSTONE DAD

Col. Franklin Blackstone, chairman of the National Golf Committee of the Sons of the American Revolution, was one of the happiest entrants in the Pittsburgh Chapter's tourney at Chartiers Heights today. The Colonel's face was wreathed in smiles as he announced that his wife had given birth to a son last Saturday evening.

W. D. Stewart, of the Edgewood Country Club, scored an ace on the 179-yard fifth hole at Edgewood Sunday while playing in a foursome with T. R. Simpers, B. Wylie and W. K. Langfitt.

FIELDS TO BOX JOE COOPER

LOCAL TENNIS STARS LOSE

CLEVELAND, June 18.—Favored racqueters came through almost without exception in yesterday's tussels in the Ohio State men's singles and doubles championship's in progress here on the clay courts of the Cleveland Tennis and Racquet Club. Pittsburgh netmen, however, found the going rather rough. Billy O'Loughlin and Paul Sullivan, Steel City representatives, falling in lengthy three-set contests in the second round of the man-to-man milling.

O'Loughlin, seeded seventh on a list of luminaries that includes aces of Toronto, Canada; Cleveland, New York, Chicago and Buffalo, ran afoul of Robert Place, Windy City star, and succumbed after a gruelling late afternoon contest, 6-2, 5-7, 8-6.

Sullivan likewise encountered stiff opposition, Walter Patterson, Ohio State University satellite, winning a 6-3, 10-8, 6-2 victory.

O'Loughlin and Sullivan will compete in doubles today, their opponents being Rondebush and Lowe, Cleveland University Club champions.

Distorted Evidence

No amount of statistical evidence, distorted in an effort to mislead the public, can disprove government figures showing the gain of Lucky Strike to be greater than the combined increase of all other cigarettes. The public will be served and this is proof, indeed, that regardless of price, you actually get more in Lucky Strike than any other cigarette can offer. Its perfect blend of fine tobaccos gives pure smoking delight. Its exclusive, secret toasting process guarantees the tobaccos free from irritants and impurities and, in the opinion of 20,679* physicians, makes Lucky Strike less irritating than other cigarettes.

SUMMER TRACK SEASON TO OPEN SATURDAY

BOWEN, COOPER TO ASSAULT RECORDS

By JESS CARVER.

The summer season for needless sweating will have its official opening here Saturday afternoon, with the staging of the annual A. M. A. track and field championships in the Stadium. The A. M. A. meet, the annual piece de resistance of the summer campaign, will open what promises to be a brisk three months of action among the boys who wear spiked shoes and short pants.

Pete Bowen.

Following the A. M. A. meet will come the annual Philadelphia Company, Police, National Guard, Twenty-seventh Ward A. C. and P. R. R. sectional and regional meets. The New York Central System will also hold its national championships here this year.

BOWEN TO COMPETE

Several of the present champions, including R. F. (Pete) Bowen, of Pitt and the P. A. A.; Paul Cooper, Westinghouse High School and the Holy Cross A. C.; Marshall Lewis, Pitt and the Holy Cross A. C.; Carter, P. A. A., and Utterback, Pitt and Holy Cross, will be on hand to defend their laurels.

Two national records will be subject to a stressful afternoon. Bowen will try for a new record in the 440 and Cooper, the high jumper, figures on shelling the high jump mark. He has come precariously close to it already this year, having done 6 feet 3½ inches. I'd hate to even fall that far, much less jump it.

BENNY AGAIN

Dan Benjamin, the demon photographer, wants to know if "It Makes Me Blue When It Rains" was written by a baseball magnate.

Now that the A's have lost two in a row, the Red Sox threaten to win as many.

Then there is the guy who bought his wife R. L. Stevenson's "Travels with a Donkey" for a wedding anniversary gift.

Miller Huggins says he is going to break up his Yankee team after this season. It looks very much as though the A's have already done their part toward speeding the wrecking job.

STATE LOSES 36 STARS

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., June 18.—Graduation took comparatively light toll of Penn State's athletic teams for next year when the college granted degrees to some 600 students at the annual commencement exercises today. In all 36 letter winners were among those graduated, representing each one of the twelve varsity sports.

Football—Delp, Wolff, Hamas, Scudder Darragh, a member of the 1927 team and an assistant coach last fall, and Roger Mahoney, center of the 1927 team, will receive degrees.

Cross country—Capt. Bill Cox, Offenhauser, Bass.

Wrestling—Capt. Ted Wilson, Steele, Eisenman, Cranmer.

Boxing—Capt. Wolff, Kolakoski, Hamas, Davis. Steve Bendick, 175- pound champion two years ago, also will be among those graduated.

Track—Capt. Cox, Offenhauser, Hamas.

Lacrosse—Capt. Ted Torok, Shaffer, Hamas, Cranmer.

Dundee, Young Corbett, Young Jack Thompson, Gorilla Jones, Sergt. Sammy Baker, Clyde Hull and virtually all of the other men of note in the welterweight division. At no time was he in the running against the champion, who boxed and punched at a steady gait, never took a backward step and several times even lowered his guard and invited Alger to hit him along the ropes to sort of even up matters.

DUNDEE DEADLY PUNCHER

Dundee was not brilliant, but he was punishing in his execution. He sent Alger spinning to one side frequently with his hard right-hand smashes to the body, crossed his right beautifully to the head, fenced and hooked nicely with his left and employed an uppercut to perfection. It was the uppercut that gashed Alger's mouth to such an extent that it was wise to halt the battle. Billy's face also was badly puffed, and his body was red from the welting handed him. He was just a punching bag for the champion, and it was apparent that the latter was satisfied to let it go as the workout he had promised himself in his preparation for the meeting with Fields.

There is little doubt that Dundee could have won by a real knockout much earlier if he had been pressing for one. As it was, he tried out his entire assortment of punches, and, while not actually "carrying" his opponent, gave the crowd a run for its money. Some there were who chided him early in the proceedings for not cutting loose more, but he got a hand at the finish, and there was no audible objection to the referee's action from any of the fans close enough to the ring to observe the effect of the punching on Alger.

At no time did Dundee appear to be exerting himself unduly, and at no time was he even breathing heavily. He still is the same slow starter and the bearcat over a long route that he was in his climb to the title, and, if last night's exhibition is any criterion of what he is capable of at this time, Fields will have a tough assignment trying to strip him of his laurels when they clash one month hence.

FITZSIMMONS PLEASED

Floyd Fitzsimmons, promoter of the Detroit fight, was a spectator in the press row under Dundee's corner and left as soon as the bout was over to catch a train for Detroit. He expressed complete satisfaction with Dundee's condition and fighting. Harry Neaman, local sportsman, bought the first tickets for the fight sold to Pittsburghers, Fitzsimmons accepting his order for four ringside reservations. A party of local fans is being made up to attend the Detroit battle, and it is likely to be large, in view of the fact that Buck McTiernan, of Swissvale, will act as one of Dundee's sparring partners and will box in one of the five six-round preliminaries.

Dundee weighed 150 pounds at 2 p. m., for the bout, while Alger scaled one-quarter pound less.

Rain, which threatened all day and fell intermittently in the vicinity of the bowl, kept the show from being a sell-out, as advance sales indicated it would be, but it was a good-sized crowd that attended, nevertheless.

Because of the continuous threat of rain, the main bout was put on before the semi-final. It was between Rudy Ceder, of Tarentum, 143½ pounds, and Jimmy Belmont, of Braddock, 147½. This was expected to be a thriller and turned out to be a dud.

For the first three rounds Ceder did nothing but clinch and stall, and for the last five Belmont did nothing but run and hold. Ceder did enough chasing in the last half of the whatwasit to win a marathon, and in the last two rounds finally began to get the range and had Belmont hurt and anxious for the final bell. Ceder easily won the decision of the judges. It was Belmont's last fight under the management of Bunny Buntach, and it is said he likely will hook up with James (Red) Mason.

COLOMBO BEATS MURRAY

Joe Colombo, of Charleroi, 142 pounds, was too smart for Jackie Murray, of the Hill, 147½, in the second bout of six rounds, and won the judges' decision. Murray chased Colombo through round after round, trying for his fifth consecutive knockout, only to run into a lot of counter punches and leads that knocked him off his stride. It was a close and hard-fought battle.

Johnny Michaels, of Swissvale, 135¼ pounds, knocked out Eddie Guba, of Clairton, 134, in 55 seconds of the opening round, flooring him twice.

Al Grayber handled the main bout and second preliminary in his customary fine fashion, and Eddie Kennedy worked the other two events. Frank Ferris and Jock Simco were the judges, and Ray Eberle, in full dress, did the announcing.

PAULINO KEEN FOR AVIATION

HOOSICK FALLS, N. Y., June 18.—(INS.)—The strange interlude of silence that settled yesterday over the sylvan retreat of Senor Paulino, the only Basque who has ever basked in Hoosick Falls, was shattered at noon today by the return of the reformed woodchooper and his flying cabinet from a flight to New York.

The little cottage in the wildwood once more resounds to the babel of foreign tongues and if you think it is the big fight that is under discussion you have another guess coming.

No indeedy. The talk is all about aviation and none other than Paulino himself leads the discussions. He has become a flying bug after three trips up and down the Hudson in a hydroplane and not only contemplates owning a plane himself, but is planning to get into the business end of commercial aviation.

SCHMELING CONFIDENT

LAKEWOOD, N. J., June 18.—(INS.)—Max Schmeling enters the most important fight of his career with the greatest confidence man is capable of possessing. He does not look upon Paulino Uzcudun, whom he will meet on June 27 at the Yankee Stadium in the milk fund show, as an opponent he will have difficulty in beating decisively. Rather, he sees in the Basque an other opportunity to step nearer to the title goal.

Schmeling's infinite confidence in this fight is not shared by all, however, for from the beginning Paulino has been made the favorite to win over the German Dempsey.

There is a reason, to be sure, for Schmeling's display of confidence. Herr Max has witnessed Paulino in action on several occasions and, at one time, before a match with the Basque was even dreamed of, he is said to have remarked that Uzi would be easy for him. It seems that Paulino's style is not unlike that of a great many European heavyweights and a few of these Max has met and defeated with little trouble.

in the fifth and Paul Waner on first, whipped a single to right that led to the winning marker, Curt Walker making a mess of this hit as brother Paul rode in from third. So it will be seen that the Reds helped to beat themselves with their loose play.

Adam Comorosky saved Kremer and the rest of the Buccos from an embarrassing situation in the second when he ran almost to the fence for a spectacular one-hand catch of George Kelly's liner that opened the round.

Ascot Stakes Won By Old Orkney

ASCOT, Eng., June 18.—(AP.)—Old Orkney, by Loch Lomond, out of Queen's Health, won the famous Ascot Stakes today at the opening meeting of Royal Ascot Week.

Old Orkney, which was a 10 to 1 shot, is owned by J. J. Murphy.

Col. H. A. Wernker's Brown Jack was second and Lord Lascelles' The Consul, was third.

Mrs. C. Glorney's Troubadour was unplaced while Gipsy Count, owned by Mrs. John D. Hertz who also owns Reigh Count, did not run.

Old Orkney won by a short head while there were eight lengths between second and third.

The betting on Brown Jack was 100 to 9 and on The Consul 100 to 9.

The stakes had a value of £2,000 with exras and the distance was two miles.

Paris Cangey Stops Ferro in New Castle

NEW CASTLE, Pa., June 18.—(AP.)—Paris Cangey, New Castle lightweight, knocked out Frankie Ferro, Philadelphia, in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-rounder here last night. Cangey rallied to put over the kayo punch. He had been floored three times in the first four rounds by Ferro.

Leo Clemens, Cleveland heavyweight, won a technical knockout over Fritz Otto, New Castle, in the fifth round of a scheduled six-stanza semi-final. George Rohanna, Cleveland, outpointed Bobby Green, Akron, in six rounds. K. O. Huske, Akron, won a decision over Joe Midway, Pittsburgh, in four rounds. Johnny Jennings, New Castle, shaded Jackie King, Wampum, in a four-rounder.

Van Dusen to Run In Latonia Derby

CHICAGO, June 18.—(AP.)—Clyde Van Dusen, winner of the Kentucky derby, will attempt to redeem himself for his failure in the American derby at Washington Park in the Latonia derby Saturday.

The son of Man o' War, which finished eighth in a field of nine starters Saturday, will be shipped to Latonia tomorrow as will African. Clyde Van Dusen will return to Chicago after the Latonia feature to prepare for the $60,000 American classic at Arlington Park, July 16, while African will remain in the East for the Dwyer Stakes. Windy City, American derby victor, will not race again until the American classic.

LINDAU IN RACE

Pittsburgh's own auto racer, Bill Lindau, is among the first to send in his entry blank for the race at the Pittsburgh-Bridgeville board speedway, July 4. Speed Gardner, also has entered the 100-mile event.

EIGHT ALCOMA BAG TOTERS QUALIFY

By VERN SWARTSFAGER.

Eight caddies of the Alcoma Country Club today qualified for the second anual junior amateur golf championship of Western Pensylvania for the William Randolph Hearst trophy, which will be held at Schenley Park on Thursday, July 11 in a tournament staged under the direction of James Bruno, caddie master at Alcoma.

Daniel Orlick, 15, and Mike Seckoka, 15, were tied for the medal with 86's. The first named turned in a card of 44-42, while the second turned in 44-42. The other qualifiers follow:

Henry Rakoski, 15—42-45—87; George Remenzo, 15—43-45—88; Mike Ristway, 15—43-46—89; Thomas Barkovich, 15—48-41—89; Robert Hershey, 13—43-47—90; Al Scaramucci, 14—45-45—90.

LEADER DISQUALIFIED

Albert Dempsher turned in the best score of the day, a 79, but was found to be over age and was disqualified. Other scores follow:

BUTLER PLAY MONDAY

Walter Johnstone, professional at the Butler Country Club, announces that the caddies of that club will qualify for the tournament Monday morning of next week.

The tournament is growing bigger every day. Caddies and non-caddies alike are sending their entries in, and the boys who do not enter take the chance of missing one of the beautiful prizes as well as a possibility of capturing the Hearst trophy itself, which will be presented with a gold medal and another prize to the low scorer.

This year the tournament is being conducted on a slightly different basis than last year. Only one class will compete, aside from the teams which will fight for the special prize. Last year two divisions were in the field. It is anticipated that the struggle for supremacy will be keener than ever.

ELIGIBILITY RULES

Eligibility for the tournament is a small, though important matter. One must be strictly an amateur, 18 years of age or under, not attending classes above high school grades. That includes caddies who haven't reached their sixteenth birthday and who are working now. Any boy who is now only 15, but will attain his sixteenth birthday between now and the time of the tournament, may keep his amateur status clean by not caddying from the time of his birthday until after the tournament.

All caddies at district country clubs must compete in the qualifying round at their club for the right to play in the tournament. Eight eligible caddies from each club will participate, the four low scorers for the team prize. This is serving two purposes; the good caddie golfers get in the field, and the members who desire to play golf on the day of the tourment will be able to get a caddie.

U. S. G. A. RULES GOVERN

United States Golf Association rules will govern the entire tournament, and the U. S. G. A. amateur definition will regulate all ranking in this respect.

There is no entry fee to the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph's tournament, but all entrants will have to have their own balls and clubs for the event.

In the qualifying round held under the direction of Caddie-master Joe (Sunny) Summers at Shannopin yesterday, little Gordon Dunn, only 13 years old, was medalist. He scored a 46 for the first nine holes. Others who qualified for Shannopin's team were: John Holmes, 15, 47; Milton Richards, 15, 48; Lansing Campbell, 15, 47; John Waters, 15, 47; Tony Pukiz, 12, 49; Joe Stefano, 15, 49, and Billy Beck, 14, 50.

Lomski Beats Adgie In Slashing Bout

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—(AP.)—Leo Lomski, Aberdeen "assassin," won the decision over Matt Adgie, Philadelphia light heavyweight slugger, in a slashing 10-round battle at the Municipal Stadium last night. More than 20,000 persons saw the fight.

The fight was fast and furious with both men landing many hard blows. In the third round Adgie staggered Lomski with a vicious right to the jaw, and a moment later Lomski returned the compliment. Another right to the jaw shook the westerner in the fifth round, and again Lomski came back with a stiff uppercut that jarred the Philadelphia boxer.

NEWARK GETS BUSH

NEWARK, N. J., June 18.—(AP.)—Bullet Joe Bush, former pitcher for the Yankees, Red Sox, Athletics and Pirates, has joined the Newark International League baseball team. He recently was released by the Portland, Ore., Club.

GOLF TOURNEYS CARDED TODAY

Three golf tournaments are being played today at district country clubs.

The members of the Pittsburgh Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, are matching strokes at the Chartiers Heights Country Club in the first one-day tournament of the season. Play got under way shortly after noon, and this evening, and all of the golf has ceased, the boys will turn their attention to a stag dinner.

A big stag affair is also slated for the Wildwood Country Club, where members and prospective members are participating in an all-day affair, which will be wound up this evening with an elaborate program of entertainment and dining.

The women at the Youghiogheny Country Club, near McKeesport, started off at 10 o'clock this morning in a one-day tournament which will continue until late this afternoon. Play was at 18 holes medal.

MANY TOURNEYS TOMORROW

Tomorrow, two of the biggest tournaments of the year are on the books. The first annual championship of the Western Pennsylvania Senior Golf Association will be held at the club of its president, Thomas S. Jamison. This event has drawn a large field and some superb golf is anticipated.

Shannopin Country Club's entire tribe of linksmen will invade the Highland Country Club tomorrow in the last 18-hole round of the annual 36-hole fight for the Grogan cup. Highland won the first match this year, held at Shannopin, and holds the cup at this time.

Louis Tesh, Tony Conforti and Charley Schmidt were the winners in the one-day tournament of the Hotel, Club and Restaurant Men's Golf Association, held at the South Hills Country Club yesterday. Tesh had 100-30-70; Conforti, 101-29-72, and Schmidt, 105-29-76.

OAKMONT LEAD HOLDS

Oakmont kept its lead in Section 1 of the Women's Golf Association of Western Pennsylvania team league when it defeated Stanton Heights, 9 to 4, in the matches at the Edgewood Country Club yesterday afternoon, but the Hulton squad is closely pressed by the Edgewood Country Club, which came within two points by "smothering" Allegheny Country Club, 17 to 0. In the third match of the day, Fox Chapel Golf Club set down Pittsburgh Field Club, 9 to 6.

Oakmont now has 31 points, Edgewood 29, Stanton Heights 23, Fox Chapel 22, Pittsburgh Field Club 19, and Allegheny 16.

One of the features of the day was the 30-point victory of Miss Anjeanette Hunter, of Stanton Heights, Western Pennsylvania women's champion, over Mrs. J. Raymond Price, of Oakmont, former West Penn titlist.

CARDS DEFEAT CUBS; A'S BEATEN

By LES CONKLIN.
International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Within a few years spitball pitchers will be but a memory, but in the meantime they continue to puzzle opposing batsmen with their freak delivery. Three of the handful of salivary slingers now performing in the major leagues pitched yesterday, Clerence Mitchell and Urban Faber winning their games and John Picus Quinn losing to Faber.

Faber, who has won more victories for the lowly White Sox than Quinn has turned in for the league-leading Athletics, blanked the Mackmen for eight innings and won, 6 to 4, despite a last-minute splurge by the A's.

Philadelphia had gone clear up to June 17 without losing two games in succession—two months without a sign of a slump. If that isn't a record, it ought to be.

Mitchell, the only left-handed spitballer in the racket, kept the Cardinals in first place in the National League scramble by subduing the Cubs, 13 to 3. In a wild sixth-inning rally, in which the Cards scored eight runs, Chick Hafey made two hits, including a homer. Hafey and Buster Gehrig now are tied for the lead in the home run marathon with 17 apiece.

Ray Kremer, of the Pirates, won a 2-to-1 duel from Jakie May, of Cincinnati, the Bucs staying within two points of the Cards. Errors by Critz and Walker let in Pittsburgh's runs.

George Uhle hung up his tenth win of the season in beating the Red Sox, 8 to 3, after the Back Bay crew had annexed the opening game of a double bill by a 6-to-5 count.

Colonel Strong Wins Grand Circuit Stake

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 18.—(AP.)—Col. Strong, owned by C. M. Powell, Rochester, Ind., won the Reynolds stake of $3,000 for 2:12 pacers, the feature of the day's card, as the Grand Circuit racing opened for the season here yesterday. C. A. Valentine drove the winner, who outdistanced the favorite, Sir Walter, in the first heat.

The Devereaux stake for 2-year-old trotters proved to be a big upset. The winner, Betty Ann, paid $70.20 to win the second heat. The favorites in this event were Hoyle and Pola McElwyn. The summary:

Operators for Advance Take Up New Groups When Weakness Appears

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP.)—Stock prices made further recovery in today's market, although there was an increasing tendency to take profits on the rallies before the mid-year credit stringency began to make itself felt. Operators for the advance succeeded in bringing forward new leaders whenever the general list showed signs of weakening, but public participation was still on a relatively small scale.

Call money renewed unchanged at 7 per cent, with indications in the early afternoon that the rate would be maintained all day. Return of the June 15 checks for payment at the banks has been offset to some extent by the heavy accumulation of funds here by large corporations in preparation for mid-year payments, and by the temporary employment in the call market of funds received in connection with stock subscription "rights."

ACTIVITY STIMULATED

Official announcement of the organization of the Niagara Hudson Power Corporation to acquire a substantial interest in the Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern, Northeastern Power and Mohawk Hudson Power Corporations stimulated activity in the Public Utility and Electrical Equipment stocks. American Water Works, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey, Standard Gas and Electric, General Electric and Westinghouse Electrical all moved into new high ground, the gains ranging from 3½ to 7½ points. moneynpIt has been said that he

Announcement of the withdrawal of an additional $7,000,000 in British gold for shipment to this country, coupled with the prospect of further shipments from Canada and the Argentine, also had a bullish effect on sentiment on the theory that its arrival would help to ease the credit situation, recent tightness of which has been the chief deterrent to securities speculation.

Shares of chemical companies, many of which are enjoying unusually large current earnings, also were in brisk demand, Allied Chemical and Commercial Solvents each running up about 5 points. Some selling developed in the motor and accessory shares during the morning, but the persistent demand for Graham Paige and Electric Auto Lite, which sold 4 and 4½ points higher, respetively, and a heavy turn-over in Willys-Overland helped to revive confidence in that group.

RAILS IN DEMAND

Steady accumulation also was apparent in the railroad group. New York and Harlem and Hocking Valley, two ordinarily inactive issues, soared 15 points each, the latter touching a new high at 464. Atchison, Wabash A, Baltimore and Ohio and Lehigh Valley sold 3 to 4 points higher.

Montgomery-Ward and Sears Roebuck ran into further selling, falling back nearly 3 points each. Losses of a point or two were scattered throughout the list.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, June 18.—Fresh downturns in wheat values here took place early today owing to further rains in Canada and because of Liverpool quotations much lower than expected. Reports, however, that parts of Alberta province were yet badly short of moisture tended to bring about rallies. Opening at ¼c to 1⅛c decline, Chicago wheat afterward recovered most of the loss. Corn, oats and provisions were also easier, with corn starting ¼c to ⅝c off, and subsequently dropping still more.

Setbacks in wheat values today, ascribed chiefly to additional downpours in Canada, were emphasized by favorable domestic crop advices and by reports of better crop prospects in Europe. Kansas dispatches in particular said wheat was maturing at a rapid rate, and is showing a good plump berry. It was added that binders were starting in some sections of Kansas, and that wheat should be moving to market freely by July 1.

On the other hand, an interesting circumstance pointing to faster disposal of newly harvested wheat than has generally been thought probable was that some new wheat from Oklahoma has already reached flour mills as far away as Minneapolis. The wheat has graded No. 1 hard. Another feature today tending to rally wheat prices was a report that from Western South Dakota to Ortonville, Minn., the soil was very dry, and that without rain soon the wheat crop would start to deteriorate.

Cut in Bank Share Taxes Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Chairman Norbeck of the senate banking and currency has introduced a bill which is enacted would reduce taxes on banking shares to a level with taxes imposed on other capital used in the business of banking.

According to the chairman, enactment of the bill would remedy a discrimination against national and state banking shares.

SENIOR DIXIE LOSES MORE GROUND

Utility Issues Drop Back Another Point Following Yesterday's Recession

Price changes were irregular during the early market on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange but there was no noticeable change in the volume of business transacted.

Dixie Gas and Utilities preferred, which sold yesterday at a decline of more than 3 points from its last preceding price, dropped another point at the opening today, but only a 10-share lot changed hands. The decline yesterday was on a sale of only 25 shares. Dixie common, however, met heavier selling yesterday, and at one time was off 5 points, half of which was recovered before the close. The little Dixie was quiet during the forenoon today and did not appear in the list at all in the first hour. There was no news to account for the weakness in the stocks other than that the day's offerings met a thin demand and buyers made their own prices.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass rallied a point at the start today, selling at 65 as against yesterday's transactions at 64. While there has been no effort to force the market in Pittsburgh Plate, the stock for some time has been meeting quiet accumulation on recessions and yesterday's recession to the 64 level brought in some orders. It is thought there is little stock available around current prices for Pittsburgh Plate. Strong interests have been taking and holding the stock for the long pull, basing their commitments on the general outlook.

Fuels displayed very little change from yesterday's market. The miscellaneous industrials were handled at fractional variations and the unlisted department produced no activity of importance during the early trading.

Hardware Market Steady.

Expressions of general satisfaction with the hardware trade at this time have characterized the reports from market centers of the country Hardware Age will say in its weekly market summary. The general estimate of hardware bookings for the first half of the year indicates that they will run somewhat ahead of the corresponding period in 1928, and the outlook for the next few weeks is at least satisfactory. Business has shown its advance during the spring months in spite of a considerable average of backward weather conditions. The building industry has been slow this year, but at the present writing shows signs of reawakening, but no definite promise can be held out from information available as to the extent of this new lease of life. Some centers report builders' hardware specially active. The agricultural and industrial factors have apparently settled to summer steadiness. The growing importance of the summer tourist trade, as it has come to be known, is noted in practically all sections. The price situation is steady and collections are normal.

Farmers Not Properly Informed.

Is it not certain that the purchase of wheat with public funds will do far more harm than good? In the matter of world competition in what he produces the farmer is ill-informed or totally ignorant. How is he to know when he is overproducing wheat as he did last year and may be expected to do again? Congress might well consider the real weakness of the farmer's position and the proper means of correcting it.

Competitors Meet Du Pont Rayon Cut

NEW YORK, June 18.—Following announcement by the Du Pont Rayon Company that it would reduce prices on Rayon yarn 10 to 25 cents a pound, similar price revisions have been announced by the Viscose Company of America, American Glanztoff Corporation, Industrial Rayon Corporation and the Acme Rayon Corporation.

Reduction to $15.50 a dozen from $19 for full fashioned women's 45 gauge silk hosiery, one of the largest in that line in some time, is announced by a leading wholesale dry goods house.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 18.—The cotton market opened steady today, unchanged to a decline of 6 points, in response to indifferent Liverpool cables and a favorable view of early weather reports. Trading was quiet, but there was very little demand in evidence and prices eased under comparatively small offerings. July sold off to 18.47c and December to 18.86c during the early trading. With the market showing net losses of about 4 to 5 points at the end of the first half hour.

According to one private report the condition of the crop has shown little change during the past week, but the decline has been checked and improvement is now occurring over almost the entire belt.

Private cables reported American buying and covering in the Liverpool market, but said business in cotton cloths and yarns was restricted with advices from India discouraging.

Money Market.

LONDON, June 18.—Bar silver, 24½d per ounce. Money, 4¾ per cent. Discount rates, short bills, 5 5-16@5⅜ per cent; three months, 5 5-16@5⅜ per cent.

BRITISH GOLD ARRIVING

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP.)—Gold amounting to $7,000,000 was purchased today in London by two New York banks and a Wall Street investment house for immediate shipment to the United States.

Commercial National Bank and Trust Company and New York Trust Company are each importing $2,000,000 on the liner Olympic, due here June 25, and Brown Brothers and Company is bringing in $3,000,000 on the Paris, due about June 24.

The pound sterling for several days has been under the point where it is profitable to import gold. Today London sterling cables opened at $4.84 25-32, unchanged from last night.

Reichsbank Report.

BERLIN, June 18.—(AP.)—The Reichsbank statement as of June 15, shows these changes in reichsmarks: Gold and bullion, decreased 42,000; reserve in foreign currencies, increased 9,967,000; bills of exchange and cheques, decreased 224,103,000; silver and other coins, increased 14,940,000; notes on other banks, increased 6,455,000; advances increased 12,398,000; investments unchanged; other assets, decreased 20,196,000; notes in circulation, decreased 180,699,000; other maturing obligations, decreased 29,488,000; other liabilities, increased 9,606,000. Total gold holdings, 1,764,382,000. Rate of discount 7½ per cent.

World Copper Output Shows Drop for May

NEW YORK, June 18.—World copper production in May was 193,089 short tons against 196,820 in April; 192,792 in March, and 156,414 in May 1928, according to the American Bureau of Metal Statistics. Five months' output was 928,574 tons against 741,775 in the 1928 period.

Stocks of refined lead in the United States and Mexico on May 31 amounted to 51,745 tons, against 59,394 tons on April 30 and 156,414 tons at the end of May, 1928.

Paramount Official Denies Radio Merger

ST. LOUIS, June 18.—(AP.)—S. R. Kent, general manager of the Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation, tonight characterized as "ridiculous a Wall Street report that Radio Corporation of America might acquire the film company. Adolph Zukor, president of the corporation, said before his departure today for New York City, that Paramount never would be sold."

NEW YORK, June 18.—The acquisition of Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation by the Radio Corporation of America, reported to be under consideration prior to the departure to Europe of David Sarnoff, vice president and general manager of the Radio Corporation, was again rumored to be the subject of negotiations that commenced with the return of Mr. Sarnoff yesterday.

What Electricity Will Do For Us Foretold by Edison.

By B. C. FORBES

EDISON did not grant his usual birthday interview to the newspapers this year. However, I commissioned an interviewer to visit him in Florida and the king of electricity graciously consented to talk. He poured out ideas of startling interest. We will see many new things before we die, Edison declares.

THE interviewer, Dudley Nichols, wrote out his questions to overcome Edison's deafness. Here are the most significant, forward questions and answers:

"Will wind, tidal action, wave action, and earth-core heat ever be harnessed in addition to steam and river power as at the present time?"

Edison: "Volcanic heat is already harnessed for power purposes at several places in Italy, one in California, tidal power in Maine and other places."

"Do you think sunlight will ever be turned directly into electricity on a large scale for man's use?"

"Yes."

"Do you hold that electricity is the ultimate form of energy in nature usable by man, or is it conceivable that some other form may be discovered and tapped? In short, is there any imaginable form of energy beyond light, heat, radio-activity, gravitation and electricity?"

'I think there are other forms of energy not yet discovered."

'Is it likely that any new way to furnish electricity will be found beyond the battery and dynamo? Can you imagine any other form of electrical generator may be hit upon in the illimitable future?"

"We may in the future get electricity direct from coal. It has been done in a small way."

"Do you think all means of storing electricity are already discovered? Perhaps this amounts to saying: Do you think your own storage battery will ever be better?"

"It would be extremely difficult"—his blue eyes twinkled—"to find another chemical reaction to permit it to be beaten. But it is possible."

"COMPARING the electrical industry with the life of a human being, an industry which is your own child and therefore was an infant, say, 40 years ago, at what stage of life do you think it now stands? At middle or old age?" Edison: "Yelling baby."

"Has the independent inventor been supplanted by hordes of industrial research workers? That is, has the day of private research given way to the day of corporation research work in applied science?" Edison: "No."

"Do you think future inventions will issue from private individuals or from the great commercial laboratories?"

"Mostly from private individuals, or from the exceptional man in a corporation lab."

"If the work of invention should be shifted from private individuals to the great corporation laboratories, do you think incentive to invention will be weakened or lost?"

Edison: "No, what is wanted is a patent commission or court, all patents to be assigned to this court in trust for the inventor, the court issuing licenses always reserving a portion of the royalty for the inventor, which he cannot convey or impair."

"Do you think most new discoveries will lie in the radio field or in the older one of wired electricity?"

"I think wired electricity will be dominant without some great discovery not now known."

"IN your opinion will we ever have wireless transmission of electrical power?"

"Without wireless power, do you think that aircraft can ever be electrically driven?

"Extremely doubtful."

"Do you believe the time will come when the world petroleum supply will be exhausted and man will turn to electric vehicles?"

"Do you think man will always be able to create from nature as much power as he will need?"

"Yes."

IN October Edison is scheduled to receive a world's tribute such as no human being has ever received. May he be in first-class fettle for this planned Celebration of Lights and Golden Jubilee!

P. R. R. Anti-Trust Hearing Postponed

WASHINGTON, June 18. — The Interstate Commerce Commission anti-trust complaint against the Pennsylvania Railroad, based on its stock ownership in the Wabash and Lehigh Valley Railroads, was today indefinitely postponed. Hearings were originally scheduled for June 24.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—A permit for the erection of a new 22-story Pennsylvania Railroad office building to cost $4,000,000, will be issued by the Bureau of Building Inspection.

April Tire Output Gains Over March

NEW YORK, June 18.—Tire manufacturers in the United States produced 7,883,805 pneumatic casings during April, according to the Rubber Manufacturers' Association, against 7,519,234 in March. Output of inner tubes was 7,634,325, against 7,466,380 in March.

Shipments of pneumatic casings totaled 7,294,370 during April and inner tubes 7,164,050, against 6,708,134 and 6,737,688, respectively, in March.

VOLUNTARY CUT LIKELY IN OIL OUTPUT

Advantages of Conservation Impressed On Executives Despite Parley's Failure

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER.

NEW YORK, June 17.—In spite of the inconclusive end to the oil conservation conference at Colorado Springs, executives in the industry have been impressed with the necessity of adjusting production to demand, and, though formal compacts are lacking, voluntary business action is likely to be in the direction of stemming excessive output.

In 1928 the oil companies increased their earnings by achieving greater success in attuning production to consumption.

In the first two months of this year, however, output again got out of hand and the demand for an agreement to restrict production again became vocal. The American Petroleum Institute sponsored a rational program for conservation, but Attorney General Mitchell saw no authorization for such an agreement under the existing anti-trust laws.

President Hoover suggested the Colorado meeting to see whether some legal compact could be made by agreement among the oil producing states.

EARNINGS INCREASE

In spite of widespread propaganda about the troubles of the oil industry, it is reported that earnings have been running ahead of the corresponding months of 1928. Oil earnings in 1927, when overproduction was rampant, were radically depressed, but last year the net earnings of 32 large oil companies doubled, though still falling behind the 1926 level. The fate of the oil industry emphasizes the spottiness of recent prosperity. The oil industry fluctuated in accordance with its oil production schedules, irrespective of the general business cycle.

It has been difficult for the outsider to reconcile the record-breaking consumption of gasoline with the troubles of the oil industry. But as a matter of fact only 40 per cent of the oil output goes into gasoline. The market for the other 60 per cent has been developed with less spectacular celerity, though it, too, has shown a rising trend.

OPTIMISM

When the oil conference took recess, it indicated it would convene again at the President's call. Mark Requa, the chairman, said:

"I am optimistic that other conferences will follow this one, and that out of them will come a program that will be practical and workable."

These meetings, though seemingly inconclusive, focus attention on the need for viewing the problems of the industry as a whole, and it may be taken for granted that pending the invention of a legalistic formula for meeting the situation businessmen in the oil industry will informally act along the lines that have been indicated.

As a group the oil stocks have been out of favor during the earlier extravagant bull rise. They are, accordingly, not among the over-exploited issues, but in the nature of things the oil business still is highly speculative, although slow progress in the direction of stability is being made.

HIGH INTEREST SITUATION

That high interest rates in the United States in recent months have been the result of the dramatic clash between the Federal Reserve authorities and the Wall street bulls is conceded by the Federal Reserve Board. In referring to the recent campaign whereby the system has held down rediscount rates at 5 per cent and has dealt directly with recalcitrant member banks, the bulletin says:

"The policy of the Federal Reserve system in discouraging frequent or continuous borrowing by member banks having a large volume of security loans, a policy which has been in effect since the establishment of the Federal Reserve system, but has received special emphasis in recent months, has also been a factor in this situation."

UTILITIES

Stock prices reflect public imagination, and hope at times, as well as more tangible evidence of value, such as earnings and physical assets.

The recent boom in public utility stocks emphasizes the fact that such securities at prevailing prices are capitalizing earnings and assets far more extravagantly than railroad stocks. It should be borne in mind that the utilities, like the rails, are subject to rate regulation.

It is gossiped in the street that the current haste to remake the public utility map of the country, through new mergers and alliances, is an attempt to beat the gun in the matter of federal regulation, which many think is in the offing.

Irrespective of this, the O'Fallon decision of the Supreme Court tends to put the railroads in as satisfactory a status in respect to property rights as the public utilities.

The public, however, feels that the power and light companies have larger potentialities for future growth than the railroads, but this differential has already been amply reflected in price differences.

The progressive railroad executive is coming to regard himself as in the transportation business, ready to adapt the airplane, radio and buses, rather than to fight them. These newer concepts, shown by the Van Sweringens, Gen. W. W. Atterbury, of the Pennsylvania, and others, will doubtless have a further stimulating effect on railroad profits through the years.

Heavy Payments Received on Incomes

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Payments of income tax through June 15 of this month are considerably heavier than for the first half of the same month a year ago, totaling $73,945,649 against $65,169,012.

CRUDE OUTPUT HITS PEAK

TULSA, Okla., June 18.—The daily average crude oil production increased 25,644 barrels in the week ended June 15 to 2,743,186 barrels, according to the Oil and Gas Journal.

This continued the erratic movement that, during the last two months, has drawn the production curve alternatively up and down. The production for the week ended June 8 was approximately 3,000 barrels under that of the preceding week.

This week's output represents a new high record, topping the previous peak of 2,719,723 barrels reported June 1.

WILKINSON ON CRUCIBLE

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP.)—H. S. Wilkinson, chairman of the board of the Crucible Steel Company of America, yesterday in his semi-annual report to stockholders said directors intended to declare a stock dividend at or before the end of the year.

The company's conditon, he said, was the best since its organization, with the volume of business steadily increasing. A record volume of business in gigh-grade tool, alloy and special steels, he said, greatly increased earnings in the last six months.

Net earnings for the first six months of 1929 totaled $4,202,500, compared to $5,631,417 for the entire year of 1928. The last quarter net earnings were $2,428,231, equivalent to $3.61 a common share. Earnings per share of common stock last year were $7.06.

Commission Denies Petition on Orient

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP.)—The Innerstate Commerce Commission today denied an application by the New Orleans Joint Traffic Bureau seeking to have reopened a case in which the Atchison, Topeka and Sante Fe Rairoad sought control of the lines of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad.

The Traffic Bureau contended the traffic and rate policy of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient was favorable to the Port of New Orleans, while the Atchison, Topeka and Sante Fe was unfavorable.

Illinois Governor Signs Money Bill

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 18.—(AP.)—Gov. Louis L. Emmerson today signed the call money bill.

The measure authorizes an interest charge at a rate greater than 7 per cent on loans, of not less than $5,000 which are secured by warehouse receipts, bills of lading, stock or other collateral security.

The bill was designed to check the flow of money from Chicago to New York, when call money pays higher interest.

WILLIAM L. GRIFFITH

Mr. Fretermuth, West View, and Mr. Griffith, Wilkinsburg, appointed by Bell Telephone Company as managers, respectively, of the downtown unit, composed of Atlantic, Court and Grant exchanges and the southern district offices, composed of Federal, Lehigh and Walnut.

MONEY MARKET UNCHANGED

There is no change at present in the money outlook. There appears to be a fair supply of loanable funds to meet the current demand on the Street, and it is probable the rate will not change today.

Banks, however, are holding themselves in readiness for a closer working of the money situation arising from government tax payments, which should develop toward the end of the week. From then until the end of the month money is expected to be fairly tight to meet the half-year needs.

Baltimore Bonds Go to Syndicate

BALTIMORE, June 18.—A group consisting of the Mercantile Trust Company; Baker, Watts & Co.; and Hannahs, Ballin & Lee of New York was awarded two issues of Baltimore City of 4 per cent bonds totaling $4,630,000 at 94.23 per cent or on about a 4.35 per cent basis.

NEW ANACONDA TO PAY SAME

NEW YORK, June 18.—When directors of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company meet for dividends on June 25, it is felt in many quarters that there will be no downward revision in the $7 annual dividend rate as a result of the increased amount of stock outstanding. Rather, opinion prevails there is likelihood of increased return to stockholders being made at a later date.

The company now has outstanding approximately 7,572,509 shares. The increased stock is due to rights issued to stockholders earlier in the year, absorption of Chile Copper through exchange of stock and conversion of remaining 7 per cent debentures into stock.

Earnings, according to many, are running well in excess of dividend requirements, and there is every probability that 1929 net income will reach a new high peak, eclipsing 1928 by a wide margin.

Last year total net was $24,174,780, equal to $6.63 a share on 3,648,311 shares then outstanding. The average price of copper received in 1928 was about 14.70c a pound, while so far during the current year the price reached 24c a pound and for past months has firmly held at 18c. Lead and zinc likewise are higher.

It is believed the 18c current price of copper will be maintained for the remainder of the year, and that other metals will hold above the 1928 averages. On this basis Anaconda's income from all sources in 1929 may run between $80,000,000 and $90,000,000 equal to between $10 and $12 a share on the increased capital.

MACK PROFITS INCREASING

NEW YORK, June 18.—Mack Trucks, Inc., has been earning at the rate of $1 per share a month in the current quarter, according to those usually well informed on company's activities. This means that for the quarter ended June 30, 1929, the company could report net income of something over $2,250,000, or $3 a share on 755,625 no par common shares which now comprises Mack's sole capital.

The management, however, is well known for its conservatism and for its inclination to make heavy charges against earnings whenever possible. On this basis, the actual report for the quarter may not show a full $3 earned but, rather, a more moderate increase over the $1,429,587, or $1.89 a share reported for the first three months this year. Whatever the actual showing, however, it is certain to be entirely satisfactory and will indicate that the company is continuing to steady expansion of its earning power.

In the first quarter last year net income was $745,672, or $1.01 a share on 735,677 shares then outstanding, and in the succeeding quarter net was $2,084,383, or $2.84 a share on the same share basis.

CHASE NATIONAL MERGES WITH PARK BANK

$1,700,000,000 Institution, Third Largest in Nation, Results from Consolidation

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP.)—The consolidation of the Chase National Bank and the National Park Bank of New York into a $1,700,000,000 institution, the third largest in the United States, was announced yesterday.

The merger, approved by the directors, will be effected through an exchange of stock, subject to approval of stockholders.

Charles S. McCain, president of National Park Bank, will be the president of the consolidated bank, and Robert L. Clarkson, now president of Chase, will become vice chairman of the board of directors. Present directors of the two banks will constitute the board of the new institution.

DEPOSIT $1,200,000,000

The capital of the consolidated bank will be $105,000,000 and surplus and undivided profits will be in excess of $130,000,000. Combined deposits of the two banks are approximately $1,200,000,000, and the total resources of the combined institutions, including the security affiliates, will be in excess of $1,700,000,000.

The merger makes no change in the lineup according to size of banks in this country. National City Bank with resources of more than $2,000,000,000 is the largest, and Guaranty Trust Company with resources of nearly $2,000,000,000 is second. Chase will continue to rank as third.

Both National Park Bank and Chase have seen the outgrowth of other consolidations. Chase recently took over the American Express Company with its far-flung foreign service.

AFFILIATES MERGE

Chase Securities Corporation, investment affiliate of Chase bank, will acquire the assets of the newly-formed National Park Bank subsidiary—Park Bank Corporation. Mr. McCain also will serve as vice chairman of the Securities Corporation. Halstead G. Freeman will remain as chairman of the executive.

Mr. McCain is a native of Arkansas, where he early won a name for himself in the field of bank organization and consolidation. He is 45 years old and came to New York three years ago as a vice president of the National Park Bank.

Lindbergh's Air-Rail Report Made Public

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP.)—Officials of Transcontinental Air Transport yesterday made public reports by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh on preparations for the company's coast-to-coast air-rail system which is scheduled to begin regular service on July 8.

Col. Lindbergh, who is chairman of the company's technical committee, reported that 32 skilled pilots had been especially trained for the service, that 10 tri-motor, all-metal monoplanes would be used at the start and that an elaborate radio system for supplying pilots with weather information had been worked out.

ALASKA TRADE SHOWS GOOD RECOVERY

Government Takes Unusual Steps to Push Progress; Makes Bid for Settlers

ALASKA, June 18.—(AP.)—Alaskan business conditions, after several years of semi-depression, are beginning to show considerable recovery, and the United States government, as owner of the principal railroad and most of the land in the territory, is taking unusual steps to forward the process.

The Alaskan Railroad this year is not only actively advertising for the tourist trade, but has established under O. F. Ohlson, its general manager, an immigration service to encourage some agricultural settlement.

"We hope to carry in between 7,000 and 10,000 tourists over the main line of the Alaskan Railroad, which runs from Seward to Fairbanks," said G. C. Dickens, general freight and passenger agent of the government's road. "This year we are making special effort to draw attention of government employes to the vacation possibilities there, and are operating some special expeditions.

TOUR REASONABLE

"All expense tickets from the eastern part of the United States to Alaska, over the railroad with 14 days steamer, cost only about $549 and give a 30-day vacation trip that is proving very attractive. We do not run sleepers on the railroad, but the government operates the best hotel in Alaska, half way between Seward and Fairbanks, and this stop breaks the journey to the center of the territory very nicely.

"Mr. Ohlson has organized a special division to assist agricultural immigration, for there is considerable good homestead land left in Alaska, and the territory is importing $5,000,000 a year in agricultural products which could be raised there. Business progress has been good lately in the territory. Our railroad doesn't yet meet operating expenses, but the last reported deficit was $840,000, and the previous one was $900,000."

GOLD DEVELOPMENT

About the largest industrial enterprise within Alaska is still gold mining, thought a very highly modernized and organized form of it. Title to the hundreds of square miles of gold bearing lands around Fairbanks, once the goal of gold rushers from all the word, has been slowly acquired by a single corporation, the United States Smelting, Refining and Mining Company, through its Alaskan subsidiary, the Fairbanks Exploration Company. These gravel tundras, long since proven unprofitable for individuals or small concerns to operate separately, have been built into a holding of immense area, hydro-electric power installation located in proximity, and a canal dug 100 miles to bring water.

With this highly expensive equipment, the old gold fields have been provided with seven great electric dredges, and the flats where the miners once delved in pairs and groups are being scientifically turned over with immense power machinery, that is designed to remove the last traces of the gold that are scattered thinly but evenly through the mass. During the present year the long campaign of exploitation will come to fulfillment, and Alaskans say that in future years, by the new methods, the gold yield may be greater than the total recovered in the days of excitement and rush.

OFFER CANADA RAIL BONDS

One of the largest bond flotations of the year—a $40,000,000 issue of Canadian National Railway Company 40-year 5 per cent guaranteed gold bonds—is being placed on the market today by a banking syndicate headed by Dillon, Read & Co. and including the National City Company, Guaranty Company of New York, Bankers Company of New York, Bank of Montreal, Canadian Bank of Commerce, The Royal Bank of Canada, The Dominion Securities Corporation, Wood, Gundy & Company, Inc., and A. E. Ames & Co., Ltd.

The bonds, which are unconditionally guaranteed by the Canadian Government, are priced at 99¾ New York. Funds to yield over 5 per cent. Principal and interest are payable in New York in United States gold coin, in Canada in Canadian currency and in London in pounds sterling. The bonds are a direct obligation of the Canadian National Railway Company, whose capital stock is owned by the Dominion Government.

A portion of the issue will be withdrawn by a Canadian banking group for offering in Canada.

Coal Production Shows Increase

The total production of bituminous coal in the United States for the week ended June 8, as estimated by the National Coal Association from preliminary car loading reports, was about 9,250,000 net tons.

The tonnage reported by the United States Bureau of Mines for the weeks ended May 25 and June 1 was 9,164,000 net tons and 8,430,000 net tons, respectively.

Spreckles Sugar Cuts Refined Price

NEW YORK, June 18. — The Spreckels Refining Sugar Company, formerly Federal Sugar, has reduced refined sugar 15 points to 4.85c. Pennsylvania Sugar met the cut.

PENNSY MAKES RECORD FOR YEAR

Profit Expected to Double Dividend Requirement of 8 Per Cent in 1929

Pennsylvania Railroad Company will make a new record in net railway operating income for the first half of 1929, and with the business outlook good for the second half year it is expected that Pennsylvania will earn approximately 16 per cent on its outstanding stock for 1929, double the present 8 per cent dividend requirement.

This would be in keeping with the showing which the Pennsylvania has made during the past several years, when the dividend was earned twice over, notwithstanding the gradual stepping up from a 6 per cent annual basis to the present 8 per cent rate.

A dollar for dividends and a dollar for surplus is not necessarily a Pennsylvania policy, but an analysis of Pennsylvania accounts for several years in the pre-war period will show results worked out on about that basis, so that "a dollar for dividends and a dollar for surplus" may be regarded as a Pennsylvania tradition which is being maintained in present-day operations.

MAY INCREASE

When May earnings of the Pennsylvania are issued within the next few days they will make another showing pleasing to stockholders, in both gross and net, showing ability of the management to obtain and hold gross business and to handle it efficiently and economically. Net railway operating income of the Pennsylvania for the first four months of 1929 was $39,917,351, which compares with the following totals covering the first six months' operations of the three preceding years: 1928, $51,277,232; 1927, $51,125,413, and 1926, $43,701,010.

April net operating income was $12,231,873, so that the total for the first five months of 1929 may easily approximate the total for the first six months of 1928 and 1927, and substantially exceed that for 1926. The Pennsylvania is out to make new records, and judging from results for 1929 so far, this year will set new high records in net and earnings a share as well as in operating efficiency.

SEASONAL INCREASE

Pennsylvania earnings are beginning to reflect seasonal increase, with each of the first four months so far reported substantially ahead of the corresponding months of 1928, although April is the only month to show an increase over similar month of 1927.

Reflecting continuing efficiency in management and ability to get greater service a unit of equipment and larger return a dollar expended net operating income has shown a steady monthly increase since beginning of year, with each month showing a material gain over corresponding month of 1928 and, with one exception, over 1927.

	Gross 1929	1928
April	$56,029,625	$51,226,863
March	55,392,596	52,350,843
February	49,682,633	47,300,947
January	51,664,804	48,088,784
	Net 1929	1928
April	$12,231,873	$ 8,445,417
March	10,937,420	8,947,945
February	8,777,664	6,613,704
January	7,970,394	6,136,235

Car loadings for May forecast another good month of earnings. For the five weeks ended June 1 loadings for the Pennsylvania System totaled 859,156 cars, compared with 797,136 in the corresponding period of 1928. Substantial character of the business in May is indicated by the fact that loadings in every one of the five weeks tabulated showed an increase over the corresponding weeks of 1928, 1927 and 1926, with a single exception, the week ended May 25, 1926, being slightly larger than that for 1929.

Investment buying has been attracted to Pennsylvania shares recently as the stock is now selling about six points under the year's high, and in view of current earnings and dividends as well as seasoned character of stock, the shares are considered to be selling out of line with other dividend paying rails. At 77½ for instance, Pennsylvania, on present 8 per cent dividend, yields 5.16 per cent.

Dividend yields at current prices and rates for a group of other rails follow: Atchison, 4.8 per cent; Baltimore and Ohio, 5.1 per cent; New York Central, 4.2 per cent; Union Pacific, 4.9 per cent; Chesapeake and Ohio, 4.8 per cent; Norfolk and Western, 3.8 per cent, and Atlantic Coast Line 5.3 per cent.

Range for Pennsylvania for 1929 has been, high 83⅝ and low 72½.

20 Carriers in Big Rail-Air Agreement

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 18.—(INS.)—Twenty American railroads have entered into traffic agreements with Western Air Express, constituting the greatest air-rail tie-up ever made in the history of transportation, according to announcement today of H. A. Burgess, assistant to Harris M. Hanshue, president of Western Air Express.

Australia Best Player Piano Customer

NEW YORK, June 18.—Player pianos manufactured in the United States are much more popular with foreign buyers than the types that require human operators. In the last recorded month of the customs reports 428 player pianos went abroad, and but 194 ordinary pianos.

Australia is by far the best customer for the American mechanical music device, taking 230 player pianos a month, but Mexicans, Peruvians and Cubans are important buyers.

Plan to Finance Installments On Silver

BALTIMORE, Md., June 18.—Announcement was made here today of an exclusive contract between commercial credit companies and the members of the Silversmiths Guild of America for the financing of sales of sterling and plate silver on a deferred payment basis through more than 2,800 of the representative jewelers of the United States.

Commercial credit officials are reluctant to discuss the contract and its provisions at this time other than to say that the financing of certain classes of plate and sterling silver is safe from the credit viewpoint and satisfactory to all contracting parties. It is expected to materially increase the sale of sterling and plate silver throughout the United States.

The Silversmiths Guild of America, whose membership of 12 manufacturers is reputed to produce 80 per cent of the nation's sterling, has prepared an extensive promotional program to introduce the commercial credit plan to the leading jewelers of the country at an early date.

'Soup' Places Rail Order, 33,864 Tons

CHICAGO, June 18.—The Southern Pacific Railroad has ordered 33,864 tons of steel rails for immediate delivery for use in the new 90-mile line from Klamath Falls, Ore., to Alturas, Cal., and on other improvement projects.

The order was divided as follows: 7,529 tons to Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, 13,168 tons to Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, and 13,168 tons to Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Obituary

Harry L. Kurtz, 63, for 20 years the secretary-treasurer of the Harry Davis Enterprise Company, died this morning in his home, Schenley Apartments. He was born in Connellsville, Pa., the son of the late Katherine and John Kurtz, former mayor of Connellsville. He attended the University of Pennsylvania and upon leaving that institution became associated with H. C. Frick in the coal and coke business in the vicinity of Uniontown and Connellsville. Leaving the employ of Frick, he became affiliated with the Harry Davis Enterprise Company and served as private secretary to Mr. Davis until the time of his death. Mr. Kurtz was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Knights Templar and Syria Temple. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Blanche Kurtz.

Mrs. John Felton.

SHARON, Pa., June 18.—Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for Mrs. John Felton, who died at the home of her son, William, at West Middlesex. She was born in Pittsburgh, but had spent most of her life in this section.

Her husband, five children, Mrs. Harry Munson of Uniontown, Mrs. John Buchanon of New Wilmington, Sam Felton of Sharon, William Felton of West Middlesex and Delmont Felton of Sharon, and two sisters, Mrs. D. J. Kennedy of Pittsburgh and Mrs. John Chassey of Frederick, Md., survive.

Dr. David A. Porter

SALINA, Pa., June 18.—Funeral services for Dr. David A. Porter, 92, of Saltsburg, who died here Sunday, were to be held at 2 p. m. today from the Saltsburg Presbyterian Church. Dr. Porter, who practiced dentistry the greater part of his life, retired 20 years ago. He leaves no immediate relatives.

Mrs. Elizabeth Selfridge.

Mrs. Elizabeth Selfridge, 85, formerly of the North Side, died in the home of her son, Robert Selfridge, in Camden, N. J. She was the widow of John Selfridge, former North Side policeman and Civil War veteran. Funeral services will be held on Wednesday from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Owens, of Suncrest street, Knoxville.

Notice to Taxpayers

Office of Treasurer of Allegheny County, Room 108 Court House Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

In pursuance of the 21st section of an "Act relating to Allegheny County," approved the 1st day of May, 1861, and of the amendment to said section, approved the 30th day of March, A. D. 1866, I hereby give notice that the tax duplicates for the several wards of the cities of Pittsburgh, McKeesport, Duquesne and Clairton, boroughs and townships, will be open, and I will be prepared to receive the county, road, poor, bond interest, etc., park and personal property taxes for the year 1929 on May 1st. Said taxes may be paid during the months of May, June and July only, at 5% discount, during August at face, and on and after September 1st the tax plus an added 10% penalty must be paid to the County Delinquent Tax Collector.

Statements will be furnished promptly upon written request, if furnished name, location by ward in the cities of Pittsburgh, McKeesport, Duquesne or Clairton, or boroughs or townships. If statement of Personal Property or Occupation Tax is desired, give street address also.

Use of the mail is advised for requesting statements and making payment of taxes. Payment may be made in cash at Treasurer's Office or through mail by Certified Check or Money Order, (payable to John Francies, County Treasurer) and mailed to Room 108, Court House, Pittsburgh, Pa., accompanied by stamped and addressed envelope for return of tax statement or receipt.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Positively NO discount will be allowed on taxes not actually received at the Treasurer's Office before the close of business on July 31st, 1929, nor will Taxes at face be received by the County Treasurer after the close of business on August 31st, 1929. Delay in delivery, by mail or messenger, will not be considered an excuse for non-payment before expiration of discount or face period for payment.

BUGS BAER Says

FLYING WITH THE POST CARDS

Bugs Baer

IF you see an average bald-headed man trying to scald a poultice of postage stamps off his skull you will know that he has just crossed the great divide by air mail.

You can travel in the governmental cloud bureau these days and enjoy all the privilees of a souvenir postcard en route.

It took the covered wagon six months to trek the united works to Oregon. And then they didn't get there with the covers.

Now, you leave New York right after breakfast and reach California with egg on your chin.

The registered cost of coasting by air mail is the same as other bundles. Two cents an ounce, for every ounce after the third mile.

A man weighing 200 pounds would weigh 3,200 ounces if he were divided equally among all the guests.

At two cents an ounce he would still be perishable goods. It is a splendid way of getting to California. Especially, if the forgotten letters in your coat pocket are addressed to Cuba.

If you want to stop en route, that is easy. You are entitled to a parachute made out of cancelled postage stamps.

Even if the chute breaks, it is much easier to fall on Pike's Peak than to climb it.

We advise everybody to travel by air mail to the coast. The sleeping accommodations are great and the lower berths are only seven miles high.

We have travelled by air mail. And while the deliveries are fast, we do not care so much for the post-office.

However, it solves the swift transportation problem. You look down a long flight of steps that ain't there. You see human beings crawling around like beetles.

If you have never flown then you cannot realize how rubber heels absorb the shocks of 10,000 steps between the dining room and the kitchen.

Buy yourself a transcontinental set of postage stamps and waft yourself through overtaxed space to the coast.

As you zoom and zipper around the mezzanine of the universe, you wonder how Paul Revere ever got famous on a horse.

The Lindbergh influence is so strong that after flying three miles we wanted to address a rotary club.

From now on, if we want to go anywhere, we are going to fly. And we are going to fly just as fast as a stolen bicycle can take us.

ALL in the gay and golden weather
Two fair travelers, maid and man
Sailed in a birchen boat together —

AND sailed the way the river ran;
The sun was low, not set, and the West
Was colored like a robin's breast!

Convention of Engineers Is Important to Industry

The welcome that Pittsburgh extends to the more than 1,500 delegates and thousands of other visitors incident to the annual convention of the Iron and Steel Electrical Engineers is one that should be readily understood since these strangers within our gates speak our own language—that of the metal and electrical industries.

The convention meets in divisions embracing electrical, combustion and safety and the business relates to technical developments in the industries which benefit through interchange of ideas. This is brought out not only in discussion but through the means of an exposition of devices estimated to have a value of $1,500,000. It is said to be the largest exposition of the kind ever held, occupying space on two floors of the William Penn Hotel.

Steel and electricity are industrial giants that we have compelled to serve us because men of the character of those meeting here now have forced them into submission. We owe them a debt of gratitude which is greatly increased by their choosing Pittsburgh as a place for further extending the capacity of industry.

Republican Tariff for Extortion Is a Menace

The Republican party has abandoned its traditional policy of a tariff for protection, and has substituted a tariff for extortion.

The new Republican tariff, which has passed the House under gag rule, is a tariff to make duties higher and prices higher.

It is a tariff practically to eliminate the possibility of foreign competition and so to make monopoly easy in America and to relieve monopoly of all restraint as to the prices it shall charge for its products.

It is the well-known habit of monopoly not only to charge high prices for its product but to limit production in order to make prices higher.

And this limitation of production not only reduces employment for labor, but also reduces the market for raw materials.

Therefore, this tariff for extortion policy which the Republican party has embarked upon is a definite menace not only to the great consuming public of the United States, but to the laborers and also to the farmers.

The workers and the farmers are hit in two ways—not only in the possible limitation in demand of what they have to sell, but in the assuredly increased cost of what they have to buy.

There is another aspect of this tariff for extortion which will probably affect the farmer and to a degree the workingman also.

The absolute exclusion of all farm goods is going to result in retaliatory measures by foreign nations to exclude in return the products of American factories and of American farms.

The country has prospered under a legitimate tariff for protection.

There is no reason for departing from this national policy either in the direction of unreasonable reduction of the tariff or in the direction of an oppressive increase of the tariff.

Representative Hare, of South Carolina, is a farmer and a Democrat. As a farmer and a Democrat he has had the courage to protest against the attempt to fool the farmer in the new Republican tariff bill.

Mr. Hare made a list of several ordinary articles bought by the average farm family during a year. He gave the price of each article without the tariff. And then he gave the tariff charge on it, most of which the farmer will have to pay too.

Farmers should study that list. It shows in plain, understandable language what this outrageously oppressive tariff really means:

On a $10 set of harness, for instance, Mr. Hare shows that the tariff will be $3.50.

The farmer will pay the $10, and a big share of the $3.50 also.

On a $20 suit of clothes the tariff is $11.50.

That is an even funnier way to help the farmer, by raising the price of a $20 suit to $31.50 or thereabouts.

And here are some more of Mr. Hare's figures:

Article.	Value.	Added Duty.
One mirror	$2.90	$1.00
Two hats for wife	8.00	2.00
One pair shoes	5.00	1.00
One pair scissors	.50	.42
One safety razor	2.00	.70
One pair kid gloves	2.00	1.00
One wool blanket	3.00	2.40
One wool shirt	2.00	1.00
One toothbrush	.50	.25
Aluminum ware	10.00	6.00
One clock	10.00	9.50
Plows	20.00	3.50
Nails	10.00	3.50
One cross-cut saw	5.00	1.00
One pair wagon harness	10.00	3.50

But these are only a few samples. Other articles are taxed in the same proportion.

There is even a tariff charge of $50 on a $100 tombstone.

As Mr. Hare puts it, a family of five will have to pay out between $250 and $1,000 a year more than they do now, for the necessities of life, or death.

Two hundred and fifty dollars a year is a big burden to add to the average farmer's budget. A thousand dollars a year is a staggering burden. Saddle that burden on the farmer and see how far he will stagger along under it.

Representatives in Congress who have deliberately tried to saddle it on him will find that they have tried to fool the farmer once too often.

That $100 tombstone is likely to adorn a good many political graveyards at the next election—and there's a $50 tariff on it, too.

Bible Passages

Abominations to the Lord

(Proverbs 17; 1-19)

BETTER is a dry morsel, and quietness therewith than an house full of sacrifices with strife.

A wise servant shall have rule over a son that causeth shame, and shall have part of the inheritance among the brethren.

The fining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold: but the Lord trieth the hearts.

A gift is as a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it: whithersoever it turneth, it prospereth.

He that covereth a transgression seeketh love; but he that repeateth a matter separateth very friends.

The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water: therefore leave off contention, before it be meddled with.

He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, even they both are abomination to the Lord.

Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool to get wisdom, seeing he hath no heart to it?

RITA HOOD'S a fine girl—bright, pretty, generous—but few people like her. They say she's affected—"always trying to be something she isn't."

That's true. Rita's different every time you meet her. Always acting some new role—always using some new mannerism or "line" which she has seen or heard. Of course, you know the motive—and it's rather pitiful. A hunger for popularity. But the result isn't happy. She's as unsure of herself as you are of her. She never rings true and she knows it. As a consequence she's as uneasy as she makes everyone else. A pity! For she's fine enough to win scores of friends if she'd only be herself.

BE YOURSELF!

That's the soundest bit of advice any human being can have.

You, yourself, just as you stand, hold within yourself the makings of your own happiness and success. You may not be a great beauty or a great genius, but you can be YOU! And that, in itself, is a great achievement, for in all the world there is no one else exactly like YOU.

The elements of your nature may be simple but they are DIFFERENT. And out of them you can construct the priceless treasure of personality if you will only BE YOURSELF honestly, courageously, sensibly and amiably.

Stop trying to be a clever imitation of Raquel Torres or H. L. Mencken or George Bernard Shaw or Helen Wills or Gene Tunney or the lady who's head of your P. T. A. or the man who's president of your boosters' club.

BE YOURSELF! Think your own thoughts and express them in your own way. They may not be very wonderful thoughts, but if they're honestly YOUR thoughts, they will have a tang and color and punch which will be more valuable to you than the smartest quotation from O. O. McIntyre.

Make your own decisions. Don't run around asking for advice or wondering what folks will say. Sit down and think out things quietly for yourself, according to the pattern of your own nature. Your decisions may not be brilliant, but they will be reliable—for you. They will be the only decisions upon which you can rely, for they, alone, will be adjusted to your scope and take into consideration your limitations. NO NONE ELSE CAN EVER KNOW YOU AS YOU KNOW YOURSELF.

BE YOURSELF—even in the smallest concerns of your life. Let everything you do bear the stamp of your impulse and attitude. Don't strain yourself to be different. Let life proceed through you naturally—taking the imprint of your own spirit.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 18.—The so-called "Long Island fast set" is now hitting on all cylinders and the verandas and terraces are cluttered with fashionable gate crashers. Society bootleggers are reaping the seasonable harvest and ambitious hostesses angle for celebrities as guests.

It is unfair to label all Long Island residents as members of the loose living crowds frequenting its north and south shores. Some of the most representative families of the metropolis have vast estates there. But like the magnificent ocean liner, it does attract barnacles.

Leading the pack of professional spongers are those white flanneled boys who hibernate in hall bedrooms in winter but with summer escape on their pilgrimages of polite pillage as week-end nuisances. They are distinct types of hand kissing and well bred wastrels.

They are perfectly willing to dance attendance upon maiden aunts, chronic wall flowers and poor cousins from the outland in exchange for a room, the freedom of the tennis court and cocktail shaker. It reduces living to the irreducible minimum. They do not even have to buy cigarets.

Too, there is usually the fashionable dressed and designing grass widow. A halo of mystery surrounds her and she carries off all the men while her buoyant young sisters sniff: "But, my dear, she is so obvious." The widow, incidentally, is schooled in refined gold digging.

The silly ass types of the musical comedy twitter about, also the literary lionets who write screeds that never see print. They are the gleaning hangers-on who go through the entire season in the amiable and inexpensive manner of the cultured bounder. Nice boys!

Every summer place is a haven for a rowdy old matron, touched by gout or a rheumatic ache, who can swear like a mule driver, smoke little black cheroots and gulp rye without a chaser. She is the lorgnetted dowager type through whose veneer of hardness is the trace of early culture.

No word along Broadway has such a picturesque patina of worldliness as "Yeah!" It is a yawn from the underworld and voiced by a crook has more stinging sarcasm than a page of vitriolic epithets. There are a dozen inflections, each with many meanings. It is frequently flung at cops by the cornered criminals. "I've a notion to croak you, you rat!" snarls the cop. "Yeah?" drawls the prisoner—meaning: "You're afraid, you coward!"

It would appear there is enough dangerous crime hereabouts without sending policewomen on the streets to angle for flirtatious men. Most any man is liable to indulge a harmless flirtation if provoked by a smiling lady and to hale him to court and subsequent disgrace is not good cricket.

One of the happiest marriages I know resulted from a casual flirtation. A lady caught under a canopy by a sudden shower was approached by a gentleman whose automobile was at the curb. He chanced a flirtation and volunteered to take her home. It developed they had mutual friends and later met more conventionally. Their wedded life has been ideal.

EVOLUTION

By Garrett P. Serviss

IT SEEMS that we are going to leave the old demi-gods far below our level. They were a product of the untrained imagination in a myth-making age, and they always belonged to the past. Nobody ever claimed to be contemporary with a demi-god. But the "man of the future" is a product of science, more than up to date since he can be seen ahead of his existence. We do not look for his footsteps in the rocks of the past, but glimpse them ahead of us, like the feet of a spirit imprinting their form on the mist of coming time.

Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, the anthropologist, turning for a moment from digging out the men of the unwritten past, has lately been telling the American Philosophical Society about this wonderful successor of ours. Considering how little even the most learned anthropologist can really know about him, we must not be surprised that the information given seems pretty general. But even so it becomes very interesting when we are told that man himself is to take a hand in his evolution. That is, perhaps, the highest ambition that man could have—to be, even if only in part, his own creator.

Of course, it is commonplace for anybody to consider himself the creator of his own career, or the maker of his own fortune. It is a very humble individual who doesn't believe that he can at least have a hand in that. But the man of the future spoken of by Dr. Hrdlicka is a kind of super-man, a product of organic evolution, in body and brain, under the play of forces which have hitherto usually been regarded as belonging exclusively to nature, man being their sport as well as other animals.

Among evolutionists there has always been a strong party holding that acquired characters are not inherited. That is another way of saying that nature keeps evolution in her own hands, and doesn't permit any impertinent interference from outside. But then, too, there have always been other evolutionists who believed that acquired characters can be inherited. It is partly because of these differences that science advances instead of standing still.

If man can take part in his own future evolution he must be able to impart a lasting quality to some of the characters he introduces into his being. Consider what Dr. Hrdlicka says of the actual future changes of man that can be foreseen.

"They will," he says, "affect his stature, skull, facial parts, teeth, some of the internal organs, his arms, hands and feet; but the principal acquisitions will be, there is a strong probability, those of a higher organization, with higher effectiveness and endurance, of the brain and the sensory as well as the nervous system."

Dr. Hrdlicka is not so bold as are some of the predictors of man's coming, home-made glories. At least he is not so specific. He does not talk of the big-brained, tall, powerful, masterful, self-contained, fascinating, god-like creatures, walking an earth that they have thoroughly subdued to their uses and commanding even the sun and the moon, if not to stand still on order, at least to lend of their hitherto wasted energies for the service of the new master of the pinfold.

He thinks he can see some valuable changes coming within a limited time, but he adds, "As to the more distant future of man, no legitimate deductions are possible."

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS

Road Song

O FOR the open road again,
With its joyous magic of wind and sun;
Out in the realms where no beauties wane
And the fadeless fabric of bliss is spun!
I would be out on the open road,
With my head held high to the fragrant wind;
I would go freed from old sorrow's load
In a region where all things are wholly kind.

Kind is the kiss of the summer breeze,
And sweet is the song that the river sings;
Song dwells, too, in the leafy trees,
With the carol of birds and the stir of wings.
Where the days are a-throb with melody;
Loosed from all bonds that a soul can know—
On the open road I would wander, free!

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

WHY expend so much effort to appear what you are not?

You exercise a severe check-rein to make others believe you are mild and gentle, while a whirlwind of force is seething for expression.

It might be easier to change yourself so that you might become what you are so eagerly pretending to be.

This method might be beneficial to you and would give you greater satisfaction in the end.

You cannot expect to go through life hampered by fear of what this one or that one might think if you were yourself for a day or an hour.

Inadvertently you are going to give yourself away.

In an unguarded moment you are going to speak right out in meeting, and then if the friends you have around you, attracted by quite the opposite qualities, get a sudden insight, you are going to be dropped.

Facts about yourself are bound to come out from time to time.

If the things that come out are things you don't want folk to know, why don't you rid yourself of the cause.

You might bring about decided improvements in yourself.

The sooner you drop evil thoughts and evil tendencies and replace them with deeds and useful legitimate desires, the better.
